NAZIS CAPTURE TOWN IN DRIVE FOR LENINGRAD

U-Boat, 2 Transports Sunk by Reds.

MOSCOW, Aug. 19 [Tuesday] (AP).—Red army defenders, hard put at both ends of their bending western front, have abandoned the town of Kingisepp on the northern wing, putting the Germans within 75 miles of Leningrad, the Russians announced officially early today.

Kingisepp is southwest of the former capital of the czars and northeast of Lake Peipus, just inside old Russia from the Estonian frontier.

[The Berlin radio reported German troops driving northward on both sides of Lake Peipus had joined forces at Narva, Estonia, 15 miles west of Kingisepp. Narva is on the river of the same name and the narrow isthmus between Lake Peipus and the Gulf of Finland. It was at Narva in 1700 that Charles XII. of Sweden annihilated a Russian army of Peter the Great. Military observers in London said the Germans apparently had launched a new offensive, aimed at Leningrad, from Estonia, and indicated it might mean the start of a huge pincers movement from the north and south. Finns yesterday reported the capture of Kurkijoki on the west shore of Lake Ladoga, 95 miles north of Leningrad.]

Given Up After Bitter Fight.

The soviet communique said Kingisepp was given up after a bitter fight. Similar heavy fighting was reported raging elsewhere along the entire sprawling front.

This retreat before Leningrad, the soviet's second largest city, came within a day of the official announcement of the abandonment of Nikolaev, Black sea naval base, and Krivoi Rog, iron ore center in the Ukraine on the southern front.

In the Baltic sea the Russians reported the sinking of a German submarine and two "enemy" transports by torpedo boats of the Red fleet and in Saturday's air fighting reported the destruction of 22 German planes with a loss of 18 soviet aircraft.

A number of fire and high explosive bombs were scattered over Moscow last night during an air attack in which, an official announcement said, only one raider got thru the city's defenses. Damage was described as insignificant.

1,000,000 Troops Ready.

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—Germany might hurl more than 1,000,000 war hardened axis troops against the Red army's defenses on the banks of the Dnieper in a gigantic effort to reach the Crimean gate to the Caucasian oil fields, soviet sources said today.

But they said the steeply banked and swift river—more than a mile wide for 100 miles from its mouth—would be stoutly defended and an almost impassable barrier.

They admitted, however, that the river also barred the possibility of extensive soviet counterattacks westward against German forces.

One of the main objectives of a push into Crimea, peninsular republic which juts deep into the Black sea, would be the city of Sevastopol, main base of the Red navy's Black sea fleet.

Just as important would be the German air force's nearness to Tuapse and Batum, two vital ports on the trans-Caucasian oil line and refueling points for the fleet.

ALIEN'S $95 BINGE ON CHARITY CASH NETS HIM 100 DAYS

Herman Pospiech, a jobless German immigrant whose wife is supporting their five children by working as a laundress, told Judge Thomas A. Green in Town Hall court yesterday of an expensive weekend. When it began, Pospiech had $90 in unemployment compensation. He had $5 more that was given him by the United Charities for the expense of obtaining his first citizenship papers. But he spent the whole $95, he said, on drink.

Pospiech told the judge he is 35 years old. He lives at 3748 Clifton avenue. The judge fined him $200 for disorderly conduct, and, when Pospiech was unable to pay, sent him to the Bridewell for 100 days.

Plant Making Abrasives for Army Swept by Fire

Blasdell, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP).—Fire destroyed most of the Exelon Company, Inc., plant tonight, causing damage estimated by firemen at more than $100,000. D. M. Ramsey, branch manager of the concern, which was engaged in production of abrasives for military purposes, said the loss was "terrific" with machinery and equipment virtually impossible to replace destroyed.

SHERIFF TELLS 100 BOOKIES IN CHICAGO: CLOSE!

Breaks Precedent by Campaign.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien yesterday shattered a precedent of forty years and told nearly 100 Chicago handbooks to close. Heretofore the sheriff of Cook county, by custom, has used his police powers in the suburban areas only and never ventured to interfere with city gambling, but Chief Lester Laird of O'Brien's highway police said those days are gone forever.

Sheriff O'Brien.

In addition to his tour of the city, Sheriff O'Brien raided Cicero, which the Chicago Crime commission recently said was a lawless city where gambling was open, notorious, and unbothered by the sheriff. Seventeen prisoners were taken in Cicero, but in Chicago the procedure was to chase out the patrons.

An "Investigation Tour."

Chief Laird revealed that since last Thursday his men have been visiting Chicago handbooks on an "investigation tour." At each place he said they had taken the telephone number and notified the telephone company of what they found and the sheriff recommended that the telephones be removed at once from the gaming places.

This move by Sheriff O'Brien did not indicate any political break between the sheriff and Mayor Kelly, Chief Laird said, nor did it suggest that any ill-will existed between O'Brien and Police Commissioner Allman, who was away yesterday at a police chiefs' convention. The sheriff is acting with the full cooperation of State's Attorney Courtney, Laird said.

When Mayor Kelly was notified of O'Brien's new policy, he declared he had no previous knowledge concerning it.

"I didn't know there were any handbooks open," Mayor Kelly said. "If there are, and O'Brien has visited them, I'm glad he is on the job."

It's Something New.

For as far back as the turn of the century, according to veteran city police, the sheriff of Cook county has never sought jurisdiction over local gambling. His domain was considered to be all the county area outside the city of Chicago.

It has been in this territory that the 125 policemen of O'Brien's force, and of the staffs of his predecessors, have exercised authority until the present drive by O'Brien. But State's Attorney Courtney said the sheriff always has had the power and the responsibility to suppress gambling in the city as well as in the rest of the county.

Recently, when Courtney and Bertram J. Cahn, president of the Chicago Crime commission, called upon O'Brien to enforce the anti-gambling laws in his territory, O'Brien publicly stated he did not have enough men to stop gambling in the territory policed by him. Cahn quoted him as saying he was too busy collecting taxes to be bothered about gambling. The sheriff retorted that he was misquoted.

Report Many Closings.

Reports yesterday were that in the last two weeks O'Brien has closed all the big gambling resorts "on his beat." Courtney a few weeks ago declared there were 42 big gaming houses operating in the territory outside Chicago. He directed O'Brien to close them. Cahn said he had been advised that O'Brien had obeyed.

Last winter Sheriff O'Brien complained his men couldn't find the Chicago and Cook county bookies named in an injunction issued by Judge Maurice V. Joyce of Belleville, St. Clair county. Attorney General George F. Barrett thereupon hired special process servers, who in the last few months have served nearly 200 bookies in O'Brien's bailiwick with notice that Judge Joyce enjoined them against continuing to take bets.

The sheriff's current actior is in no way connected with the Belleville injunction, and his men are not collaborating with Barrett's representatives, Laird said. He explained that O'Brien had fulfilled his duty to the injunction by serving what bookies he was able to find.

THREE GOOD AMERICAN PLANKS FOR THE NEXT FEW REPUBLICAN PLATFORMS

The destiny of the United States of America is in the western hemisphere, which is the peaceful hemisphere.

It will be a slap in the face of our blessings to adventure far from our military stronghold to the eastern hemisphere where the wars are epidemic.

"HERE IS MY SON. I WANT HIM TO BE READY AT ALL TIMES, TO FIGHT AND IF NECESSARY, DIE, IN THE DEFENSE OF THIS COUNTRY. YOU CANNOT DEMAND MORE.
BUT I DONT WANT HIM TO DIE IN DISTANT LANDS FOR COMMUNISTIC SOVIETS. AND I DONT WANT HIM GAMBLED AWAY TO DEFEND AN EMPIRE THAT COVERS A FOURTH OF THE GLOBE AND RULES A FOURTH OF ITS PEOPLE"

Every American father and mother will expect their sons to fight in defense and protection of their country and their homes.

Few American fathers and mothers want their sons sent into foreign wars where they must fight for alien purposes.

Meddle not lest you be meddled with. If we meddle with other nations, they will meddle with us.

If we seek to boss the world and impose our wishes on it, we will soon be hated by the rest of the world.

Arrow locates Chandler, Okla.

Mrs. Gene Duncan, a relative, at whose farm home near Warwick the girl had been living in the capacity of household helper, said Miss Grayson started to Warwick last evening, accompanied by a 12 year old neighbor girl, Helen Grandstaff, to attend church services.

Helen told the sheriff that when they reached Warwick they encountered George Wilson, 22 years old, who invited them to ride with him into Chandler. In Chandler, Helen said, the three ate watermelon, and then drove back to Warwick.

Start to Walk Home.

When Miss Grayson found church services already had begun, she decided not to attend services, and the two girls started walking along U. S. highway 66, toward their homes, between Warwick and Chandler.

A few miles from Warwick, Helen told the sheriff, they accepted a ride offered by an autoist known to neither of them.

"He told us he used to live in Oklahoma City and in Chandler," Helen told authorities. "He kept asking if there were many houses along that part of the road. When I told him 'No,' he drove a short distance and stopped."

Helen then said he started to struggle with Miss Grayson.

"I jumped out of the car and ran," said Helen. "Billie tried to jump out, too, but he grabbed her by the neck. I ran away."

Told Story at Farm House.

Helen said she went to a nearby farm house and aroused the occupants. They seemed unimpressed by her account of the man's attack, and invited her to compose herself and spend the night there. This she did.

Miss Grayson was considered one of the most attractive young women in this part of the old Indian Territory. Her father, Ed. Grayson, a radio shop owner in Stroud, asked authorities to determine the whereabouts last night of a draftee stationed at Abilene, Tex. He said this soldier has been in the habit of visiting Miss Grayson about once a month.

Authorities conceded that the killer may have been acquainted with this area, as the cemetery where he left the body is 200 yards from the highway, and screened from view by trees.

They reasoned that the killer knew the location of the cemetery; that he killed Miss Grayson by strangling her with his hands.

SOVIET WORKERS HAIL PLAN FOR 3 NATION TALKS, MOSCOW SAYS

MOSCOW, Aug. 19 [Tuesday] (AP).—The soviet information bureau communique declared today that the request of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill for a three-power conference in Moscow had "evoked vivid interest among the working people of the soviet union."

"Workers, collective farmers, and intellectuals express cordial gratitude to the peoples and governments of the United States and Britain for their readiness to assist the soviet union in its war of liberation against Hitlerite Germany," the communique said.

It said factory workers, engineers, miners, and scientists were jubilant over coöperation of the three powers. One old miner, named Alymov, was said to have declared that "efforts of the three powers will be combined to form one powerful fist which will destroy Hitler's band."

AMERICAN PLANE WITH 13 ABOARD MISSING IN BRAZIL

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 18 (AP).—Pan-American Airways of Brazil announced tonight one of its planes due at Sao Paulo this afternoon was missing with a crew of four and nine passengers, including Prof. Philip C. Jessup of New York, lawyer and lecturer, now on a mission for the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

The Lockheed Electra plane which left Porto Alegre was due at Sao Paulo at 1 p. m., six hours before the announcement was made. It was in radio communication with Sao Paulo airport a few minutes before it was scheduled to land, but a plane searched the surrounding countryside all afternoon without finding a trace of it.

Hugh Davies, described as an American business man living in Sao Paulo, also was aboard the plane.

Aluminum Is Piled Up Ready for Somebody

Residents of Michigan City, Ind., were becoming a little curious yesterday about the several hundred pounds of scrap aluminum gathered in the emergency drive which ended Aug. 2.

Three weeks ago Michigan City was told: "America needs aluminum immediately to relieve a national shortage." Boy Scouts trotted from house to house, gathering a pot here and a pan there. The Scouts rushed to the city fire station and dumped them into a bin, then waited expectantly for the elderly houseware to be whisked away. But yesterday it still rested in the bin.

Said Mort Winski of the Indiana Salvage company, which offered trucks to take the aluminum to a smelter: "We're waiting to be told when and where to take the aluminum."

A Headache in Gary.

Gary also reported an aluminum headache. There for two weeks 50,000 pounds of aluminum have sprawled on the firemen's handball court at the Central fire station. The firemen are becoming restive.

The experience of Michigan City and Gary caused THE TRIBUNE to ask correspondents in other towns about their aluminum drives. The answers follow:

DECATUR, ILL.—The people of Decatur and surrounding communities gathered 10,300 pounds of aluminum and dumped it in a pile. Then it was loaded into trucks and taken to Springfield where it was dumped into another pile. At last reports it was still there.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—A total of 33,610 pounds collected in the twin cities of Champaign and Urbana and 15 surrounding counties is stored here awaiting instructions for movement.

Stored at Camp Grant.

ROCKFORD, ILL.—The aluminum drive netted 26,000 pounds in Rockford and eight surrounding counties. The pots and pans have been taken to Camp Grant, where they are stored.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND.—Scrap aluminum gathered in Montgomery county was delivered to state police barracks at West Lafayette. It is still there—3,660 pounds of it.

KANKAKEE, ILL.—A total of 3,560 pounds of scrap aluminum, collected in Kankakee community, was delivered last Tuesday to 3308 Belmont avenue, Chicago.

JACKSONVILLE, ILL.—The aluminum drive here resulted in collection of 2,660 pounds. The metal was hauled to Springfield Aug. 2.

PLANE FERRY TO AFRICA; REPORT INVASION PLANS

Base for American Bombers Will Be Near Dakar.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug 18.—In an unusual move possibly foreshadowing an American expeditionary force to Africa, President Roosevelt today personally announced completion of arrangements to ferry American bombers and other military airplanes to the British forces in the near east.

Pan-American Airways is to ferry the planes to a port on the west coast of Africa, whence they will be flown to the British bases bordering the eastern Mediterranean.

Enlarge Scope of U. S. In War.

In personally announcing an arrangement which ordinarily would be made public by a subordinate official, the President emphasized the significance of the first step taken since his conference with Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain to enlarge the scope of America's participation in the war.

That the move may lead to the dispatch of American armed forces to Africa within striking distance of French Dakar, which Hitler is endeavoring to wrest from the Vichy government, was suggested by the President's comment that "the importance of this direct line of communication between our country and strategic outposts in Africa cannot be overestimated." The President hitherto has proposed the seizure of Dakar to forestall Nazi occupation of a strategic point from which to attempt an invasion of the United States.

Announced at White House.

The project was announced late this afternoon in the following official statement by the White House:

"The President announced today an important step to speed delivery of planes direct to the British forces in the middle east. Agreements have been concluded under which the Pan American Airways system will ferry aircraft from the United States to west Africa, and will then ferry those planes on to the middle east.

"In connection with the ferry system, Pan American Airways is establishing an air transport service from west Africa to the middle east and plans are under way for a transport service from the United States to west Africa. Planes owned by the United States government will be used by Pan American and they will be operated by American personnel. The route of delivery is so arranged that it will nowhere pass thru the zone of actual warfare.

Supplement Ferry System.

"The transport services will supplement the ferry system by returning ferry personnel and carrying spare plane parts and items essential to effective delivery of aircraft to the middle east. The route will also be available for general commercial use, providing direct air service from New York or Baltimore to Africa.

"The ferry system and the transport services provide direct and speedy delivery of aircraft from the arsenal of democracy to a critical point in the front against aggression. The importance of this direct line of communication between our country and strategic outposts in Africa cannot be overestimated."

Will Relieve British Flyers.

The west African port which will be the way station of this transport service between the United States and Egypt, Syria, and other British strongholds in the near east was not divulged. A likely choice is said to be Freetown in British Sierra Leone, south of Dakar. Another possibility is Monrovia, capital of Liberia, which adjoins Sierra Leone on the south.

The British for several months have been ferrying military aircraft to the near east by way of Brazil and Freetown. The United States now will relieve the British of this undertaking.

The ferry and transport service developed by Pan American for this military purpose will require the es-

U. S.-British Scheme Told After Parley with Roosevelt.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—After a conference at the White House with President Roosevelt today congressional leaders revealed what they believe to be the grand strategy of the new Anglo-American-Russian alliance for the defeat and disarmament of Germany and Italy.

According to the White House conferees, President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill agreed at their secret conferences aboard British and American warships at sea that a military invasion of the continent of Europe will be necessary to defeat Germany.

Two Requirements Hinted.

Congressional leaders intimated after their conference with the President that a British invasion of the continent is contingent upon [1] the maintenance of an eastern front by the Russian army and [2] the assistance of a vast American expeditionary force.

In any event, such an invasion could not be attempted before 1942 and it may not become a possibility before 1943, according to those who discussed the situation with the President.

The conferees revealed that Lord Beaverbrook, British minister of supply and a participant in the Roosevelt-Churchill sea conferences came to Washington primarily to expedite the production of tanks for Britain. Lord Beaverbrook wants all the tanks he can get from this country, it was said, for the projected invasion attempt.

More Lend-Lease Expected.

President Roosevelt soon will ask congress for another large lend-lease appropriation to finance a greater production of tanks and other war equipment for Britain and possibly for communist Russia. Congressional leaders said the request for additional funds would be somewhat less than the initial appropriation of 7,000 million dollars voted last spring.

The White House conference was held, it was announced, to give the congressional leaders a detailed account of Mr. Roosevelt's meeting with Churchill. Present at the conference were Vice President Henry A. Wallace, Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, Senator Tom Connally [D., Tex.], chairman of the senate foreign relations committee; Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.], chairman of the senate finance committee; Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.], acting speaker of the house, and Representative Sol Bloom [D., N. Y.], chairman of the house foreign affairs committee.

Strategic Points Mentioned.

Conferees said the discussion ranged from the Bay of Bengal to the Caspian sea, with stops en route at the Azores, Cape Verde, and Canary Islands and other points which this country might attempt to seize to prevent their occupation by German forces.

Congressional leaders intimated Mr. Roosevelt does not expect any serious trouble with Japan. The President still is persuaded, it was said, that Japar is watching for opportunities to pick up what she can take without risking war with the United States and Britain and will not fulfill any obligations to Adolf Hitler under the tripartite axis agreement. The congressional leaders apparently were convinced Japan can be restrained from attacking British Singapore and the Netherlands East Indies, if not Thailand [Siam], by economic pressure.

Hull Comments on Japan.

At his press conference today Secretary of State Cordell Hull said Japan had given no satisfactory explanation of its refusal to permit American citizens to leave the country. On Saturday the secretary intimated that more than 100 American citizens were being held by Japan as hostages. At his conference today he did not discuss the new Japanese order forbidding all foreigners to leave the country without special permission.

In their statements for quotation following the conference with President Roosevelt, congressional leaders echoed the President's announcement that the United States is no closer to war as a result of the eight point declaration of Anglo-American objectives.

"I don't think any commitments were made that would alter our posi-

NAZIS BOMB SHIPS AT ODESSA TO BAR 'DUNKIRK' ESCAPE

Flyers Strafe Reds Trying to Cross River.

BERLIN, Aug. 19 [Tuesday] (AP).—German and Rumanian troops were reported today to be tightening their encirclement of Odessa, principal Black sea port of 600,000 population, where waves of dive bombers blasted at soviet transports to prevent any "Dunkirk escape."

Dive bombers also were said to have put the whole of the Dnieper river bend under continuous assault to break up the Red retreat to the east and keep the wide stream from being converted into an effective defense line.

DNB, the official German news agency, said six Russian transports aggregating 15,000 tons, a cruiser and a torpedo boat were disabled or badly damaged in attacks on Odessa harbor. Damage to a number of freighters on the Black sea also was claimed. Aerial squadrons were reported ceaselessly patroling the Odessa region.

Declare Foe in Flight.

The Odessa encirclement, where the Germans say a large soviet force is trapped, was reported to be closing methodically and uninterruptedly.

In the field the soviet armies of the southern Ukraine were officially described by the German high command as defeated and in flight, which in some areas was "like a rout."

German bombs beat heavily on the great industrial area of Dnepropetrovsk, which lies 80 miles northeast of the captured town of Krivoi Rog.

DNB said German armored units had occupied one small town in the Dnieper bend on Sunday, capturing or destroying 100 trucks and "the entire provisioning, supplies, and facilities for one division," as well as taking 500 prisoners.

In the Black sea port of Nikolaev, whose occupation by the Germans was announced yesterday, it was declared that the remnants of four Russian divisions were destroyed in their efforts to break out.

Few Bridges Span River.

The aerial attacks in the Dnepropetrovsk area, were subordinate in importance to the German air force's broader assignment along the Dnieper where it winds to the south and southwest of that city.

Few bridges span the river and so soviet craft of all types were under violent aerial fire. Specifically reported sunk were one gunboat and two smaller craft.

Reports on other sectors were vague. However, southeast of Smolensk, on the central front before Moscow, the completion of another encirclement and the capture of 10,000 prisoners was claimed.

[The German radio asserted that this was a three day battle in which Nazi tank formations annihilated two retreating Russian divisions.]

Only at Constanta, the Rumanian Black sea port, was the German air force reported on the defensive. There, Russian planes made repeated raids. Three raiders were declared shot down by anti-aircraft fire.

Capture Lake Ladoga Town.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 18 (AP).—Finnish forces storming down the west shore of Lake Ladoga toward Leningrad and a projected union with Germans driving upon the city from the south have captured Kurkijoki, lake town 95 miles north of Leningrad, the high command announced tonight. Two soviet divisions were smashed, indicating that large Russian forces were being encountered.

Encircled Red army units were reported trying desperately but without success to break thru the tightening Finnish vise. Some soviet troops surrounded on land were said to have attempted to escape across the lake only to become easy targets for Finnish gunners. One correspondent said the Russian ranks were so tightly packed that "not one Finnish shell is wasted."

Four principal areas of activity in the German-Russian war yesterday. Finns in the north (1) reported encircled areas west of Lake Ladoga and southwest of Sortavala growing smaller and claimed occupation of Kurkijoki. Russians admitted abandonment of Kingisepp (2). Germans and Rumanians were reported tightening their encirclement of Odessa (3). Soviet sources in London said they foresaw a heavy axis drive against Red defenses on the Dnieper (4) in an effort to reach the Crimean gate to the Caucasian oil fields.

1 DRAFTEE KILLED ACCIDENTALLY, 3 OTHERS ARE SHOT

Camp Croft, S. C., Aug. 18 [Special].—Pvt. Alois F. Jurewicz of Buffalo, N. Y., was killed and three other draftees of this infantry replacement center were wounded late today when a Springfield rifle was accidently discharged into a group of soldiers swarming into their barracks following a day on the rifle range.

Pvt. Bernard Higgins of Rochester, N. Y., and Pvt. Joseph Knapp of Buffalo were admitted to the hospital for wounds suffered in the accident and Pvt. Malcum Lindsey, also of Buffalo, was given treatment at a first aid station. Name of the soldier whose rifle was discharged was not revealed.

An investigation board met and adjourned tonight without making public any findings.

NEW YORK REDS AIM PROPAGANDA AT ARMY CAMPS

Aid to Russia Spurs Member Drive.

New York, Aug. 18 [Special].—New York communists are increasing their efforts to recruit new members and to spread propaganda among draftees in army camps. The Reds apparently are taking advantage of President Roosevelt's program of war aid to Stalin and other evidences of New Deal coöperation with Russia.

Israel Amter.

The new campaign has been disclosed in an order from state headquarters of the communist party, signed by Israel Amter, state chairman and one time communist candidate for congressman at large.

Red Manifesto Reshaped.

Evidencing a reversal of communist propaganda against "war mongering"—before the Nazi invasion of Russia and Russia's alignment as an ally of Britain—the Red manifesto has been reshaped to declare: "We share the responsibility of helping our country defeat the mortal enemy, Hitler."

The manifesto goes on emphatically to urge communists thruout New York to take advantage of the new situation to gain recruits for the Red cause.

"Surely, in the course of your own activity, you have met and cultivated relations with some one you can recruit this week," says the order.

It was indicated that the entering wedge in army camps would be directed at the recreation huts established by the United Service organizations. The first move in this direction has been made thru the American Youth congress [AYC], frequently labeled a fellow traveler organization and known to list numerous communist members.

Stand on Draft Changed.

The AYC, which recently was condemning the draft, now is writing letters to the USO pledging coöperation in "uniting our youth behind our soldier boys."

Also active is the American People's Mobilization, a purported peace organization which, until the invasion of Russia refused to condemn Hitler and picketed the White House to protest President Roosevelt's war policies.

Also falling into line, the Young Communist league has turned against Hitler and is calling an "International Youth congress" next month in New York to "fight Fascism."

Letter from Red in Camp.

Evidence of the communists revised interest in army training camps is found in today's issue of the party's organ, the Daily Worker.

Bearing directly on the subject was an article on page two, under a headline, "YCL Members in Army Hail Unity Against Hitler; Ask Aid of All Youths," detailing the substance of a purported "letter from a young communist leaguer in a military training camp to a friend back home."

The communists have been busy in the last few years changing sides or having sides changed for them.

The first reversal came when Stalin entered into a treaty of friendship with the Nazi arch enemy, Hitler. On good terms with President Roosevelt following his resumption of diplomatic relations with the soviet, a sudden coolness arose when Russia invaded Finland. As the administration became more and more active in its support of Great Britain against Hitler the communists in the United States started to rally to their new ally. They opposed aid to Britain and the American movement for rearming. They obstructed preparedness industries. They opposed the draft. Then Hitler attacked Russia. From that flowered the present enthusiasm for Britain, defense, and the army.

GREAT BRITAIN HAS PLENTY OF TROOPS, DURANTY DECLARES

Walter Duranty, New York Times' foreign correspondent who was stationed in Moscow for 13 years, said yesterday that Adolf Hitler failed to win the war when he allowed the English to escape, morale intact, from Dunkirk, and was then unable to invade the British Isles. In the present Russian fighting, Duranty said he believed that Hitler is beginning to lose the war.

Duranty, a British citizen, spoke at a meeting of the Council on Foreign Relations in the Palmer House. He assured his audience that the enemies of the axis powers do not need troops, that England today probably has more troops than it can use. He added that while he is British, he brings no propaganda message, for he believes the United States is doing very well for his homeland.

Duranty said that Stalin, while no genius, couples a cold determination with a great tenacity and a capacity for plodding, painstaking work. Of the Red purges, the speaker said while Russia would be glad to recall some of those purged, that the country had been rid of many fifth columnists. He asserted that if "some people in Norway, Finland, and even England had been purged, it would have been a good thing."

OFFICER DEFENDS NEGRO TROOPS IN ARKANSAS STRIFE

They Weren't Disorderly, He Contends in Letter.

Colored troops of the 94th engineers, from Fort Custer, Mich., gave no provocation for the trouble which developed last Thursday near Prescott, Ark., between the troops and Arkansas state police, according to a letter received in Chicago from a white officer in the regiment.

At the time citizens and police charged that the troops had hurled insults at passing motorists, and had been otherwise disorderly. When the 1,100 colored men of the unit were ordered to Arkansas, 22 became AWOL. After the altercation, 52 more disappeared.

The Letter's Version.

The letter said that the white lieutenant who commanded the colored platoon involved was struck by a state policeman when he started to explain that the troops had caused no disturbance while marching along a highway to a new bivouac area. Unarmed military police were unable to intervene because the state police covered them with riot guns and pistols, the writer said.

The trouble, which followed nearly a week of incidents, began when several cars of state police ordered the colored troopers off the road into a ditch, the letter said.

Lieutenant is Pushed.

The writer said that the incident occurred as follows:

"A police officer ran down the road, ordering the men into the ditch. He ordered the white lieutenant off the road, and then pushed him when he did not move fast enough. The lieutenant continued toward the main group of police.

"There a police sergeant was saying he was 'going to teach these ——niggers to respect white pople. The lieutenant started to explain that he had been with the men and that there had been no disturbance, but he never got to say it.

Struck in Jaw.

"One police officer snatched off his glasses with his left hand and struck him in the jaw with his right fist. The lieutenant spat blood, and one of his teeth was loosened. While this was going on three policemen with riot guns and two with drawn pistols covered the lieutenant and two military police officers. Several trucks of military police were present, but they were unarmed and unable to do anything."

The letter said that "all officers from the maneuver area" are angry about the incident, and that there is a movement afoot among them to request that Arkansas be removed from the list of maneuver areas and the entire state be placed out of bounds for military personnel.

Police Beatings Charged.

The letter also said that some of the writer's troops have been "almost run down deliberately on the highway," and that several colored troopers were beaten, one severely, by state police in Prescott on Wednesday night. According to the testimony of three sergeants who were present, the latter incident was not provoked by the soldiers, the letter stated.

It also told of several soldiers being beaten by state police while walking post at the entrance to the unit's bivouac area.

"The treatment of all soldiers, both colored and white, by the state police and civilians has been despicable," according to the letter.

UNLIGHTED ARMY TRUCK BREAKS COLONEL'S BACK

Conway, Ark., Aug. 18 (AP).—Lieut. Col. Coger M. Still, Omaha, Neb., attached to the 63d infantry of the sixth division was injured critically today as the troops from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., moved into Camp Robinson in a simulated attack.

Attendants at a hospital said Col. Still suffered a broken back, a broken right leg and head injuries.

Sixth division headquarters at Camp Robinson said the colonel was directing traffic in a simulated attack during the night when he was struck by a four ton army truck, operating without lights under orders.

Authorities said the accident was unavoidable and no carelessness was involved.

GEN. LEAR DENIES MEN'S MORALE IN 2D ARMY IS POOR

Soldiers Do Dislike the Draft Extension, Tho.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Prescott, Ark., Aug. 18.—Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear, commander of the 2d army and in charge of 2d army maneuvers here, today questioned published reports of poor morale in the expanding armed forces. The general said he believed that morale was good. Then he addressed his staff officers on methods to maintain and improve morale among the enlisted personnel of the command.

Gen. Lear told his staff of an inspection tour made by a morale officer sent out from Washington. "The officer traveled in civilian clothes, in a civilian automobile, and picked up hitch-hiking soldiers," said Gen. Lear. "He talked to them and reported the morale was good."

See U. S. Breaking Contract.

Conversation with individual soldiers, and soldiers in groups, however, tends to substantiate at least in part the published reports of low morale in the 2d army. The greatest blow to the enlisted personnel is the act whereby congress extended the time draftees must serve from the orginal 12 months to two and one-half years. The soldiers see no reason for this breaking of what they believed was a contract with Uncle Sam, and they avail themselves of every opportunity to say so.

A regimental officer reported that 250 men in one unit of 800 came to headquarters to register their dissatisfaction with the extension law.

Old Officers Affect Morale.

Another great hindrance to good morale, said another staff officer, is the age of senior officers, which prevents them from knowing first hand what is going on in the field.

Of the 12 general officers here, Gen. Haskell is the oldest, at 63 years, and Brig. Gen. C. C. Hafner, 46, is the youngest. The average age of the generals is 56.

Of the colonels here, J. J. McKinley, 64, is the oldest. James Andrews is the youngest, at 45. The average age of colonels is 53.

8TH PEACE PLANK LEAVES BRITISH PRESS CONFUSED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Newspapers here still are trying to analyze the eight point war aims of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill and speculate on how they will be achieved. Even the last point, eliminating force as the dominant power among nations, is not entirely understood or subscribed to by the London Times which says:

"In the period which may be fairly long between the end of active hostilities and the final settlement, the powers which have broken the Nazi yoke must be content to keep their military strength in being."

Later it suggests that the key to disarmament lies "in control of what used to be called the 'war potential,' that is heavy industry and vital war material. Disarmament thus becomes economic rather than a strictly military problem."

MAN STRUCK BY STREET CAR DIES.

An unidentified man, about 55 years old, died last night in County hospital of injuries suffered earlier in the day when he was struck by a Milwaukee avenue street car near Logan boulevard.

FINNS HONOR OFFICER WHO LED CAMPAIGN TO REGAIN SORTAVALA

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 18 (AP).—Col. Antero Johannes Svensson was made a knight of the Mannerheim order today for "skilfully led operations which liberated Sortavala, the capital of Ladogan Karelia." The Finns officially claimed Sortavala fell on Friday night.

President Risto Ryti, congratulating Field Marshal Mannerheim on the conquest, said:

"Thru these successes we have taken a long step toward peace."

Two Finnish flyers were decorated for heroism. Credited with shooting down 18 enemy planes, Second Lieutenant Oiva Tuominen was named a sixth knight of Mannerheim. The first class cross of freedom was bestowed upon Maj. Gustav Magnussoh, commander of a fighter squadron.

Col. Arne Somersalo was killed yesterday leading an action against the Russians only a day after he received the Freedom cross, first class, for bravery in leading a motorized unit under fire.

LABOR IN BRITAIN OPPOSED TO REDS DESPITE ALLIANCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The 73d annual Trades Union Congress, meeting in Edinburgh Sept. 1 to 4, will be confronted with the delicate problem of formulating the precise relationship it is to adopt toward communists, now that soviet Russia has become the ally of the British government.

The present conclusion, it is stated, is that the Trades Union congress and the Labor party should refuse to associate with the communist party, altho it appears certain that such demands will be discussed.

Proposes a Law to Warn of War News Propaganda

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—If Representative Lewis D. Thill [R., Wis.] has his way, newspaper readers will be put on the alert for propaganda in dispatches originating in warring nations. He introduced a bill today which would require newspapers to display, in connection with all dispatches from foreign correspondents, this warning: "News matter derived from foreign correspondents located within countries at war usually is censored. The reader is cautioned to be wary of propaganda."

NAZIS HAIL 'NEW' BATTLESHIP, BUT SHROUD IDENTITY

BERLIN, Aug. 18 (AP).—A picture of a warship described in captions as "a new German battleship" firing her 15 inch guns appeared in newspapers today following a statement by Vice Admiral Walter Warzecha that the German navy must show offensive spirit.

The newspapers did not explain whether they meant the 35,000 ton Tirpitz, which has been completed for some time, or another ship.

[Jane's Fighting Ships, British naval manual, lists two 35,000 ton battleships as under construction by Germany. There were to have been four battleships of the same class but the first to be completed, the Bismarck, was sunk by the British after the Bismarck had sunk the battle cruiser Hood last May.]

England to Seek Clipper Plane Priority for Officials

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The British government is likely to make representations to the United States to facilitate priority passages in Clipper planes from Lisbon, Portugal, for British officials traveling on government missions, the Daily Telegraph said today.

Helmet Hits Power Wire; 'Black Horse' Private Dies

Camp Polk, La., Aug. 18 (AP).—Private Robert Duesing, 24, of Troop D, 160th "Black Horse" cavalry of Chicago, was killed today when his steel helmet struck a low hanging power line, knocking him from his mount. He was on patrol with 50 horsemen.

ATLANTIC BATTLE TAKES A HOLIDAY FOR CHURCHILL

Flags Fly on Ocean, but No Enemy Is Seen.

[By a special correspondent of Reuters, British news agency.]

ABOARD A BRITISH DESTROYER, Aug. 18.—The British battleship Prince of Wales bearing Prime Minister Winston Churchill has reached a home port to end the war leader's remarkable round trip journey across the Atlantic to meet President Roosevelt.

Escorted by destroyers of the royal navy and the royal Canadian navy the battleship broke her homeward voyage to allow Mr. Churchill to pay a day's visit to Iceland where he took the salute at a march-past [review] of British and American troops stationed there. He made a short speech to the troops.

Never Sighted Hostile Craft.

I was on board one of the British destroyers which formed the escort on the homeward trip, but never once did we sight any hostile craft in the air, on the sea, or beneath the sea.

It was a glorious afternoon as we sailed out of the naval base to keep our rendezvous with the Prince of Wales somewhere in the north Atlantic and at that time no one except the captain of the ship knew the importance of the task which lay ahead of us.

Early one morning some days after leaving the naval base we sighted a smudge on the horizon and as we approached we could see thru our glasses the immense outline of a giant battleship flanked on both sides by Canadian destroyers.

U. S.-Built Planes Patrol Sea.

We approacned from head on, and as we swooped in to take our position, there was a sudden flurry of destroyers all around the battleship.

In a very few minutes, however, we had turned around and with a slight increase of speed we had taken our positions and were zig-zagging with the other warships.

During the afternoon Catalina [United States-built] flying boats patrolled the air over us and one of them reported there was a large convoy some 50 or 60 miles ahead bound for Britain. The prime minister had never seen a large convoy at sea, so with slight alteration of course we made toward them.

After two or three hours we could see the convoy on the horizon. It was an incredible sight. As far as the eye could see there were ships, tankers, freighters, supply ships, big ships, little ships, ships of every conceivable size and sort.

Convoy 8 Miles Long.

They were ranged in lines—in all over eight miles of ships. Around them scurried their escort of corvettes and former American destroyers keeping stragglers in line and always ready for the possible approach of danger.

We steamed straight toward them and then passed right thru the middle of the convoy. Each of the Prince of Wales' escorts chose its opening amongst the ships and as we dashed thru the lines of merchantmen we could see that they realized who was paying them this novel visit.

We saw men running to hoist the "V" signals in flags while others stood on deck cheering and waving.

The Prince of Wales had cocked up all her great 14 inch guns to their highest levels and if Mr. Churchill was thrilled it was nothing to the excitement that it caused amongst the vessels of the convoy.

Pass Back Thru Ships.

We steamed on to perhaps two miles ahead of the convoy and then the Prince of Wales and her escort turned around and once more we went thru the lines of wallowing ships.

Every merchantman had had time to hoist flags and the crews lined the rails waving caps and shouting.

We wished them Godspeed and then resumed our original course, which was to bring us to Iceland. Here we made a day's stay and in the evening sailed again for England.

Earlier in the day in which we met the convoy the Prince of Wales carried out a practice shoot with her anti-aircraft guns, watched by the prime minister and his party.

Fires Smoke Shell First.

She first fired a smoke shell which exploded into a compact ball of smoke high up in the sky. Using this as a target she let loose with her anti-aircraft guns, plastered the area round the ball of smoke with exploding shells.

This was followed up by an exhibition of barrage fire, using every anti-aircraft gun on board. The battleship's sides seemed constantly flaming, so great was the rate of fire, while the air all around her was black with exploding projectiles. It seemed unbelievable that one ship could put up so devastating a barrage.

The journey from Iceland to Britain was quite uneventful. With her escorts screening her, the Prince of Wales reached home safely after the most remarkable trans-Atlantic voyage of the war.

U. S., BRITAIN TO KEEP WAR AWAY, CHURCHILL TELLS ICELAND CROWD

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 18 (AP).—Prime Minister Churchill said during his visit here last Saturday that British and American forces came here "to keep war away from Iceland."

"We came to you as a highly civilized nation which has played a great part in democratic civilization," he told a great crowd in a brief address from a balcony of parliament house.

"We will seek to trouble your own life as little as possible and guarantee, together with the United States, that after the war your culture of the past will be linked with a free future."

Chinese Employes Quit in 4 Big Shanghai Hotels

SHANGHAI, Aug. 18 (AP).—Service in four of Shanghai's largest hotels was paralyzed today as 3,000 Chinese employés quit work and demanded the release of 11 of their union leaders arrested by French police on undisclosed charges. Hotels affected were the Cathay, Cathay Mansions, Metropole, and Hamilton House.

RUSSIANS TO GET GOODS ENGLAND ONCE EMBARGOED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Rubber and other raw materials which the minister of economic warfare denied to Russia before the Russo-German war, and requested America to refrain from sending to the soviets, may now be sent to that country in considerable quantities as a result of the new trade agreement between the two nations.

Raw materials Britain is sending Russia include wool for uniforms, hides for army boots, and jute for sandbags. In return, Britain will receive from Russia glycerine for explosives, hemp for ropes, and other raw materials of which Russia has a supply.

Owing to shipping difficulties, the dominions will be asked to coöperate, and supplies will be sent from whichever part of the empire can best meet Russia's needs.

BRAZIL INQUIRES INTO 'MINES' SEEN OFF NORTH COAST

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 18.—Vice Admiral José Machado Castro Silva, chief of naval operations, today said Brazilian authorities had no confirmation of reports of mines having been sighted in northern territorial waters. He added, however, that authorities in Recife, Natal, and Fortaleza had been instructed to investigate.

CHURCHILL PLANS BROADCAST ON ROOSEVELT TALK

Returns Home After U. S. Review in Iceland.

LONDON, Aug. 19 [Tuesday] (AP).—Prime Minister Churchill was reported reliably today to have called a meeting of the war cabinet for a first hand account of his secret discussions with President Roosevelt.

The prime minister arrived in London on a special train early today and was greeted at the station by members of his cabinet and American Ambassador John G. Winant. He went to his official residence at No. 10 Downing street for the cabinet session.

Arrangements were being made for Churchill to broadcast to the nation at the earliest opportunity. Brenden Bracken, minister of information, met the prime minister at the port when he debarked from the battleship Prince of Wales to discuss plans for the speech.

Expect Talk Next Sunday.

A Daily Herald columnist said the prime minister in all probability would be on the air next Sunday. BBC officials were silent, however, on the expected broadcast date.

Churchill returned, smiling and waving his hat to the cheering people, amid a stir indicating that Britain in coöperation with soviet Russia was planning some strong move in Iran [Persia] to halt alleged German infiltration on that route to India.

As to his unprecedented trip to sea, it was revealed that the prime minister had inspected British and American troops in Iceland on his way back home.

These were some of the newly disclosed details of the historic meeting:

Mr. Roosevelt visited the Prince of Wales only once on Sunday, Aug. 10. He went aboard for religious services.

F. D. R. Gives Sailors Gifts.

American sailors accompanying the President to the Prince of Wales took cigarets and fruit to the British seamen, and to each of the Britons Mr. Roosevelt himself also took a present accompanied by a card reading "Best wishes. Franklin D. Roosevelt."

[President Roosevelt's gift to each man on the Prince of Wales was a carton of cigarets, some fruit and a half pound of cheese.]

Churchill left Britain aboard a destroyer, supposedly in secrecy. He first transferred to the flagship King George V. and then to the Prince of Wales, which was escorted outward and inbound by destroyers from the home fleet.

The Daily Herald's naval correspondent, A. J. McWhinnie declared tonight that gossip had "jeopardized the life of the premier" right up to the time he landed safely from the Prince of Wales.

"They guessed rightly that he had gone to America," he wrote: "Then somehow the story that he was traveling in the Prince of Wales began to get about. People who know war at sea remembered Lord Kitchener, lost in the cruiser Hampshire off the Orkneys in 1916.

"I do not doubt that Hitler knew the man he hates most was crossing the Atlantic. And who can doubt that he ordered his U-boats and long-range bombers to sink the Prince of Wales at all costs? But they failed."

Warn U. S. on "Policing World."

BERLIN, Aug. 18 (AP).—A German spokesman asserted today that the United States should reflect "before taking on the job of policeman of the world."

Commenting on possible consequences of the Churchill-Roosevelt meeting, he said Washington daily shows a lack of understanding of the European situation.

Official Germany is satisfied that both Iran and Turkey intend to maintain their neutrality and sovereignty, an official spokesman also said.

Refuse to Load Jap Ship with Wool in Australia

MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug. 18 (AP).—Wharf laborers at Brisbane today refused to load a cargo of wool aboard the Japanese liner Kashima Maru when the vessel docked here. They did so later, however, after the government revealed it was to be exchanged for parachute silk.

British to Hold Dentz Until Vichy Makes Prisoner Deal

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Until the British government receives satisfaction regarding the release of British prisoners, it has no intention of complying with the request from Vichy for the release of Gen. Henri Dentz, former commander of the Vichy forces in the near east, it was stated in authoritative London circles today.

'FREE RUMANIAN' UNIT WILL FIGHT AS BRITAIN'S ALLY

Forms at Cairo; Five Other Lands in Line.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 18.—A "Free Rumanian" contingent is being organized here to fight beside the British, it has just been revealed. This makes six countries represented as allies of the British in the middle east. Czechs, French, Greeks, Poles, and Jugo-Slavs form the other forces.

In addition, there is a contingent of Spanish volunteers, chiefly men who came over from the French Foreign Legion during the Syrian campaign.

Men and officers of the allied countries often are seen in Egyptian cities and among the troops outside. Usually dressed in British uniforms, each group also wears the distinguishing marks of its origin.

Caps Distinguish Some.

The Poles wear a cap with a Polish eagle badge.

Over War's Long Roads.

Many of these soldiers had long Odysseys before they reached here. A few days ago in the western desert I met a young Polish lieutenant who fled Poland thru Rumania when the Polish debacle came. Eventually he slipped out and got to France, and then, after a few months, went to Syria with a Polish unit in the army of Gen. Maxime Weygand. When the French surrender came, he again got away, joined the British in Palestine, and later was sent here. His case is one of many like it.

Many of these allies have their language troubles. This Pole, for instance, knew nothing but Polish and little German when the war began. Now he speaks good French and passable English.

Men of the same nationality tend to stick together, but their common determination to learn new languages astonishes the British, who are slow to take to a new tongue.

Own Papers Tell the News.

Several of the groups have their own newspapers. Cairo already had four French language papers. The Poles have published a small paper for the last two months in Jerusalem and copies are distributed thru the middle east. The Jugo-Slavs now have the Jugo-Slavenski Glasnik, which is published here in both Serbian and Croatian type.

Aside from the nationalities mentioned, there are representatives of nearly every part of the British empire. They are best distinguished by their headgear—the famous slouched hat of the Australians, the high peaked felt hat of the New Zealanders, like an exaggerated American campaign hat; the turbans of the Indians, and the little, round sun helmets of the South Africans. All have one thing in common—when in action they wear the same type of tin hat.

U. S. Consulate Protests Jap Picketing of Missions

PEKING, China, Aug. 18 (AP).—The United States consulate at Tsinanfu was reliably reported today to have protested to Japanese military authorities against picketing of the American board mission's compounds at Tehchow and Lintsing, both in Shantung province. The American woman missionary in charge at Lintsing, Dr. Alma Cook, was said to have been forced to close the mission hospital and to have been prevented from leaving.

BRITISH POUR OUT GOODS TO TURKS IN SPITE OF WAR

Report Lists Big Trade in Vital Supplies.

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ANKARA, Turkey, Aug. 18.—Despite the many demands upon its war efforts, Britain is pouring a supply of "vital raw materials and many vitally needed manufactured goods" into Turkey, according to a report of the United Kingdom Commercial corporation issued here.

The corporation, which handles the wartime foreign trade for the British government, purchased goods "from all over the world, constituting the main source of supply to Turkey" of a wide range of products.

Among the business handled by the UKCC were Turkish government orders for such items as "23,000 tons of steel, 250,000 hides, 10,000 tons of sugar, 25,000 tires and tubes, tin valued at $400,000, tinplate valued at $800,000, a large tonnage of cotton yarn, and quantities of rubber."

Locomotives Among Goods.

The deals with Turkey, according to the report, also included contracts to supply heavy industries, factories and the transport system. One contract was for locomotives and cars valued at more than $3,000,000. Part of these supplies already has arrived in Egypt.

There were also orders for mining equipment, such as narrow gauge railroad supplies, lamps, picks and shovels. Orders for factory equipment included wire, cables, ropes, and "500 tons of copper bars and plates." Other orders were for "railway tires and other repair materials."

Some of this material already is on the way, some is awaiting shipment, and some is in the course of manufacture. Because the Syrian campaign hindered shipments to Turkey, 25,000 tons of merchandise have piled up in the middle east awaiting transportation.

Turkish Goods Purchased.

Last year the UKCC purchased from Turkey goods valued at nearly $3,000,000, including fruit, mohair, flax, hemp, olive oil and tinned fish. Tinplate to can the fish was supplied by Britain. Purchases are continuing.

Referring to purchases, the UKCC report stated that "altho prices paid were in many cases higher than the world market price, this to a certain extent was offset by the higher prices Britain was forced to charge for the sale of goods to Turkey."

An article in a Cairo newspaper recently described how 33 manufacturers in Britain had captured the world razor blade market from Germany since the outbreak of the war.

Seek Canadian Home

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 18 (AP).—Four French children who felt the terror of war in Europe arrived today with their parents aboard the American export liner Exeter, in from Lisbon. Joseph L. Begin, their father, was a motion picture director in Paris when the Germans approached in June, 1940. With Mrs. Begin and three of the children, Claire, 4; Monique, 5, and Catherine, 2, he fled toward southern France. Finally they reached Portugal, where another child, Paul, was born in Lisbon. They hope to find a home in Canada.

GRANT U. S. FUNDS FOR THREE TROOP CENTERS IN STATE

A telegram received in Chicago yesterday from Senator Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] announced that President Roosevelt had approved three recreation projects for service men in Illinois, costing a total of $271,600.

One project, to cost $125,000, will be built at Rantoul for use of the men at Chanute field.

Another project, costing $35,000, provides for the remodeling of a five story building in Rockford for the men at Camp Grant. The third, to cost $111,600, is to be a permanent recreation center in Waukegan for the soldiers of Fort Sheridan and the sailors at the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

BRITAIN TO MAKE WOMEN TAKE VITAL WAR JOBS

1,233,000 Registered but Only 50,000 Working.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Women shirkers will be forced to take urgent war jobs, Ralph Assheton, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of labor, told visitors at the opening of an exhibition of women's war work today.

"I want to make it clear," he said, "that altho there is no conscription of women for the military forces in the normally accepted use of the word, there certainly is compulsion for war work, and compulsion will be applied in cases where this is necessary.

Lack "Surplus Manpower."

"We have not only reached a point where there is no surplus manpower available, but we have reached a point where it is becoming very difficult to satisfy all our important needs."

In announcing a firmer policy for mobilizing women, he said that all women up to 30 years of age would be registered within the next four months; older women will be asked to replace younger women who can be transferred elsewhere, and the choice of occupations will be limited.

Only 50,000 in War Jobs.

Out of 1,233,000 registered, the latest figures show that only 50,000 women have found war jobs. The last registration, June 28, applied to women 23 and 24 years old.

Two girls who volunteered to work on munitions in Birmingham were tried in secret today for refusing to work except in the factory they themselves had selected. The ministry of labor is considering what action to take.

"We were told we would be allowed to choose the factory in which we wanted to work," one of the girls said after the hearing, "and we'll go to prison before we go to the one to which they assigned us."

GERMAN SOLDIER GETS POPE'S AUTOGRAPH—AND STARTS STAMPEDE

ROME, Aug. 18.—A new demand was made upon the good nature of Pope Pius XII. in yesterday's public audience, it was learned today. There were a number of German soldiers among the faithful, and one of them held out a postcard with the pontiff's photograph on it, asking his holiness to autograph it. The pope agreed but found he had started something which could not be finished, for dozens of other soldiers crowded around with postcards, notebooks, and papers.

The pontiff satisfied as many as he could, even signing the photograph of one German soldier's mother, but many supplicants had to be disappointed.

SUSPENDED FINE GIVEN VIOLATOR OF GAS CURFEW

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP).—A Buffalo gasoline station proprietor who kept his station open after the 7 p. m. curfew received a suspended sentence today on charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Wallace Crawford, 29 years old, was haled into court because business was so brisk Police Lieutenant Raymond W. Shaver said the automobiles around his station blocked traffic and created a disturbance. He said Crawford refused to get into the police car after his arrest.

Crawford told the court he had not closed because he paid $75 for a license to run the station. Judge Harry M. Zimmer fined him $50 but suspended execution, asserting he could not prohibit him from selling gasoline after 7 p. m.

The closing of filling stations in eastern states from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. has been asked by Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes.

Leahy, U. S. Vichy Envoy, Visits Berne, Switzerland

BERNE, Switzerland, Aug. 18 (AP).—Admiral William D. Leahy, United States ambassador to Vichy, France, arrived here today with Mrs. Leahy. He said he came for "good food and fresh air" and had no official business. Leahy said he believed the Roosevelt-Churchill declaration impressed the French profoundly.

Why SHOULD your secretary write your letters TWICE?

She shouldn't! There isn't any need for it. If she sits for an hour or more at your desk "taking" dictation, then sits for an equal amount of time at her desk deciphering and typing, that's doing your letters TWICE and one of them isn't necessary and YOU PAY FOR BOTH TIMES. Isn't it a silly waste? Have you realized it? Why should she do her stuff twice? Why should you pay for such? Why don't you find out about EDIPHONES (the Edison dictating machines)? We'll teach you to use them . . . in two minutes. Those two minutes will save thousands of dollars for you whether yours is a large or small concern. Ask us to PROVE we can save you money.

U. S. TO FERRY PLANES OF WAR TO NEAR EAST

F. D. R. Sets Up Route for British Delivery.

tablishment of a large base on the west African coast, the protection of which is likely at no distant date to furnish a reason for the dispatch of detachments of the United States navy, American air forces, and possibly American troops.

In this way American armed forces of considerable strength may be assembled within striking distance of Dakar and other strategic points in French northwest Africa which Hitler has demanded that the Vichy government yield to the axis.

Pan-American Blazes Trail.

Pan-American has been the trail blazer for the development of American air bases at Midway, Wake, Enderbury, and Canton Islands in the Pacific. With commercial airports established at these points the American navy has followed with the construction of naval plane bases. In view of this fact particular significance attaches to the concluding statement of the President's announcement that "the importance of this direct line of communication between our country and strategic outposts in Africa cannot be overestimated."

The President long has contended that the United States is threatened with invasion by the Nazis by way of South America from "strategic outposts in Africa," particularly Dakar, which is 1,700 miles from Brazil, and the Portuguese Azores and Cape Verde Islands. In his May 27 broadcast to the world the President dwelt on the danger of these strategic points falling into German hands and intimated that their occupation by the Nazis should be forestalled.

Stupid to Wait, He Says.

He said that "it is stupid to wait until a probable enemy has gained a foothold from which to attack."

Recently the President became aroused by the pressure which it was evident Hitler was bringing to bear on Vichy to gain control of French Northwest Africa. He caused the state department to threaten Vichy with a severance of diplomatic relations if Hitler were allowed to seize Dakar or any other part of this region.

Hitler succeeded in forcing a reorganization of the Vichy government with pro-Nazi Admiral Darlan placed in charge of the national defense and Gen. Weygand, who is anti-Nazi, compelled to take orders from Vichy. So far, however, Vichy has not yielded the African bases to Hitler, and the outcome of this affair is still in doubt.

3 DUTCHMEN PAY WITH LIVES FOR AIDING RAF MEN

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Aug. 18 (AP).—Three Dutchmen paid with their lives today for assisting British flyers who made forced landings on Netherlands territory. Two others were sentenced to prison for life after court martial by German military authorities on charges that they gave food, money, and civilian clothing to the grounded RAF flyers who were said to have been caught trying to reach the channel coast.

Trio Executed As Spies.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 18 (AP).—Three Belgians were executed today after being condemned to death by military authorities on charges of espionage.

4,500 Leave Fort Sheridan Aug. 25 for War Maneuvers

Forty-five hundred men and officers of the 40th coast artillery brigade will leave Fort Sheridan on Aug. 25 to participate in the big September war maneuvers in the south, it was announced yesterday. The men are scheduled to arrive at Lake Village, Ark., on Aug. 30. They will travel in trucks. Included in the group are the members of the 61st anti-aircraft coast artillery.

Jap Bombs Hit Cathedral of American Dominicans

CHUNGKING, China, Aug. 18 (AP).—Two bombs struck the cathedral and two hit the convent of the American Dominicans in Klenning, Fukien province, during a Japanese air raid on Saturday, the Chinese Central News reported tonight.

Leaves for Ethiopia

The empress of Ethiopia, who left England yesterday for Addis Ababa.

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—The empress of Ethiopia, who has been living at Bath, left England today for Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital. She was accompanied by her daughter, Princess Tsahai. Emperor Haile Selassie, her husband, was restored to his throne last May 5 after British occupation of Addis Ababa in the campaign to drive out the Italians.

STIMSON SPURNS OFFER OF FREE ARMY BUILDINGS

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 18 (AP).—William L. Hutcheson, general president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, said today Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson had turned down a union offer to build and give to the war department $25,000 worth of recreational facilities for soldiers.

He said local 101 of the brotherhood in Baltimore in appreciation for work given its members on Fort Meade, the Aberdeen proving ground, and the Edgewood arsenal, all in Maryland, had offered last June 14 to erect at its own expense and donate a recreational building at the fort and bowling alleys at the proving ground. A Washington contractor offered to give his services too.

"The erection of buildings on military reservations and their donation to the government by civic and fraternal or other similar organizations would establish an undesirable precedent and subject the war department to embarrassment," Stimson wrote.

SUIT FOR $12,000 IS FILED AGAINST A CONGRESSMAN

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18 (AP).—Mrs. Louise B. Gove, a department store saleswoman, filed suit in United States District court today seeking $12,567 from Representative Andrew J. May [D., Ky.] and four others on the grounds they sold her worthless stock in a West Virginia manganese mine. Other defendants were Mrs. Julia G. May, wife of the representative; M. A. Martin, and Walter E. Blount of Washington and A. J. E. Mullen of Baltimore. All were described as officers of the Greenbrier Mining corporation.

Mrs. Gove told the court she paid $2,000 for 800 shares of stock in the corporation in 1938 and also lent the firm $567. In addition to seeking recovery of this sum with interest, she asked $10,000 for alleged failure of the corporation's officers to renew a lease on 7,000 acres in West Virginia.

May, who is chairman of the house military affairs committee, issued a statement saying the charges made by Mrs. Gove were "wholly unjustified, absolutely untrue and there is no basis in fact for any such charges."

JAPS CHARGE U. S. INCITES MOSCOW TO WAR ON TOKIO

American Envoy Confers with Foreign Chief.

TOKIO, Aug. 19 [Tuesday]—(AP).—United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew conferred for hours with Foreign Minister Teijiro Toyoda on matters of utmost importance last evening amid Japanese charges that the United States was inciting Russia against Japan.

Ambassador Grew.

The million-strong soviet far eastern army was reliably reported to be mobilized and stationed along the Siberian border [where persistent reports from the orient say Japan likewise has massed many troops].

A navy spokesman also said at a press conference that Russia had 100 submarines and 110 speed boats stationed at Vladivostok.

Claim F. D. R. Moves Hostile.

The conference of Ambassador Grew and the foreign minister coincided with two long meetings between Eugene H. Dooman, counselor of the United States embassy, and Japanese Vice Foreign Minister Eigi Amau.

It came as the Japan Times and Advertiser, foreign office mouthpiece, described the Churchill-Roosevelt peace aims declarations and their subsequent message to Josef Stalin as an attempt to break down the United States neutrality act and incite Russia against Japan.

"When Japan and soviet Russia are endeavoring to consolidate their peaceful relations, any intervention by third powers toward upsetting this condition cannot be viewed as otherwise than hostile," the publication said. It declared that plans for "joint military action against Japan apparently included soviet Russia."

Assail U. S. Collaboration.

The entire Japanese press assailed Russian-British-United States collaboration and reflected the grave strain on already tense relations with America.

The foreign office was known to be studying closely the American state department's announcement Saturday that Japan had refused to permit 100 Americans to leave the country on the liner President Coolidge.

A government order yesterday that aliens hereafter must obtain police authorization to leave the country complicated the situation. Previously they had been required merely to notify the police.

Among Japanese press statements was a report by the Domei agency that Chiang Kai-Shek's government was planning to establish 14 air bases with British and American aid. Domei also reported from Hongkong that 5,000 American trucks had arrived at Rangoon for service on China's Burma road and that 120 Chinese aviation recruits were sent to Manila for training.

BRITAIN WARNED OF BIG WAR IN AIR IF IT FIGHTS JAPS

Tokio's Plane Force Is Put at 8,000.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Planes will play an important part in any war that develops from tension in the far east, Britons were told today, and Japan has an estimated force of 8,000 she could throw into the struggle.

The figure was presented by the aeronautical correspondent of the London Times. The 8,000, he said, include all types and many are "mediocre" when judged by western standards.

Japs Get 89 New Fields.

The occupation of French Indo-China provided Japan with many airfields, landing grounds and flying boat bases, 89 landing grounds in all, the writer declared. These, he added, give Japan enormous advantages for an attack against Thailand [Siam], and Thailand, if occupied, would provide 10 more landing grounds on the route to Singapore, the fortress on which Britain bases her might in the far east.

Britain is prepared to meet attack, the correspondent stated. He went on:

"In the last few weeks royal air force reinforcements and more types of American and British craft have been arriving at Singapore in a steady stream. Should hostilities break out, units of the fleet air arm would be immediately available to assist the RAF and the local volunteer air force that has been built up thru provision of flying schools under a scheme of the local government."

British Might Take Offensive.

Britain would not have to remain on the defensive, the writer asserted.

"The possibility cannot be ruled out," he continued, "that some arrangement might be made with China whereby the RAF could use Chinese bases. In that event, Japan would be within range of our long range bombers. If Russia also becomes embroiled in a new eastern war, she would have a strong air force in the east and Tokio and Yokohama would be within reach of soviet bombers operating from Vladivostok [Russian Pacific port]. Russian flyers could also bomb Manchukuo, where Japan is developing oil and other important industries."

JAPS WON'T WAR ON U. S., BRITAIN, SAYS GENERAL

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 18 (AP).—Maj. Gen. Arthur E. Grasett, who arrived from Hongkong after being in command of British forces in China for two and a half years, said today he believed Japan would not go to war with Great Britain or the United States.

"The Japanese have never been up against anything good and we're extremely strong now in Malaya," declared the Canadian-born officer. "Any attempt to take Singapore would be a heavy undertaking. Unless she becomes desperate, I believe, Japan will not be so rash as to fight Britain or the United States."

Gen. Grasett, who was accompanied by his wife, has been recalled to London.

DIDN'T TELL JAP U. S. SET TO FIGHT HITLER, SAYS GEN. VAN VOORHIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BALBOA, Panama Canal Zone, Aug. 18.—Lieut. Gen. Daniel Van Voorhis, commander of the United States army in the Caribbean area and the Canal Zone, today denied emphatically he had told Juji Kasai, a member of the Japanese parliament, "The preparations of the United States to fight Germany are now complete. . . . We shall enter the European war before long."

Lieut. Gen. Daniel Van Voorhis.

The report was cabled to the Tokio newspaper Yomiuri by Kasai, who is touring South America with a parliamentary delegation, and then cabled back to America by an American news service.

The general said he told Kasai the United States had no quarrel with the Japanese people as such, but that there could be no sound friendship while Tokio was a member of the Rome-Berlin axis.

POLICE STATION ON WHEELS WILL AID STATE FORCE

Illinois is to have a gigantic mechanical crime fighting device that will boast some of the features of an army tank, some of the comforts of a family trailer, and some of the facilities of a hospital, a school, a chemical laboratory, and a police station, according to an announcement from the office of Gov. Green yesterday. It will be a crime detection laboratory on wheels, a life saving station to be sent wherever needed, and a traveling detective bureau to be used by the Illinois Highway police under Chief Leo Carr. Among its equipment will be diving suits.

The laboratory will be built from specifications to be outlined by T. P. Sullivan, director of the state department of public safety. Sullivan expects it to be of aid in crime prevention as well as detection and to be helpful in guarding against sabotage in plants producing preparedness material.

U. S. AND BRITISH STRATEGY TOLD: INVADE EUROPE!

Disclosure Is Made After White House Parley.

tion toward the war," said Senator Connally.

Confidential, Says Barkley.

Majority Leader Barkley said the President gave them a detailed report of his talks with Churchill, but that it was "all confidential."

Other conferees stated privately that the President presumably was speaking only of the immediate future when he said the new alliance did not bring the United States closer to war. The congressional leaders were satisfied that no immediate hostilities are contemplated by the administration, unless the Germans should create an "incident" by sinking an American ship in the Iceland convoy service or should occupy Spain and Portugal. A movement into Spain and Portugal, it was suggested, would call for an immediate decision as to the occupation of the Azores, Cape Verde, and Canary Islands.

Called Implied Commitment.

Congressional leaders said the commitment to send an American expeditionary force to Europe for the final defeat of Germany was implied rather than expressed both in the Roosevelt-Churchill declaration and in the White House discussion of its implications. It was acknowledged by both the British and the American high commands, they said, that Germany cannot be subjugated by bombardment from the air, any more than Britain can thus be defeated.

The agreement that Germany can be defeated only by a military invasion, according to the congressional leaders, necessarily contemplates the use of American manpower, since Britain at present has not more than 30 fully equipped and trained divisions.

Britain is said to have some 4 million men under arms, but half of these are so-called home guards. Thus an army of 2 million men is the largest that Britain can be expected to use in any attempted invasion of the continent, the congressional leaders said.

Report Confidence in Russia.

Mr. Roosevelt, it was said, is confident that the Russians can maintain a large army thru the winter and indefinitely, altho the Germans are expected to take Leningrad, Kiev, and Odessa, and may take Moscow.

Plans for American and British assistance to Russia are to be made at the forthcoming conference in Moscow, which was called by Dictator Joseph Stalin at the request of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill. Harry L. Hopkins, Mr. Roosevelt's lease-lend coördinator, is expected to head the American delegation to Moscow, according to the congressional leaders.

The decision by the British and American high commands to base their war strategy on an eventual invasion of the continent confirms the opinion expressed early in July by two of Britain's highest generals—Sir Archibald Wavell and Sir Claude Auchinleck—that American manpower would be required to defeat Hitler. It contradicts an earlier statement by Prime Minister Churchill promising the American people that Britain would win the war if the United States would provide the tools.

AMERICA STANDS AT CROSS ROADS, SAYS DR. O'BRIEN

The Rev. John A. O'Brien of the University of Notre Dame warned that America stands at the cross roads leading either to war or peace in a speech over W-G-N and the Mutual system last night. Upon the choice of a road, he said, depends the welfare of this country, the lives of millions of American boys, and the civilization built by our forefathers.

In war, the Rev. Dr. O'Brien said, the real victors are lunacy, destruction, and death, and even if the United States were to go to war and win no good whatever would have been achieved. Hitlerism, Naziism, and Fascism would not have been crushed, he asserted, since they are ideas, impervious to tanks, guns, and bombs, and can be conquered only thru the spread of reason and education.

The Rev. Dr. O'Brien urged that a peace offensive be launched, and, ultimately, that an international tribunal be established to settle disputes among nations.

ALMA CARROLL.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 18 [Special].—Her beauty in a bathing suit Sunday won Alma Carroll, 18 years old, a three foot trophy and a trip to Quantico, Va., at the Venice mardi gras beauty contest. Three service men acted as judges and selected shapely Miss Carroll from 25 other contestants. The girls drew capsules from a drum to designate which army camp or fort they would represent. The winner was to receive a free trip to that base. Miss Carroll represented Quantico and will get a trip there.

BRITISH TOUCH OFF HUGE FIRES IN SICILY RAID

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 18 (AP).—Huge fires and violent explosions were caused in a British air raid on the Sicilian harbor of Syracuse Saturday night, the RAF middle east command announced today.

The same fleet air arm formation was reported to have fired the barracks at Cape Passero with incendiary bombs. Hurricane fighters returned to Syracuse yesterday to machine gun seaplanes and the communique said one Italian craft was destroyed and others were severely damaged.

The army reported that patrols from the besieged Libyan port of Tobruk were continuing offensive operations against the axis lines, "steadily inflicting losses upon the enemy."

Claim Ship Sunk.

ROME, Aug. 18 (AP).—Italian bombers sank a British merchant ship escorted by British warships between the Egyptian ports of Matruh and Sidi Barrani, the Italian high command reported today.

RAF SINKS 3 NAZI VESSELS; BOMBS LILLE FACTORIES

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—RAF bombers and fighters ranging over the channel and northern France today sank three German patrol boats off the Dutch coast, blasted industrial targets at Lille and strafed Nazi troops and an airdrome in Britanny, the air ministry announced tonight.

These big scale assaults were followed up tonight with an attack against other German-held bases in France. The night attackers returned home an hour after swinging out across the channel. Losses during the day were even, the British announced, with the RAF and the Nazi air force each losing three fighters.

More than 100 bombers last night struck at Bremen and the Rhineland industrial area around Duisburg. The Germans struck back with attacks on Hull and several other coastal points overnight. Nine persons were killed at Hull.

NINE CONSULATES OF CUBA SHUT BY NAZIS AND ITALY

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 18 (AP).—Germany and Italy have retaliated against the Cuban order closing axis consulates and expelling the consuls, Minister of State José Cortina said today.

Seven Cuban consuls in German-occupied countries have been ordered to leave and the Italian government has decreed the closing of two Cuban consulates in Italy, Cortina said.

Cuba, which has taken measures to suppress totalitarian activities, recently ordered seven German consuls and one Italian consul to leave.

GEN. WOOD ASKS FOR FULL FACTS ON OCEAN PARLEY

Calls Cloak of Secrecy a Breach of Faith.

Gen. Robert E. Wood, acting national chairman of the America First committee, urged the President yesterday to make a frank and full disclosure of all the circumstances surrounding his secret meeting with Prime Minister Winston Churchill of England.

"The American people are entitled to know the full facts," said Gen. Wood. "Secret agreements made by the President have no place under our constitution and democratic system. If he has sought personally to commit this nation to war he should advise the American people so that such purported treaty may be considered—and repudiated—by the senate, in accordance with the constitution.

Also Unfair to England.

"While the cloak of secrecy is a breach of faith with the American people it is even more unfair to the people of England. It is grossly unjust to them to allow the impression to circulate that the President has the power to bind his people by his own promise of war. We urge that the President make a frank and full disclosure immediately."

Gen. Wood said that he based his demand on the President on the fact that since the joint declaration of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill it has become apparent that the English people know more about the meeting than the Americans.

Hints of Secret Deal.

"No American reporters or photographers were present; the announcement of the meeting was first made by Maj. Attlee [lord privy seal in the British cabinet] in London. He plainly hinted that the eight points were merely a cover for other agreements which had been secretly made.

"Now dispatches from London tell us that the English people see in the joint declaration assurances on the part of President Roosevelt that America will soon follow up the proposed peace points by active participation in the war. For instance, the London Dispatch on Aug. 17 stated editorially: 'Army, navy, and air force experts of both nations did not attend the Atlantic conference to formulate peace aims, but to discuss how victory can be achieved'."

TALMADGE PICKS EX-CONVICTS TO BOSS CONVICTS

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 18 [Special].—Gov. Eugene Talmadge today advocated the use of former convicts as prison camp wardens because, he said, having been prisoners they would know how to handle prisoners.

The governor's declaration was made in defense of his appointment of two pardoned life termers, who had been convicted of murder, as wardens of two convict camps. The wardens are Ed and Fred Goble, twin brothers, convicted on murder charges in 1922.

Ed Goble escaped in 1929 but voluntarily surrendered in 1932 and was pardoned by Gov. Talmadge in 1933. Fred Goble was paroled by former Gov. L. G. Hardman in 1929 and given a full pardon by Talmadge in 1934.

Ed Goble is now warden of the Laurens county prison camp and Fred Goble is in charge of the Coffee county convict camp near Douglas. Both were appointed since Gov. Talmadge returned to office this year. They are from Talmadge's home county.

PREDICTS RECORD LOAD OF JOBLESS AFTER REARMING

New York, Aug. 18 (AP).—R. L. MacDougall, assistant WPA commissioner, today predicted that after the present emergency rearmament program is over the nation "is going to face the greatest load of unemployment in its history."

MacDougall made his forecast in addressing 75 field representatives of various federal agencies at the opening of a three day conference called by the Public Work reserve of the Federal Works agencies on the building up of a shelf of projects to be ready to absorb the unemployed after the emergency.

Jacob Baker, coördinator of Public Work reserve, estimated that a public works program of 10,000 million dollars annually would be required to take up the slack of unemployment after the emergency.

LEND-LEASE HARRY LOST HIS HEADPIECE; HENCE W. C.'S GIFT!

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—The mystery of what happened to the unshapely fedora Harry Hopkins wore to London was as deep as ever tonight, but some light was shed on how he happened to get a sartorially superior replacement initialed W. S. C.

The old hat vanished somewhere during the mad whirl of Hopkins' lease-lend business in the British capital.

Seeing Hopkins bareheaded, Prime Minister Winston S. Churchill said: "Here, you can't go around like that. You will catch cold."

A new gray hat was offered. Hopkins received it with thanks, slapped it on his head, and found it to be an exact fit. This was the headgear under which he returned to Washington Sunday.

LA GUARDIA ASKS FUNDS TO EQUIP AIR RAID WARDENS

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP).—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York City, director of civilian defense, told the 48th annual international police conference today he plans to ask congress for an appropriation for air raid warden equipment.

The requested amount, he added, would run into eight figures. It would buy fire fighting equipment, helmets, snuffers, sprays, and "other necessary tools."

Appealing for volunteers to serve as wardens, he declared that "if we are attacked, the time we have—no matter how long—won't be enough."

President Roosevelt sent a message to the conference that "the internal security of the United States is dependent in large part on the zeal and prudence" of law enforcement officers.

2½ YEAR DRAFT MADE LAW BY ROOSEVELT PEN

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18 (AP).—Legislation authorizing him to add 18 months to the army service periods of draftees, National Guardsmen, reservists, and enlisted men was signed into law today by President Roosevelt.

Earlier in the day, the President also affixed his signature to legislation relieving men 28 years and older from active military duty under the selective service act. This law provides mandatory deferment for men not yet inducted and directs that those of the specified age who request it shall be released from service "as soon as practicable and when not in conflict with the interests of national defense."

Under the new service extension law, draftees, National Guardsmen, and reservists would serve a maximum of 2½ years if the President so ordered. Regularly enlisted men, who originally signed up for three years, could be retained in service for 4½ years.

DECLARES 10,000 AMERICANS NOW SERVING BRITISH

Nearly 10,000 Americans now are serving in various British forces, according to Robert H. Hutchinson, founder of the American Eagle club, which provides recreational facilities for Americans in the British service.

Hutchinson spoke before a Rotary club meeting at the Adventurers club. Enlistments in the Canadian army account for 80 to 85 per cent of the Americans in British service, he said. The British and Canadian air forces, ferry service, and miscellaneous branches account for the rest.

Hutchinson, an American, has lived in England for 14 years. He is touring the United States with his wife, co-founder of the club, in an effort to gain financial support.

UPHOLD BARLOW'S $592,719.21 CLAIMS FOR HIS AIR BOMB

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18 (AP).—The United States Court of Appeals affirmed today a district court decision that Lester P. Barlow is entitled to the full amount of $592,719.21 congress appropriated for use of his aerial bomb in the World war.

John F. Clark of Los Angeles had claimed half of the money on the basis of a contract he made with Barlow in 1915, despite an agreement in 1924 releasing all his claims on Barlow's inventions for $12,000.

Barlow, who lives in Stamford, Conn., has received half of the money appropriated.

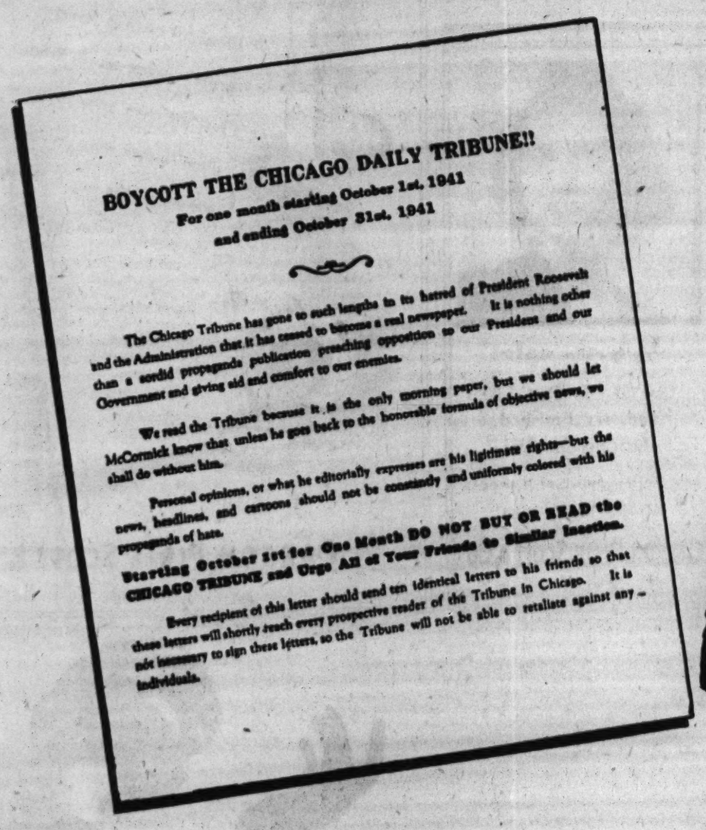
THE TRIBUNE ACCEPTS THE CHALLENGE



BOYCOTT THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE!!
For one month starting October 1st, 1941
and ending October 31st, 1941

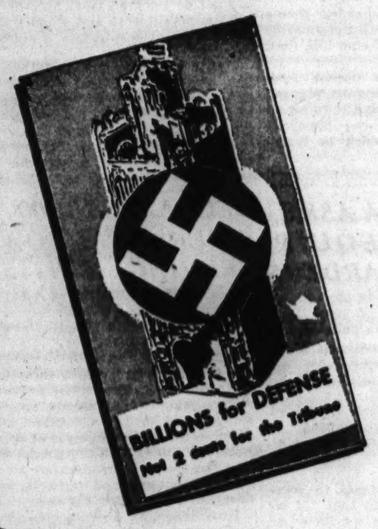
The Chicago Tribune has gone to such lengths in its hatred of President Roosevelt and the Administration that it has ceased to become a real newspaper. It is nothing other than a sordid propaganda publication preaching opposition to our President and our Government and giving aid and comfort to our enemies.

We read the Tribune because it is the only morning paper, but we should let McCormick know that unless he goes back to the honorable formula of objective news, we shall do without him.

Personal opinions, or what he editorially expresses are his legitimate rights—but the news, headlines, and cartoons should not be constantly and uniformly colored with his propaganda of hate.

Starting October 1st for One Month DO NOT BUY OR READ the CHICAGO TRIBUNE and Urge All of Your Friends to Similar Insertion.

Every recipient of this letter should send ten identical letters to his friends so that these letters will shortly reach every prospective reader of the Tribune in Chicago. It is not necessary to sign these letters, so the Tribune will not be able to retaliate against any individuals.



AND HITLER SHOULD PIN A MEDAL ON THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE who covers up German fascism's attack on all free people by hurling the Hitler lie that his is a 'cusade against Bolshevism', just as they smear the unionization of Calumet steel workers, and plotted that storm troopers delight, the Republic Memorial Day massacre. They are the Lt. General Learn, who rule the army with an iron hand, whipping out 15-mile-punishment-marches for a few friendly yeehoos from fellows who are in the Army now, and who must have real democracy within that Army if they are to fight well for our country.
Yes, in the words of Patrick Henry, these "gentlemen may cry peace, peace, but there is no peace. THE WAR HAS ACUTALLY BEGUN."

August 6, 1941

Dear Mr. Fuller

Keenly interested in our national defense, I wonder if you too feel the way I do about the menace of Hitler to our free institutions and economic structure. If you do, I want you to join me in the support I am giving the Chicago chapter of the Fight For Freedom Committee. This Committee is dedicated to an all-out effort to defeat Hitler. Its leadership includes Senator Carter Glass, honorary chairman; Bishop Henry W. Hobson, chairman; and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and Mrs. Dwight Davis, vice-chairmen.

Since the day of its formation early in July, the Chicago chapter, under the leadership of acting director Courtenay Barber, Jr., has arranged a number of motorcades and street-meetings, spreading the Nazi-Hitler message by means of speeches and literature-distribution. On July 29, at Orchestra Hall, it held a rally at which Bishop Hobson spoke and Edmund Taylor, noted author, delivered a talk on the subject of "What's Wrong With the Chicago Tribune." Despite the torrid weather and the unexpected break-down of the air-cooling system, more than 3000 men and women jammed the hall, while over 1000 others were turned away for lack of seats. The anti-isolationist speeches of Bishop Hobson and Mr. Taylor aroused such enthusiasm, and the climax was reached when a resolution was proposed and with much spirit adopted, condemning the extreme isolationist position of the Tribune and offering the citizenry's support to a second morning newspaper should one be established in Chicago in the near future.

Since the rally, numerous calls and letters have been coming into the office of the Chicago Fight For Freedom Committee expressing the hope that Fight For Freedom will continue its leadership in this difficult struggle against Colonel McCormick, Lindbergh, Wheeler et al. To heed the popular request, Fight For Freedom needs money. A campaign of petitions, buttons (such as "Chicago Needs a Morning Newspaper"), pamphlets, indoor and outdoor meetings, and other media requires money. A number of public-spirited citizens have already contributed to Fight For Freedom. Won't you please join their ranks? A pregaid envelope is enclosed for your convenience.

Thank you.

Sincerely yours,

Duncan Hall

V ...—

REPRODUCED ABOVE are several circulars recently distributed in an attack on the Chicago Tribune because it will not compromise with the truth.

One circular is anonymous. One is signed by an interventionist group; the other by the Midwest Young Communist League.

The Tribune welcomes the attacks of communists and all others who object to publication of the truth. It will not be intimidated.

It never weakened against Lorimer, Small or Thompson.

It never weakened against Prohibition and the Anti-Saloon League.

It never weakened against Huey Long, Townsendism and other exploiters of poverty and old age.

It never weakened in its fight against the NRA, the AAA, the Supreme Court packing and the other New Deal attacks upon American rights.

It will not weaken now.

It will not sell out or bow to communists or to any others who seek to rob Americans of their guaranteed liberty.

As an American newspaper the Tribune places American principles of constitutional government above all false ideologies.

It will not be muzzled by those who would sacrifice American security and welfare to further the aims of other countries.

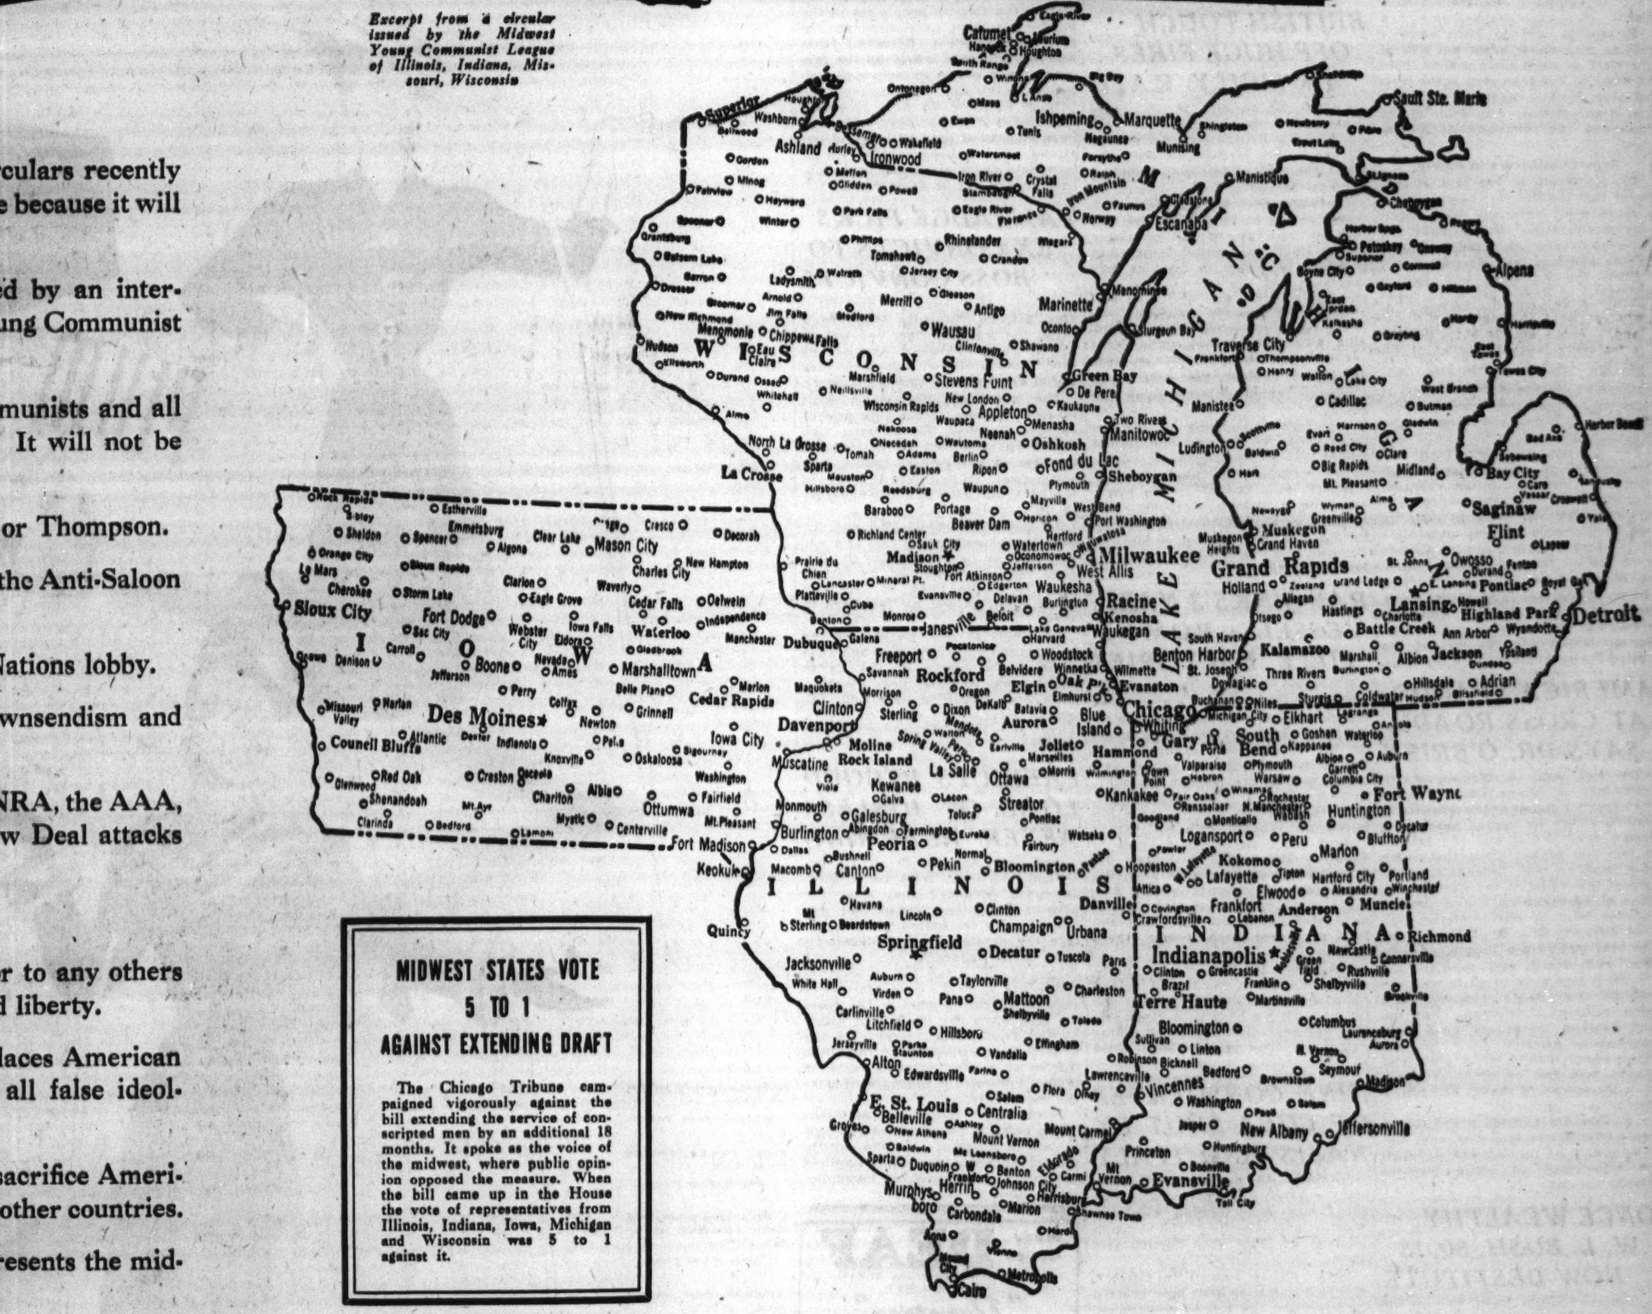
As a midwest institution the Tribune represents the midwest viewpoint.

It will continue steadfast in its determination to advance the interests of this region.

The newspaper which prints the facts is constantly subjected to coercion. The Tribune has been attacked before. It expects to be attacked again.

Thru four wars, eight major depressions and 24 Presidential elections, the Tribune has printed the facts. It will continue to do so.

Tribune readers know where this newspaper stands. As evidence of public response to its editorial and news policies in printing the truth, Tribune daily circulation is now more than 1,000,000—up more than 250,000 over what it was in 1936, and more than that of any two other Chicago daily newspapers combined.



MIDWEST STATES VOTE
5 TO 1
AGAINST EXTENDING DRAFT

The Chicago Tribune campaigned vigorously against the bill extending the service of conscripted men by an additional 18 months. It spoke as the voice of the midwest, where public opinion opposed the measure. When the bill came up in the House the vote of representatives from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin was 5 to 1 against it.

THE first white settlers of the middle west were Americans who came inland braving the dangers of the wilderness in a search for greater freedom and opportunity.

When the veterans of the Continental army went west to take up their land grants they took with them the deep patriotism of the soldier and left colonialism behind.

The Chicago Tribune springs from this stock. It is native to the soil, and because it represents and advances the best interests of the midwest, it is the most widely read newspaper in the midwest.

In the five midwest states shown on the map readers in 3,970 cities, towns and villages turn to the Tribune for the news.

In these five states Tribune circulation on Sunday is 1,220,962. This is from 416,000 to 755,000 more than delivered by other Chicago Sunday newspapers.

In these states also the Tribune on weekdays delivers more than 1,064,342 copies—from 563,000 to 607,000 more than delivered by other Chicago daily newspapers.

ENGLAND SELLS GOODS HERE AS U. S. CUTS OUTPUT

Aluminum Products Are Among Metals Sent In.

New York, Aug. 18 [Special].—Importers here still are able to obtain British goods made in whole or in part of metal despite the fact that American manufacturers already have been forced to curtail production in many similar lines.

In some instances importers have insured against future shortages by smart forward buying in America. One such case is that of Alfred Dunhill of London, Inc. This 5th avenue importer of pipes, lighters, gifts, and a variety of smokers' accessories for a luxury trade also features a line of Havana cigars encased in individual aluminum cartons—at 35 cents and up per cigar.

Altho American housewives were asked to give up pots and pans in a 20 million pound aluminum collection campaign, Dunhill confidently expects to be selling its exclusive aluminum carton product for at least two years thru stocks bought here. The American made cartons are filled in Cuba.

Deliveries Still Being Made.

At Dunhill's it was said that the situation is becoming "very tight" on imports from Britain of metal cigaret cases and some similar accessories, but that deliveries still are being made. Altho saying "We're afraid it can't last much longer," officials cited only one instance of cutting down so far. This is that smokers no longer are provided with a spare aluminum filter tube when they buy a Dunhill pipe.

The absence of any slackening in the "buy something British" campaign to maintain English exports to the United States is illustrated in the August buyers' index of importers, published by the British Empire Chamber of Commerce in America.

More than 250 listings are included of companies with stocks of British goods on hand, compared with less than 100 in the first issue last April. The eight page gloss paper job with a big red "V" on its first page is going to 10,000 department store buyers and merchandise managers, compared with the initial circulation of less than 5,000 copies.

Report Steady Flow of Goods.

The British Chamber of Commerce reported a "steady flow" of goods from Britain, with increased sales in the United States. It said Britain "apparently" still is allotting sufficient material—including metals—to permit manufacturers to supply the trade here.

One exception is that no food listing is included in the index, it being explained that continued export of luxury foods "made a bad impression when so many shortages exist in England." A 5th avenue shop, however, is featuring fancy tin packs of English biscuits and cookies at 85 cents, $1.10, and up for a package.

Spices and both India and Chinese teas, packaged in tin in England to keep them fresh, are listed in the index and are in higher priced stores.

An Outstanding Success.

The chamber of commerce also noted that the "buy something British week," promoted here last month by the Committee to Aid Britain by Reciprocal Trade, was such an "outstanding success" that there is "every reason" to anticipate similar promotions in other cities thruout the United States this fall and winter.

Almost no British substitution or curtailment of metals has been found by Abercrombie & Fitch, exclusive sporting goods store, catering to the Long Island trade. Aside from tax questions, which have caused more trouble than all other matters arising from war conditions, its chief trouble has been delays. But forward buying has fixed that.

Almost 20 per cent of all the store's sales are British imports and no more than a minor reduction has occurred in shipments. Illustrative of the British view, an instance was cited of a manufacturer who wrote there would be a slight further delay in obtaining a product in which aluminum normally is used. He said he could substitute another metal and make immediate delivery, but that he was sure his customer would prefer the slight additional delay to have the product "right."

TELLS ADVANCES IN ENLARGEMENT OF COLOR PHOTOS

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP).—Dr. C. E. Kenneth Mees, vice president and research director of the Eastman Kodak company, said today the firm has developed and is ready to market commercially color photographic prints in enlargements of two and five diameters.

In addition, Dr. Mees told the 42d annual convention of the International Photoengravers' union [AFL], enlargements up to 30 by 40 inches can be produced for commercial use.

He explained that previously only small transparencies, converted from the color negatives, have been generally available to the public wishing to take still color photographs.

ACCUSE PAROLEE OF FIRING AT 2 HOLDUP VICTIMS

A reformatory parolee who allegedly fired shots at two victims in separate holdups was in custody of Deering street police last night. He is John Pankauskas, 27 years old, 4431 Shields avenue, paroled June 2 from the Indiana reformatory at Pendleton.

According to Policemen John Adams and William E. Grund, Pankauskas fired two harmless shots at William Kuchensky, 821 West 34th street, when Kuchensky resisted his robbery attempt. Three hours later, police said, Pankauskas fired two more shots, also ineffective, at Mrs. Veronica Masilonis, 3430 Emerald avenue, when she tried to pursue him after he had taken $20 from her purse.

Mrs. Masilonis remembered having seen Pankauskas before, and her description resulted in his arrest at home. He denied the robberies, but was identified in both cases. Records shows he entered Pendleton reformatory in June, 1934, for conspiracy to commit a felony. He was paroled in July, 1938, returned in May, 1940, for parole violation, and again paroled June 2, this year.

SOUTHARD CITES VFW CONVENTION PEACE MANDATE

Charges National Group Is War Mongering.

Earl Southard, suspended Illinois commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, charged yesterday that he faces a VFW court martial because his nonintervention views conflict with those of "war mongering" national officials.

Dr. J. C. Menendez.

Southard's trial, set for 9 a. m. Thursday in the Morrison hotel before a court of past department commanders of 11 states, was ordered by Dr. Joseph C. Menendez of New Orleans, La., national commander.

Right to Free Speech.

"For the last few months Dr. Menendez and Barney Yanofsky, editor of Foreign Service [the VFW magazine] have attempted to rally war veterans behind administration war moves," Southard charged. "They are out to silence opposition at any cost.

"My court martial will decide whether the Veterans of Foreign Wars upholds the rights of every American citizen to free speech and personal opinion," Southard said.

Dr. Menendez and Yanofsky, in calling for action which would plunge America into an overseas war, are defying the mandates laid down at the 1940 national encampment of the VFW at Los Angeles, Southard charged.

Lists Four Mandates.

He listed four mandates approved last August by the national body:

1. "We urge upon the President and congress that every effort be made to prevent the involvement of this nation in wars between other countries and to coöperate in every way with them to that end.

2. "We urge vigorous opposition to all subversive activities, including communism, Nazism, Fascism, and their front organizations and subsidiaries, and other forms of regimentation designed to subvert our form of government or embroil us in foreign wars.

3. "We oppose the making of seret treaties, agreements or understandings with other nations and demand that all such treaties be made public.

4. "We ask congress to enact statutes declaring the practice of communism to be a crime against the United States, and outlawing the communist party in the United States."

Sworn to Uphold Mandates.

"Until new mandates are approved at this year's encampment, officials of the VFW are sworn to uphold existing resolutions," Southard said. "The court martial is an attempt to discourage the introduction of similar mandates at the Philadelphia convention next week."

Charges against Southard were brought by his own post, Progress Post No. 2255, after a handbill published by the Citizens Keep America Out of War committee, of which Southard is secretary, asked "no obedience" to the lend-lease measure.

Northwest Airlines Asks Route to Upper Michigan

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 18 [Special].—Permission to establish a new feeder air line from Milwaukee either to Ironwood or Marquette, Mich., has been asked by Northwest Airlines from the Civil Aeronautics board, it was revealed today. The company operates mail and passenger lines from Chicago to the west coast. The feeder line would make stops in the upper peninsula of Michigan and in cities in the Fox river valley of Wisconsin. The company now has on file an application for right to operate a feeder line from Milwaukee to Green Bay.

Policeman's Wounding of Woman Is 'Accident'

Investigators from Police Commissioner Allman's office yesterday termed accidental the wounding Friday night by Policeman Stanley Bonzak of a waitress in a tavern at 1024 Noble street. The waitress, Miss Celia Nemerowicz, 28 years old, of 2234 Walton street, was shot thru the left hand when Bonzak's revolver was discharged as he was displaying it to friends.

STATE HEARINGS OPEN TODAY ON 10 CENT BUS FARE

The Illinois Commerce commission will begin hearings today on the reasonableness of the 10 cent bus fare charged by the Chicago Motor Coach company. The hearings will be held in the commission's office on the 19th floor of the Burnham building.

Assistant Commissioner William E. Helander and Examiner Howard West will conduct the hearings, which the commission ordered last week after the city of Chicago had failed for seven years to press its 1934 petition for a cut in the 10 cent fare.

The expense of the commission's inquiry, which the bus company estimates at $100,000, must be paid entirely by the company, according to a state statute governing utility rate investigations.

The chief point of dispute is expected to be the question of a fair valuation of the bus properties for ratemaking purposes. Attorney General George F. Barrett contends the value should be based on original cost of the properties, less depreciation. He arrives at a figure of $5,763,995 on this basis.

The bus company contends the valuation should be based on costs of replacing its equipment at present day prices, which, it argues, are 15 per cent higher than original costs. The company contends its properties are worth at least 10 million dollars.

WARNS U. S. OF RISE IN DELINQUENCY AS ONE RESULT OF WAR

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 18 (AP).—American boys and girls are going to join the parade of criminality and delinquency in increasing numbers due to the war, Sydney H. Souter Jr., superintendent of the Annandale, N. J., state reformatory, told the American Prison association tonight.

He cited a report of a 50 per cent increase in delinquencies in England in four war months, and another showing the increase in Manchester, England, for last year was 77 per cent.

The same condition likely will exist in this country long before hostilities have ceased, Souter added. He contended that some young Americans who for years have been starving for purchasable pleasures and who now are making war boom wages, might "go too far in their efforts to make up for lost time." Others may slip when the rearmament program declines and fat pay envelopes become only a memory, he said.

Save Our Republic

WHICH MR. ROOSEVELT IS MEANT?

The war party has whipped itself up into a state of mind in which it demands unconditional support for Mr. Roosevelt, first, because he is the chief executive and the people elected him; second, because he says the country is in imminent danger without giving his proof and, third, because while saying that he was not going to war he has created a situation which the war party says is actually war. Therefore, as this bewildering argument runs, it is disloyal to oppose Mr. Roosevelt by insisting that he keep his pledges and abide by his own statements.

Mr. Roosevelt did not give his promises in ignorance of what was happening or in any doubt of what might happen, if again we are to take his own words. For at least six years he has flattered himself that he was far in advance of his fellow countrymen in understanding the European situation. When he was a candidate for the second term, in 1936, he made a peace speech at Chautauqua, in which he said that he was more concerned and less cheerful about international world conditions than about our own immediate domestic prospects, and in speaking of serious conditions abroad he did so as one "who has spent a goodly portion of every 24 hours in the study of foreign relations."

Mr. Roosevelt professed then to be fearful of what was about to happen in Europe and out of his fears he issued some solemn warnings to the people. He reminded the country that it had gone thru a disastrous experience in the other World war. "Industrial and agricultural production for a war market," he said, "might give immense fortunes to a few, but for the nation as a whole we know that it produces disaster." He traced our agricultural and industrial troubles to what the people did in the excitement of war and under its pressures and temptations and he continued with his warnings. He said that we should not blink the fact that if war broke out again on another continent thousands of Americans seeking immediate riches and fool's gold would attempt to break down our neutrality. He said it would be hard to resist that clamor.

Then he went on: "We can keep out of war if those who watch and decide have a sufficiently detailed understanding of international affairs to make certain that the small decisions of each day do not lead toward war and if, at the same time, they possess the courage to say 'No' to those who selfishly or unwisely would get us into war." He said he spoke from a long experience when he told the people that "the effective maintenance of American neutrality depends today, as in the past, on the wisdom and determination of whoever at the moment occupy the offices of President and secretary of state."

To repeat—Mr. Roosevelt did not utter these warnings with an untroubled mind. He thought the trouble was coming in Europe. He said he was in intimate touch with the international situation. He was using "a goodly portion of every 24 hours in the study of international relations." He was fearful. The situation abroad was disturbing and he preached against the persons who selfishly or unwisely would seek to get us into the war. He sought a special occasion during his campaign for reëlection to make these warnings emphatic.

Certainly that speech had considerable to do with giving him the confidence of a majority of the people. If he had said that war was coming in Europe and that he would lead us into it, Mr. Roosevelt probably would have been a one-term President and his successor would have been Mr. Landon. The people may ask themselves whether the persons who at the moment occupy the offices of President and secretary of state have made certain that the small decisions of each day should not lead toward a war and if these persons have had the desire to say "No" to those who selfishly or unwisely would get us into it.

The answer must be that every step taken since Mr. Roosevelt got his second term has been intended to lead toward war and that they have been taken in such a way as to deceive the people as to the direction in which the steps were leading. Mr. Roosevelt's handling of international questions has been precisely that which he said it should not be and it has been exactly that which he said would lead to war. Eighty per cent of the people are for what he said at Chautauqua when he was the second term candidate. He was warning the people against himself.

As the third term candidate he again appealed to the people as a man of peace. Again he knew what the situation was abroad. He didn't make his promises without being aware of events. A majority of the people apparently believed him when he said:

"Your President and your secretary of state are following the road to peace.

"The first purpose of our foreign policy is to keep our country out of war. At the same time we seek to keep foreign conceptions of government out of the United States. Across the seas life has gone underground. I think I speak the minds of all of you when I say that we thank God that we live in the sunlight and the starlight of peace—that we are not in war, and that we propose and expect to continue to live our lives in peace—under the peaceful light of heaven.

"And while I am talking to you mothers and fathers, I give you one more assurance. I have said this before, but I shall say it again and again and again, your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars."

The man who made these promises was elected for a third term. He knew everything of world conditions then that he knows now. The people who oppose his war policy supported his peace policy. He is chief executive on a peace program. The opposition to him is not an opposition to the program he announced when he was running for office. If he were still that man or if he would talk and act as that man said he would, 80 per cent of the people would be for him and only a minority would be against him.

The assumption that a man who has the power to create situations as he desires them to be, however alarming they are to the country, has then also the power to command an uncompromising support from all the nation is the complete theory of despotic Europe. People have lost their independence if they cannot protest, violently if necessary, against such an idea of government.

If they have lost that right, they have lost everything.

REPORT ON MORALE.

The proprietors of the magazine Life have been prominently identified with the interventionist movement. Perhaps for that reason they felt free to explore the delicate question of army morale in the latest issue of the publication. One of their reporters was sent to a southern camp to study the state of mind of the men of a northern division; he expected to hear the usual amount of grousing over the conditions of camp life but he found much more than that. He found deep dissatisfaction and discouragement. He found boredom and resentment. He found the men lacked confidence in their officers. He heard them threaten to desert.

"I talked to some 400 privates from five different regiments," the reporter wrote. "Fifty per cent of them say they will desert ['go over the hill' in army slang] after this year's period of service is over. Actually, most of these will do nothing so drastic, but there definitely will be trouble with deserters. Another 40 per cent rue the day they got in the army. The final 10 per cent are not happy either, but are anxious to get in some other part of the army, like the air corps, the armored force, or a parachute battalion, where they feel they will learn more. Only two men out of the 400 wanted to make the army their career.

"The division has its own unique 'V' campaign. Instead of V, the word OHIO is chalked on the walls of latrines, field artillery pieces, and cars. It means 'Over the Hill in October.'"

The reporter goes on to tell why the men are dissatisfied. He finds a variety of causes, but high among them he lists the allegation that the men feel they are not learning anything which will be useful to them in war. They feel that they are wasting their time. Their officers for the most part don't know the business of modern war and, not knowing it, can't teach it.

Another source of discontent is the sense that there are few chances for advancement. The reporter quotes a private of infantry as saying that "the officers' training schools are a lot of talk. There's no chance to get anywhere in this army. They ought to kick out some of the bum officers and give some of us a chance."

There is a shortage of equipment in the camps, which retards training. The fact that high wages are being earned by civilians while the men in the army are serving for little pay has its inevitable effect upon morale. The unexpected extension of the service period is, of course, a most important influence.

All in all, the picture is a shocking one. It evidences once again the incapacity of the men now in power in Washington to plan intelligently. The men were called to camp long before the army was ready to receive them. Everybody knew that the new equipment would not be available and everybody should have known that the intensive training of a corps of officers and noncoms should have preceded the summoning of the conscripts. The discontent which is said to exist was made in Washington and the responsibility rests there.

The contrast between the training methods of the German army and those of our army is striking. It is a curious and ironical fact that the Germans used the educational methods which have been explored and developed very largely by progressive schoolmen in this country. Emphasis there was placed upon individual initiative and efforts were made to get the men interested. Ambition was encouraged and directed. Here, if the account in Life is to be accepted as accurate, the men are bored with routine, ambition is being stifled, and discontent is growing.

METROPOLITAN SNAKES.

[Providence Evening Bulletin.]

Anything can happen in the City of New York and sooner or later it does, as the late O. Henry reminded us. Probably the spectacle most familiar to many of the citizens is a vision of snakes, which is usually an alcoholic illusion, but may, it appears, be very real indeed.

According to an authentic police record, such a manifestation of serpentine realism was the source of much excitement recently. It happened at the corner of Madison avenue and 113th street soon after midnight on Thursday, July 24. "Hey there, officer!" cried a very nervous gentleman, greeting a patrolman. "There are a couple of rattlesnakes crossing the street." The policeman investigated and promptly became as nervous as his informant. He told headquarters that "the guy here says they are rattlers" and he intimated that a squad of snake catchers would be welcome as reënforcements.

Well, the squad of experts arrived and eventually the two snakes were captured four blocks away from where they were first seen. An expert from the Bronx zoo identified the pair of reptiles. One proved to be a harmless bull snake, but the other was indeed a rattler. What the expert could not explain was how a bull snake and a rattlesnake happened to be roaming around the streets of New York in amiable companionship.

The joint sightseeing trip may seem a bit odd, but there are various ways in which the fact of roaming snakes in New York streets might be accounted for. We do not doubt that O. Henry could have built a dozen fascinating stories on this one bald fact. At least, this episode proves that the popular hinterland theory of exceptional dangers in New York life is in no way exaggerated. The ever present possibility of rattlesnakes in the streets of the great city suggests that the parents of Pauline still have good reason to warn the gal about all the perils that might be imagined, as well as some that might seem extremely remote.

A possible increase of 24 cents in the local tax rate may account for rumors that some politicians plan to retire.—Indianapolis News.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

ON THE TRAIL OF SIR FRANCIS.

Did you see the news item about the two California savants who are proving that Sir Francis Drake landed in the bay named after him by a similarity between words in an extinct Indian language and in the chronicles of Drake's voyage? This dispatch annoyed the Linemaster slightly by its inadequacy. "What words?" he growled to his dog. "Why not mention them?"

So he skimmed thru the eight volumes in the Everyman edition of "Hakluyt's Voyages" until he found the account of Drake's landing on the California coast, June 17, 1579, which is the fountain source of information on the subject. It contains only one Indian word, which is "Hioh." This probably means "Big Shot," for so the earliest Native Sons addressed the English captain, according to the following passage:

"In which to perswuade us the better, the king and the rest, with one consent and with great reverence, joyfully singing a song, inriched his neck with all their chaines, and offered unto him many other things, honouring him by the name of Hioh."

There is a fine bit of prophecy in this brief chronicle, which was written by the ship's chaplain, Francis Fletcher. Toward the end he tosses in this sentence:

"There is no part of earth here to bee taken up wherein there is not some speciall likehood of gold or silver."

Drake sailed the Golden Hind down the California coast from the north, which explains why he happened to put into Drake's bay rather than San Francisco bay. There can be no doubt that Drake's bay was the place, for "We came within 38 degrees of the line," says Chaplain Fletcher. That is the exact latitude of this coast of "white banks and cliffes," which Drake called "Nova Albion."

BACK TO NORMALCY.

With visions of lakes and of mountains,
Of rivers and beautiful skies,
Of waterfalls, sunshine, and fountains
Still dancing in front of my eyes,
The office is lifeless and sordid,
The atmosphere smelling of must;
I thought that it should be awarded
Its final relapse into dust.
I felt that I'd been gone for ages;
The folks at the desks seemed like ghosts.
Was this where I'd labored for wages?
Where Little Man blusters and boasts?
But now I am jarred from my dreaming,
Without any sense of elation,
As the Big Boss approaches me, beaming,
Saying, "When do you go on vacation?"

The Katydid in Town.

So you would have us apartment dwellers believe that the katydid leads an exclusively rustic life on the north shore [Aug. 13]; that the "little people" of the trees give voice only in the vicinity of a villa on Blueberry Lane. Your katydid is a recluse, piping esoteric notes in a secluded ravine.

That's not our katydid. Our katydid is a convivial city dweller, hearty and brash. He pits his voice against the hottest radio singer on the beach. His clamor for attention penetrates between the baby's wail and the swimmer's shout. A scrub poplar on the sand is rusticity enough for him. His voice is a pulsing note in the city's sounds at night. He would pine away and die if banished to the solitude of Blueberry Lane. M. I. I.

Vanished Dreams of Theatrical Empire.

Do you remember Imre Kiraify's "America," which appeared in the Auditorium theater from April 19 to Nov. 11, 1893? Its producers were Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau, and at that time this firm seemed to be gobbling up American show business. In the "America" program was an announcement that the firm would present on Oct. 2, at the Columbia theater, Henry Irving and Ellen Terry in repertory; on Oct. 2, at Hooley's theater, Coquelin and Jane Hading in a repertory of French tragedies; that the firm had leased the Metropolitan Opera house, New York, and would open it on Nov. 27 with a season of Italian and French opera; had leased the Tremont theater, Boston, and had presented as its summer tenant the Pauline Hall Comic Opera company; and that it was building a new theater at Broadway and 38th street to be called the Abbey theater.

THE SACRED GROVE.

The ancient redwoods lift their branches high
Above the scars where fire has left its mark,
And as the winds among the branches sigh
They dream of days when they were not a park;
When no man walked along their aisles of green,
Built restaurants and souvenir displays;
No hewn-log bridge or bench man-marred the scene
When only Nature built, in Nature's ways.
Yet proudly they recall their trial by fire,
And how their living strength was more than death.
The children rose around the parents' pyre,
While even some survived the demon's breath.
Somehow, one feels that borne upon each breeze
Must be God's benediction on these trees.

Boondogglers in Ambush.

Chief Tall Corn [Aug. 1] must be naïve if he thinks the boondoggling era has passed. The dear days have not expired, nor are they beyond recall. A $375,000,000 appropriation will keep the brainchild of the administration nourished for quite a while and war hysteria will divert public attention. If Chief Tall Corn will come to Chicago, any TRIBUNE reporter can show him where boondoggling de luxe is still flourishing amid crystal chandeliers, marble walls, and mahogany woodwork; where career men and women are holding the fort against that day when the minions will be called forth to discharge their obligations.

While it is true that the leaf-rakers and others of their ilk ostensibly have been discharged because of reduction of funds, they are not, Chief Tall Corn, beyond recall. J. R. M.

You may prepare for an early fall, because the shy little dickey birds called warblers have begun to pass thru town on their way, by short jumps, from the north woods to the southlands. They are a sure sign of approaching autumn.

TUBERCULOSIS OF THE SKIN —LUPUS VULGARIS.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

TUBERCULOSIS, or the Great White Plague, as it is called oftimes, may not attack the lungs but prefer some other part of the body. Thus we find the disease in the bones or joints, the lymphatic system, or the skin.

Fortunately for most of us, blemishes on the epidermis caused by the tubercle bacillus are diminishing in frequency. There was a time when enlarged glands on the sides of the neck [scrofula] were common. Nowadays these infected nodes [the King's Evil] are managed successfully with concentrated arc light, a plan devised by Finsen, a Danish physician. The inflammation will disappear under appropriate ultraviolet therapy. This same procedure is of value in tuberculosis of the bone which, despite skilled surgical care, may proceed to abcess formation.

We have largely banished tubercle germs from our foods. Dairy herds are tested for the presence of the organisms and pasteurizing milk practically eliminates the risk. Then, too, our youngsters are living more athletic, outdoor lives. They are building resistance against ailments which, a generation or two ago, seemed to be on the increase.

But lupus—skin tuberculosis—still exists in some quarters. While it may appear on almost any portion of the cuticle, it is more noticeable on the cheeks. Brownish nodules form in the deeper layers and unless properly treated, the complaint may persist for years. As a rule, the eruption manifests itself in childhood or early youth altho no age is exempt. More than half the cases will be observed among users of raw milk or those exposed to the disease on farms. Some accompany nodules in the cervical [neck] region and even tho these heal spontaneously, the lesions on the face may follow.

The reason that this disease is important is because it may become such a chronic, disfiguring malady. When firmly established it constitutes a social handicap. Lotions, salves, and ointments are worthless. There is no advantage in irritating the areas and surgical removal of the injured cells is rarely helpful. X-rays may do more harm than good. But with the skilful and persistent use of concentrated arc light [Lomholt], the development of which followed the epic making work of Finsen, cure is almost certain.

This special apparatus is provided with a complex lens system by means of which the beam is composed of ultraviolet with very few visible rays. Using a hollow cone, the part to be treated can be covered exactly. In addition, the device is supplied with a stream of running water for cooling purposes so that heat is neutralized completely. The lenses are made of fused silica which permits the arc to be brought within two inches of the skin. The rays, therefore, are far more intense, altho harmless.

A case that came under my observation recently was that of a 45 year old woman who had been treated with cautery for several years without benefit. Her disfigurement covered a sizable region on one cheek extending well below the chin. Eight applications to the upper portion resulted in complete healing. Later, the lower section responded with equal facility. For the first time in several years the patient is now completely free from the disorder.

As a rule, cure is permanent. Even tho it should break out in a new spot, additional exposures will bring relief. In one series of 957 cases, the lesions reappeared in 32-12 in a new locality. All were cured with subsequent treatments.

UP AND DOWN.

Michael writes: One day I feel like an average, healthy individual and the next I am so dopy and jittery I can hardly think. What do you suppose is the trouble?

REPLY.

Jekyll and Hyde personalities are not uncommon. The physical body may mirror the emotions. The chances are that your periodic jitters will yield gracefully to a mild sedative. The family doctor should be able to calm your fears.

VITAL GLANDS.

L. E. writes: What do the adrenal glands do for us?

REPLY.

Quite a bit. In the absence of an adequate amount of adrenal secretion, the sense of exhaustion becomes extreme. The individual may be unable to carry on.

BANDS WILL SOON BE PLAYING.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Now that our leader and "the Hypnotist" have completed their tryst with the mermaids, everything, apparently, is settled in favor of the British, of course. Any one can read the handwriting on the wall; we are going to go to war and we are going to send another AEF, for in what other way are we going to make good our leader's word about smashing Nazi:sm?

The mighty empire "on which the sun never sets" is just sitting back waiting patiently for the good old U. S. A. to come to her rescue again. Deuced sporting, eh, old thing? We showed the bloody Boche a thing or two; well, pip, pip and cheerio.

Soon the bands will be playing, boys will be marching, marching over, over there. No, there's not much we 80 per cent can do about it. And it is all so useless, this war. G. T. D.

FRANCE'S EMPTY STOMACH.

Oshkosh, Wis., Aug. 15.—When will the American and English governments understand that they are contributing greatly to the moral plight of France and her fateful decisions? The harassing of Marshal Petain's régime by American officials is logic perhaps, but extremely dangerous. The food blockade has served Germany more than the allies. The severance of diplomatic relations between France and the United States will have France absolutely isolated and the easy prey of her internal enemies.

France is bled to death in its present generation and gravely menaced by malnutrition in its future ones. Perhaps she is selling her soul for a mess of pottage, but her stomach is empty and the victor's soup kitchen has its attraction. Misery, hunger, and despair dull the soul and embitter the heart.

MISS RUTH ANN URBAN.

WHENCE THE BILLIONS?

Oak Park, Ill., Aug. 15.—During the recent depression our government seemed to exhaust every effort to feed, clothe, and house her unemployed and distressed people. It was supposed to be a big job. Today resources are available to deal out death and destruction in abundance. Where were all these millions and billions when our people were ill fed, ill clothed, and ill housed? The same government handled the depression job that is now in power. A. Z.

HAPPIEST MAN IN THE WORLD?

Oak Park, Ill., Aug. 18.—A British newspaper man's report of the conference in the Atlantic says:

"The President of the United States is the happiest looking man on earth today. At the conference it was hard to tell which looked happier—the President or Mr. Churchill."

Movies of the President, speaking on the war issue, give me the idea that he fairly smacks his lips about war to police the world to enforce the four freedoms, so-called.

Radio gives the idea that he relishes the prospect of conflict, so bloody.

I hope the British reporter was deceived. I would not like to believe that our President was happy at the prospect of battle, loss of treasure and men. If our President was happy then we have a right to be alarmed. He might, justifiably, have been determined, sad, grave, or nervous. But happy at such a prospect? I hope I am in error. If I am not and the British reporter is correct we are in danger. To have our President happy under such conditions is sinister. If one were an alarmist he might believe that it indicated a tendency somewhat in the direction of sadism. OTTO MCFEELY.

DINING CAR WAITERS.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—You have given much space in your columns to distressed railroad employés. But I have yet to see any reference to a pitiful group of considerable size.

I refer to dining car waiters who receive from 30 to 35 cents an hour and must work 240 hours to get a full month's wage of $75. And no extra pay for overtime. No vacation with or without pay.

Gratuities, when divided between a crew of five or six waiters will amount to no more than $18 to $30 a month on the best runs. When the minimum wage act went into effect the railroads started charging the waiters for their meals to offset the amount of cash increase in pay.

BRANDS US AS SCURRILOUS.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—There never was, there isn't today, a more un-American newspaper in the United States than the present TRIBUNE. Your scurrilous editorial today about President Roosevelt brands you as such and even as being in the service of the murderers and barbarians who run what they call government in Germany. J. H.

HOLDING BACK THE WAR TIDE.

St. Anne, Ill., Aug. 18.—I am convinced that if it had not been for THE TRIBUNE and a very few other newspapers—there is at least one each in Los Angeles and Seattle—and a few leaders like Senator Wheeler, Gen. Wood, and Col. Lindbergh the United States would be in the war now.

The administration enthusiasts tried to tell us last winter that we were in the war already. We hear less of that now. A few months ago anti-war sentiment dared not express itself for fear such expression would be "treason," and by means of radio commentators, newspapers, magazine articles, and movies the administration strove to make it appear as treasonable and un-American to hold views in opposition to those expressed by the President. THE TRIBUNE has accomplished much in dispelling that idea.

DECEASED'S ASSETS.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A man died leaving no obligations. He is survived by two brothers. In his home is found a note reading: "I leave all I own to A" [one of the brothers], and is signed only by deceased.

1. Would this constitute a valid will?
2. In the home is also found insurance policies in the amount of $2,000, and there is a like amount in a safety deposit box.
3. How soon could heir have access to safety deposit box?
4. How long before insurance is paid; heir has no funds and would have to finance funeral?
5. Does undertaker handle on "pay later" basis? K. C.

1. Not unless it is signed by two witnesses. We assume that your question arises under the present statute.
2. Rights would depend on the wordins of the policies.
3. Take the matter up with the officers of the safe deposit company. The first step is to arrange for an inheritance tax examination.
4. Depends on the attitude of the insurance company.
5. The undertaker is the proper source of information as to the terms on which he is willing to act.

Test Your Horse Sense

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 28.

1. Which one of these flowers is called "the poet's darling"?
   Daisy Orchid Honeysuckle Rose.
2. May apples usually ripen in which month?
   May June August September.
3. Kaolin is a variety of what substance?
   Clay Grease Paint Lard.
4. The standard range in pistol shooting is 20 yards 50 yards 70 yards 100 yards.
   0 1 2 3.
6. The weights of various metals are contrasted with the weight of a similar volume of water, which is the unit for comparison. If a metal has a specific gravity of 7.2, then a cupful of that metal weighs as much as 7.2 cups of water. Below are five metals which you are to match with their specific gravities. You deserve one point for each correct judgment.

[a] Lead	[v] Sp. gr. of 19.3, approximately.
[b] Tin	[w] Sp. gr. of 13.5, approximately.
[c] Aluminum	[x] Sp. gr. of 11.4, approximately.

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

CALDWELL TELLS OF FAMILY TRIPS ON UNION MONEY

Max Caldwell, ex-Indiana bootlegger who ruled the Chicago clerks' union for three years, admitted under oath yesterday that members of the union—whose wages averaged less than $20 a week—paid for airplane trips to Florida for his family and friends.

The admission, regarded by the state's attorney's office as a probable basis for criminal action, was made during a hearing before Master in Chancery Daniel A. Covelli. Rank and file members of the union are suing for an accounting of $910,000 wrung from them in dues by Caldwell and eight aids.

His First Appearance.

Yesterday's appearance was Caldwell's first before Master Covelli. He was accompanied by his brother, Michael Pollack, who was secretary of the union, local 1248 of the Retail Clerks' International Protective association, until the member revolt. They were subpenaed last week after they appeared before the grand jury, which also is investigating their affairs.

Records compiled by Assistant State's Attorney William B. Crawford show that the union was billed for $3,706 in fares by one air line in 18 months. Attorney Francis Heisler, representing the clerks, questioned Caldwell about the fares.

"The union paid for the tickets," Caldwell answered. "But, at first, it was just a plan to save them [friends and relatives] 15 per cent on their fares." [It is standard practice of the air lines to offer $500 "blocks" of transportation to large organizations at a 15 per cent discount.]

Union Hoped to Be Repaid.

"The union hoped they would be repaid," Caldwell said, but later admitted knowing of no one who had done this.

Attorney Heisler read a list of persons whose fares had been approved by Caldwell, including his wife, daughter, the child's nurse, and his sister-in-law and brother-in-law.

"Yes, the union paid for their trip to Miami," Caldwell answered, "but no bill was ever presented to them [those who made the trip]. I flew quite a bit, too. Sometimes twice a week."

Caldwell then was questioned about the $45,000 estate that records show he purchased in Miami from Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti, gambling syndicate leader.

Says He Rented House.

Attorney Heisler was allowed to ask the question when he told Master Covelli he would prove the estate was purchased, at least in part, with money taken from the union.

"I just rented the home there for the season," Caldwell answered. "The season is about five or six months a year and I've rented it the last two years. I never bought it."

Caldwell, under further questioning, admitted he never has worked as a clerk. He said he was appointed to his job with the union by C. C. Coulter, international secretary, three years ago.

"My salary was set at $125 a week by the members," he testified. "When I was appointed I didn't know any of the members.

"My duties were organizing unorganized clerks and helping sick clerks to get help."

Can't Remember Names of Clerks.

"Were you doing any organizing when you spent five months' vacation in Miami last year, or two months the year before?" asked Attorney Heisler.

"No, we were well organized by then."

"Name any sick clerks you helped," Heisler suggested.

"I couldn't remember any names," was the reply. "If I had the records, I might know, tho."

Heisler, who has been seeking the records since early June, raised his voice.

"Do you know where the records are?" he added.

Caldwell answered that no, he guessed he didn't, unless the state's attorney's office, the police, or the international officials of the union had taken them. Caldwell failed to mention Michael Savachka, a $37 a week secretary of the union under his régime, who has been missing since early June. Savachka is believed to know the whereabouts of the missing records.

Caldwell, however, volunteered this statement to the court:

"Last week, Coulter sent word that after this is all over, he is going to put me back to work."

SUPREME COURT RULING ASKED TO BAR ELECTION

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 18 (AP).—The Illinois Supreme court was asked today to rule on an attempt to block the 1942 congressional election. The action came in an appeal by State Representative Anthony W. Daly [D., Alton] and others from the Madison county Circuit courts refusal to issue an order which would have permitted the filing of a suit to restrain state and Madison county officials from spending public funds to hold the 1942 primary and election.

The petition charged that the state congressional apportionment law of 1901, under which the 1942 election is to be held, is invalid because of inequality of representation under application of the old law to 1940 population distribution.

Named as defendants in the petition are State Treasurer Warren Wright, State Auditor Arthur C. Lueder, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes, Madison County Clerk Norbert Hotz, Harry T. Hartmann, Madison county treasurer, and James T. Callahan, Madison county auditor.

WITNESS MISSING; U. S. GIVEN DELAY IN TRIAL OF BIOFF

New York, Aug. 18 (AP).—Failure of the government to apprehend a missing witness caused United States Attorney Mathias F. Correa today to ask for a postponement until Sept. 8 of the trial of William Bioff and George E. Browne, officers of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employés [AFL], under indictment on charges of conspiracy to violate the federal anti-racketeering act and to extort $550,000 from motion picture producers by threatening a strike.

Correa informed Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey that United States Attorney A. Woll of the northern district of Illinois had conferred with him and said that efforts were being made to apprehend the witness, Nick Dean, alias Circello and Siriella, in that district where he was last seen.

Henry A. Uterhart, Bioff's lawyer, after the court had postponed the trial until Sept. 8, told reporters that "the government is stalling."

New York, Aug. 18 (AP).—At least five men died and more than 50 were injured today in a raging Brooklyn waterfront fire which swept with accompanying explosions thru the 3,570 ton Cuba Mail Line freighter Panuco, destroying the ship, its $600,000 cargo, and the 875 foot long pier where the vessel was moored.

Unofficial estimates placed the total damage at $1,500,000.

Twelve members of the crew were reported missing tonight by the line. The New York Dock company, owner of the destroyed pier, said its reports indicated that nine persons had been killed.

Fear Others Aboard Ship.

Fire still roared inside the vessel as night fell, and Police Commissioner Lewis A. Valentine expressed fear that the bodies of several other crewmen would be found when the ship cooled off. Firemen said she probably could not be boarded for days.

Four of the dead were taken from the water and the body of the fifth man was seen aboard the Panuco which, cut adrift, was later towed down Buttermilk channel by tugboats, and listed on its port side in the harbor.

Hidden by dense smoke from the view of rescuers three men clung for 30 minutes to a rope cast over the blazing ship's starboard side before they were rescued. Several crew members swam more than 100 yards, just ahead of a flaming film of oil, after they leaped overboard. Police launches and tugs picked up about 28.

Sabotage Quiz Opened.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, the police department's bomb and sabotage squad, and the Kings county district attorney's office investigated the possibility of sabotage, but the dock company said there were "absolutely no indications of sabotage."

Shipping circles discounted reports that munitions were anywhere near the fire.

One witness said the blaze started from a tiny flame that shot up from a stack of baled hemp on the pier near the ship. Two men who rushed up to extinguish it saw the fire spread faster than they could run. They said "it burned like hair."

Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones announced in Washington late today that he had appointed a board to investigate the fire. The board, scheduled to meet here tomorrow, consisted of J. Frank Staley of the justice department, Capt. R. W. Dempwolf of the coast guard, and Capt. George Fried of the bureau of marine inspection.

Adjacent to the destroyed pier, No. 27, was pier 26, which has been used by ships carrying war supplies to the British. A British ship at pier 26 was not damaged.

The 24 year old Panuco, valued at $500,000, with a general cargo including quicksilver, cord, hemp, lead, and copper, arrived yesterday from Mexico. Unloading was under way when the fire started at 10:40 a. m.

On the pier was much of the cargo for the Panuco's return trip—construction materials, steel, wire, paint, and machinery for the American navy base at Guantanamo, Cuba.

MAYOR OF DETROIT SUBURB, 17 INDICTED IN CIVIC CLEANUP

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 18 [Special].—Joseph Lewandowski, former mayor of Hamtramck, and 15 others were indicted today by Judge Homer Ferguson's one man grand jury on charges of obstructing justice by promoting the operation of handbooks, policy houses, and brothels.

Vincent S. Sadlowski, president of the Hamtramck board of education, and Fred R. Pabst, superintendent of public works, both former Hamtramck councilmen, also were indicted on a charge of accepting bribes for their votes in the award of a parking meter contract.

Hamtramck, which has a population of 50,000, is a separate municipality, altho encompassed by Detroit.

The alleged conspiracy occurred during Lewandowski's term as mayor from 1934 to 1936.

TWO DEFENDANTS IN SEX CASES WIN VENUE CHANGES

Dr. Edward W. Applegate and Irwin E. Harder won a change of venue from Judge Justin F. McCarthy yesterday when they were arraigned before him in Felony court. Their petition asserted that Judge McCarthy and 27 more of the 35 judges of the Municipal court are prejudiced against them. Judge McCarthy referred the case to Chief Justice Edward S. Scheffler for reassignment. Applegate, a dentist 60 years old living at 3130 Fullerton avenue, is charged with possessing indecent literature. Harder is charged with contributing to the delinquency of a girl 8 years old. He is a musician, 58, living at 2115 Dayton street.

W. S. DEVEREAUX, HEAD OF CHICAGO FBI OFFICE, QUITS

William S. Devereaux announced his resignation yesterday as head of the Chicago office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Devereaux, who is 30 years old, was appointed to the position almost two years ago when his predecessor, Daniel M. Ladd, was transferred to the Washington, D. C., office. Devereaux said he resigned because he wishes to take a long rest. He is an attorney who has been five years in government service. His home is at 1147 Maple avenue, Evanston. He will be succeeded by A. H. Johnson.

HUNT PAROLEES OF BOYS' SCHOOL AFTER SLAYING

Several Negro parolees of the Illinois Training School for Boys near St. Charles were being sought yesterday, for questioning about the wanton murder of a factory watchman Sunday night.

Capt. Walter McGloon of the Warren avenue police said he turned his search for the murderers of Mitchell Hetman, 45 years old, 2523 Thomas street, to parolees of the school because of the "senselessness and brutality" of the crime. Hetman's hands and feet were bound and he had been beaten and slashed with a knife. His body was found in the office of a furniture factory at 2130 Fulton street, where he worked.

Meanwhile, training school authorities and police of the surrounding area pressed a search for two escaped inmates, Mike Zevkovich, 16, and Tony Yelaska, 18, both of Chicago, and Chicago police lodged charges against another school parolee, James Hathaway, 17, of 2124 North Clark street, who was caught breaking into an automobile.

UNION MAY KEEP BOY SCOUTS FROM FOOTBALL GAMES

Halt Construction of Free Seats at Northwestern.

Northwestern university's plans to permit Boy Scouts to attend football games free brought labor difficulties which threatened for a time yesterday to halt construction of the university's new 5 million dollar Institute of Technology on the Evanston campus. Meanwhile the installation of new lights in the Oak Park village hall was being delayed because of a dispute attributed to the dismissal of a member of Michael Boyle's Electrical Workers' union from the post of village electrical inspector.

The Institute of Technology is nearing completion. Three departments are to be opened there Sept. 15, and the other departments are to move in Feb. 15.

Carpenter Union's Threat.

Five hundred carpenters were at work on the interior yesterday when R. C. Wieboldt & company, which has the general contract, telephoned Arthur F. Klein, construction engineer for the university. The company reported that the carpenters' union had threatened to call a strike unless five of the university's maintenance workers were halted from reassembling the bleachers at Dyche stadium, a mile away.

Since the building must be completed on time, Klein agreed to stop the work on the bleachers.

He said that the workers who were assembling them are nonunion men, but they have been taking down the bleachers and putting them up again for 15 years with no objection from the carpenters' union.

They're Temporary Seats.

Klein explained that the bleachers are temporary seats, installed each year for the Boy Scouts and other organizations which are admitted free. The university, he added, will make no further attempt to complete them.

The Oak Park village hall project was begun about two months ago to provide a committee meeting room for the village council, an office for the village controler, and another for the secretary to Robert McMaster, village president.

The remodeling has been finished for three weeks. The electric wiring has been installed, but no electricians come to install the lighting fixtures.

Persons with business in the building say that the delay is occasioned by the village administration's dismissal of James Quinlan from his $3,400 a year job as village electrical inspector. Quinlan is a member of Boyle's union local, No. 134.

BRIDE SEES HER HUSBAND KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Charles Thompson, 25 years old, married only seven weeks ago, was killed in sight of his bride, Opal, early today at 125th and Halsted streets, Calumet Park. They had been to her home in Mattoon, Ill., and were returning to their home at 6147 Woodlawn avenue, with her sister, Miss Gladys Lawhorn.

In Calumet Park a tire of their car was punctured. Thompson stopped and alighted to investigate. An instant later he was crushed against his car by a machine driven by Theodore Hankus, 18, of 12249 Green street. Mrs. Thompson and her sister, who had remained in their automobile, were shaken up. Police Chief John Pizza held Hankus. Thompson was a crane operator.

Joseph M. Murray, 25 years old, was fatally injured yesterday when his car overturned several times on Skokie highway alongside the Bob-o'-Link Golf club, near Deerfield road. Police believe that the car's accelerator jammed and that Murray was unable to bring the car under control. He died in Highland Park hospital. He was a machinist living at 1140 Highland street, Hammond, Ind. Leonard L. Colgan, 34, of 4937 Pine street, Hammond, was injured.

Alexander Pernod, 74, of 4526 Lake Park avenue, a retired bank vault custodian, died yesterday in his home. He was injured May 7, when, police said, he walked into the side of a moving truck in the loop. His injuries did not appear serious at the time. An inquest will be held to determine whether death resulted from the injuries or from natural causes.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 584 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 409 were killed in Chicago, where 15,446 were injured in the same period.

GETS INJUNCTION TO BAR CAR SALE IN FIGHT FOR SON

Attorney Joseph T. Harrington yesterday obtained an injunction from Judge Philip J. Finnegan restraining George Hartnett and his wife, Elizabeth, of 7942 South Wood street, from disposing of a new automobile and other property.

Harrington is counsel for Mrs. Josephine Glynn, 34 years old, 5711 South Bishop street, who is seeking custody of her son, Martin, 17, from the Hartnetts. Mrs. Glynn charged she placed the boy with the Hartnett family in 1926 and that now they refuse to allow him to return to his mother.

The injunction was issued on Harrington's complaint that the Hartnetts availed themselves of a $5,362 bank account belonging to Mrs. Glynn by stating in Probate court that she was dead. Harrington charged they used the money to buy the automobile and other property.

Boy Electrocuted While Playing in a Gravel Pit

Leo Talmadge, 17 years old, son of Mrs. Curtis Herbert of Oswego, Kendall county, was electrocuted yesterday when he climbed a pole in a gravel pit south of Oswego and came in contact with a power line.

ORDERS 129 GIRLS QUARANTINED AS PARALYSIS CURB

Dr. John J. McShane, chief of the state division of communicable diseases, yesterday instructed Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, head of the Cook County Health service and chairman of a special committee studying methods of controling infantile paralysis, to quarantine 129 girls living in suburbs west of Chicago.

The girls were all sent home from Camp Lone Tree, near Kalamazoo, Mich., after it was discovered that one of the campers, Mary Jean Folz, 10 years old, of 3428 Kenilworth avenue, Berwyn, was stricken with the disease. The girls will be under quarantine in their homes for two weeks.

The camp is operated by the Lone Tree area Girl Scout council of Oak Park. The girls live in Oak Park, Berwyn, Elmwood Park, Bellwood, West Chester, Forest Park, River Forest, Riverside, and Maywood.

Dr. Lawrence A. Berg, health director for Kalamazoo county, said he believed the stricken girl was exposed before she went to the camp last week.

Six new cases of infantile paralysis —Five of them from suburban Cook county and one from Lake county— brought the number of cases of the disease reported in Illinois this year to 96, State Health Director Roland R. Cross reported in Springfield yesterday.

ALD. GILLESPIE TO HEAD COUNCIL TRAFFIC INQUIRY

Ald. Joseph S. Gillespie [29th] yesterday was named chairman of a subcommittee of the council traffic committee which will investigate a proposal to establish a city street traffic board. The board, which was originally proposed by Ald. George D. Kells [28th], traffic committee chairman, would have nine members including police and fire commissioners, traffic engineers, and all city officials interested in traffic problems. The work of the board would be to formulate policies about the handling of traffic problems and to advise the council.

Discover Body of Retired Manufacturer in Garage

The body of Fred C. Zieman, 71 years old, a retired manufacturer of orthopedic supplies, was found yesterday in a garage at the rear of his home, 1408 Sherwin avenue. The doors and windows of the garage were closed and the ignition of the car was turned on, altho the motor was not running. His son, Fred Jr., who found the body, said his father had been suffering from a nervous breakdown. Death apparently was due to carbon monoxide poisoning.

Golfing Has Week's Spotlight at Exmoor and Knollwood

BY JUDITH CASS.

THERE'LL be no rest this week for Chicago's amateur golfing stars and their followers, for the Women's Western Amateur championship and the Great Lakes Amateur championship matches are on at the Exmoor and the Knollwood clubs. Both tournaments started yesterday.

The women stars will be playing thru Saturday at the Exmoor. The Great Lakes championship, under the direction of the Chicago District Golf association, will be determined by Thursday at Knollwood.

Thruout the week, of course, there'll be parties at both clubs for the visiting players. The Knollwood is inviting players in both tournaments to a cocktail party Thursday evening. Later the golfers will join club members for a barbecue dinner, water ballet and diving exhibition, and dance. The Exmoor, in turn, has asked players in the two events to its outdoor dinner-dance on Saturday.

Today's Auld Lang Syne event at the Exmoor wil be a putting contest limited to women who played in the Western before 1925. Mrs. Robert Dutton is in charge of the tea which follows.

Tournament Brought to Exmoor by Mrs. Willard.

The Women's Western was brought to the Exmoor thru one of its members, Mrs. Charles B. Willard, who is president of the Women's Western association. Mrs. John A. Wheeler is general chairman of the event. Miss Betty Jameson of the San Antonio Country club in Texas, is defending champion, and Miss Marion Miley of the Lexington, Ky., Country club was last year's runner-up.

David J. Molloy, president of the Knollwood, is making arrangements for the club's Thursday barbecue. Semi-finals for the club's championship and class championship will be held on Saturday, and the women's championship will be played off next week. Donald S. Hoffman and Mrs. C. Winn Campbell head the two golf committees.

Running a close second in interest this week at the Knollwood will be a Sunday meet which is attracting 100 young swimmers under 15 years. The swimming meet is an annual Knollwood event, but never before has a whole day been given over to the youthful aquatic stars. Strolling minstrels and clowns will entertain the children, who will have luncheon on the club terrace. Their parents will dine on the veranda. Mrs. William J. Mackenzie, Harvey B. Richards, and John Denby Allen are supervising the meet.

Luncheon Being Given for Miss Katharine Lawrence.

Mrs. Emory Wilder is giving a luncheon today at the Dunham Woods club for Miss Katharine Lawrence, whose marriage to Nathaniel H. Blatchford III. will take place on Saturday in St. James' Episcopal church, Dundee. On Thursday John Harold Lawrence will give a luncheon at the Saddle and Cycle club for his daughter's bridesmaids. That evening Miss Lucy Jane Keeler will be hostess at the spinster dinner at the Winnetka Beach club.

Following the rehearsal on Friday, the bride's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Rowe, will give the bridal dinner at the Dunham Woods club. By that time Mr. Blatchford's parents will have arrived from their summer home at Camp Wipigaki in Wisconsin. Also expected for the wedding are the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Hickox, who are coming from their summer place at Harbor Point, Mich.; Mrs. Joseph Barker and her daughter, Anne, of Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. Henry W. Lowe of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. James E. Sankey, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perry, and Mrs. Hay Brown of Springfield, Ill.

Numerous Parties Planned for Miss Jane Harper.

Most of the entertaining for Miss Jane Harper and George W. Overton Jr. will be concentrated in the last week before their marriage on Sept. 1. Mrs. James Edward Day and Mrs. Robert L. Foote will give a kitchen shower on Aug. 28 in the home of Mrs. Day's mother, Mrs. Kenneth F. Burgess. The following day will be a busy one, for Mrs. Graham Aldis' cocktail and swimming party will be followed by the bridal dinner which the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Harper, will give at the Tavern club. Laurence A. Carton is planning a luncheon and Richard Babcock a picnic, but dates haven't been set for these two parties.

The ceremony will take place at 4:30 o'clock in the Harper home in Libertyville, the Rev. James Colletti of Oak Park officiating. A reception will follow in the garden. Miss Harper's only attendant will be 6 year old Ann Sheldon West, daughter of Mrs. Edwin W. Winter II. Mr. Babcock will serve as best man, and ushering will be Mr. Carton, Sherman Gifford of New York, Dudley Zinke of Geneva, and Henry Zeiss and Joseph Harrison of Chicago. Mr. Overton and his bride will reside on the south side.

Many Visitors Are Seen at 'Russo-German War' Lecture.

There were familiar faces on every side at the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations' luncheon meeting yesterday at the Palmer House, at which Walter Duranty spoke on "The Russo-German War." Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, here on a short visit from Washington, D. C., had luncheon with Mrs. Byron S. Harvey. Representative and Mrs. Dewey are staying in Lake Forest with one of their daughters, Mrs. Edward B. Smith, and their other daughter, Mrs. Frederick M. Alger Jr., has come from Detroit for a little family reunion.

Other visitors in the audience that filled the grand ballroom were the junior Walter Miles Harveys of New York. Mrs. Harvey is the former Eleanor Janney. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey were at the council meeting with the latter's mother, Mrs. Cornelius Lynde, and Mr. Lynde, with whom the Harveys are spending the week in Winnetka.

The Texas Hufsaches, who won the national intercircuit championships on Sunday at the Oak Brook Polo club, will meet the Ivory Rangers of Detroit this afternoon at the club in the semi-finals of the national 12 goal championships. Another game on this afternoon's program will be between the Oak Brook Whites, led by Paul Butler, and the Greens, captained by James H. Hannah. The winners of these matches will meet for the championship next Sunday afternoon.

Peacock Camp Board Giving Luncheon Thursday.

Members of the board of the Peacock Camp for Crippled Children and some guests interested in the camp have been invited to luncheon there on Thursday. After luncheon the girls who are in the camp will give a vaudeville entertainment. Mrs. Otto W. Lehmann is chairman of the entertainment committee. Mrs. Howard Emig, Mrs. John Clarkson, and Mrs. Owen West are the board members who have arranged the luncheon.

Lee Oliver, the John H. Olivers' 7 year old daughter, is convalescing from an emergency appendectomy further complicated by peritonitis at the Presbyterian hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver expect that Lee will be able to return home by the end of this week.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

The fall trend is toward darker lipstick tones, and the first of the season's offerings proves that it's a good trend. This one is a royal kind of red, rich and intense and most flattering.

It may be just the middle of August to you, lady, but to the people who create makeups autumn has practically arrived. We know, because the fall lipstick and rouge shades are starting to appear. And very exciting they are, too.

There is, for example, the thrilling new shade of red that has just come to town. It's right in line with the trend, which is very much toward darker tones than those we've been wearing. It's a royal kind of red, with just enough blue to give its vividness a strong and flattering intensity. It has a character that the clear reds lack—and we'll always believe that for nine women out of ten a lipstick more dark than light does the most flattering things for the face.

This is going to be wonderful with the dark clothes we'll all be wearing soon, but don't think for a minute that it isn't good with summer shades. It's gorgeously strong with pure white and with pastels, we discovered, and one woman we know can't wait to get a gray outfit with which she can wear this new shade with tremendous effect.

The lipstick is a good one, smooth in texture and delicately fragrant. And it stays on well. There is rouge to match, either the dry or the cream variety. If cream rouge is your dish, look at this shade in its new lucite container. It's a little jewel, beautifully executed and lovely to look at.

We for one are awfully pleased that this new lipstick isn't expensive. You'll probably be, too.

BY CECIL SMITH.

It is hard to imagine why "The Shepherd of the Hills" has never been turned into a movie until now. The story possesses all the conventional requisites of a technicolor natural—a pictorial background, outdoor scenes with crowds of people, and a cast of characters already so artificial that it makes no difference how many carefully planned color schemes are used to pretty them up.

Since eight million readers are said to know the plot of "The Shepherd of the Hills," it is not necessary to burden you with a detailed synopsis. The central figure of the story is an Ozark hill boy known as Young Matt, who is bound by an oath to kill his father upon sight, whenever the father may happen to return after an absence of 25 years.

Thru a sequence of deeds of surpassing nobility, a stranger named Daniel Howitt finally succeeds in setting things to rights. Daniel Howitt is, of course, Young Matt's father. During the tortuous progress of the story a cultivated looking mountain girl named Sammy Lane has been an interested onlooker, for she loves Young Matt, but she also knows that nothing can come of it while Young Matt persists in his hot headed feuding.

The color photography, to my mind the only talking point the picture has, is excellent, tho at times it tends to employ a monotony of soft browns. There are many beautiful picture postcard shots of the alleged Ozarks, which have transplanted themselves from the central states to the Pacific coast, acquiring huge craggy peaks, limitless panoramic vistas, and quantities of outsize evergreen trees in the process.

In its entirety "The Shepherd of the Hills" achieves a degree of unnaturalness that has seldom been exceeded on the screen. From the hill billy dialect—delivered with scrupulous Hollywood poise, when any one remembers it at all—to the soggy script with its homespun adages and forced pictures of speech, the whole thing is hokum of purest ray serene. Many of the players have been good under other circumstances. The most convincing member of the cast is Marc Lawrence, who portrays a half-wit. He is the only actor whose part allows him to look bewildered about what goes on.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Richard Brueggeman of Hubbard Woods announce the engagement of their daughter, Anne, to Leonard Roscoe Tanner Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tanner of Indian Hill. Miss Brueggeman received her early education in Shaker Heights, O., the former home of her family, and then attended the Hathaway Brown School for Girls and entered Northwestern university two years ago. Mr. Tanner was graduated from the University of Chattanooga, and attended the University of Chicago law school and the University of Kentucky. The wedding will take place early in October.

Safety Shapes Hair Styles for Girl Workers

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

This was the contention of Gene Pesce, president of the Chicago and Illinois Hairdressers' association, yesterday at a preview of "Defense Hairstyles" presented by the association in the Hotel Sherman. Five coiffures, designed as a measure of safety and efficiency for young girls employed in factories, were exhibited.

"The long shoulder-length bob, which most of our young girls are wearing today, is a hazard for girls working in factory assembly lines," Mr. Pesce declared. "The association has designed hairstyles which, we believe, will contribute to their safety."

Practicality and prettiness were the chief assets of the hairstyles. All were versions of the upswept pompadour mode with stress on soft curls and rolls. The hair on each of the models' heads was no longer than from two and a half to three and a half inches.

So that the hairdresses would have a suggestion of the background in which they are supposed to be worn, the models wore special costumes designed for factory work by the National Youth administration.

Miss Aviation, who makes parts in a plane factory, wore a tan and brown gabardine slack suit with aviation insignia on her sleeve. Her coiffure was appropriately streamlined, fixed with an off side pompadour and a forward combing into a bang effect. It was waved into rolls on each side of her head and clustered into soft curls at the back of her head.

Miss Welding, demure in a blue and white denim coverall, closed the gap between practicality and becomingness with a side part pompadour effect and clusters of curls in front. Representing the woodcraft industry was a pretty blonde in a red and yellow denim blouse and trousers. She faced her work with her hair waved off her face on both sides from an off center part.

The girl who sews must not have locks straggling in front of her eyes. This was shown by a pert model in a red, white, and blue Hoover apron. Her coiffure was a decided pompadour framing her face. There was no part and her hair sprayed off the crown of her head into soft curls.

Likewise the girl on the assembly line must be able to face the stag line in the evening. The blonde model, in a becoming pink sharkskin workdress, who was Miss Assembly Line, could certainly have done so. Her hair was cut and waved to a short pompadour effect on the sides and sprayed into soft ringlets at her forehead. Soft curls, which fell from a V-part on the crown of her head, ringed her neck.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 18.—Roddy McDowall, Zanuck's new 12 year old star, has been playing with toy boats in the studio tank, which has been fixed up as a flooded mine for "How Green Was My Valley"—and he's getting advice and interruptions from a United States navy lieutenant commander and a sergeant of marines. The navy man is Director John Ford; the marine, Jack Pennick. . . . That immense salary which the income tax department listed for Ford the other day is just part of his income, for he's a millionaire. . . . "Benjamin Blake" has been retitled "Son of Fury." . . . Odd thing: Altho the sextet from "Lucia" is one of the most popular of all music numbers, it hasn't been recorded by big timers since 1922, when Caruso, Galli-Curci, and Amato were the headliners on a disc. Now it's going to be done by Lily Pons, Irra Pettina, Jussi Bjoerling, and a trio of others. . . . Thomas Mitchell is testing for the rôle of Pablo in "For Whom the Bell Tolls." . . . Darcy McCoy, son of Col. Tim McCoy, is making his movie debut in a bit in "Reap the Wild Wind." He's using the name of Darcy Miller because he's a grandson of the late Henry Miller and a nephew of Gilbert Miller.

Despite his years of screen success, Walter Huston manages to get back on Broadway every so often—but maybe he won't any more. Reason: "You can't run a ranch from New York, and, anyhow, I'm getting shiftless. I plan to enjoy the next few years." Walter is playing the shiftless Thursday Reagan in "Swamp Water," and a fellow rancher, Eugene Pallette, is the sheriff in the same picture. . . . Huston recently turned down an offer in a fan letter. "A widow with 460 acres of good farm land in Illinois said she'd deed it over to me if I'd go back between pictures and sort of manage it for her. But I've got my own place—3,000 acres at Porterville. It's no dude ranch, either. We run 350 head of cattle on it and I'm going to buy more as soon as we can open up new pasture land. I'm trying to learn cowpunching, ride and rope some, and I'm finding out how to repair fences and brand."

Monty Woolley, who finally got to Hollywood when the Warners ran out of other possibilities for "The Man Who Came to Dinner," will stay on. The studio has signed him up for two more pictures. . . . Woolley's getting the rôle he created was a great disappointment to John Barrymore, who wanted it badly. . . . Mark Hellinger's first production at 20th-Fox will be James Thurber's "My Life and Hard Times," which, under the title of "Rise and Shine," will star Jack Oakie and Linda Darnell. . . . Paramount has junked two plans for Veronica Lake—"Blonde Venus" and "China Pass"—and will put her in "This Gun for Hire," which is about a night club gal and a magician. . . . Humphrey Bogart is in every scene of "The Maltese Falcon." . . . Dorothy Lamour's "Aloma of the South Seas" will world première this week in her home town, New Orleans, but she can't attend because she's busy on "Malaya." . . . Judith Anderson's rôles in "King's Row" and "All Thru the Night" are being pushed so she can leave Sept. 20 to play Lady Macbeth in Maurice Evans' next Shakespeare production.

Biog.: Kay Kyser can reminisce faster and longer than John Barrymore can on the "Playmates" set. . . He enjoys what he's doing—movies, radio, or whatever—with naive enthusiasm. . . . He's 35, and his real name is James Kirn Kyser. . . . Constantly on the set, ready to revise lines, is the "Playmates" author, James Kern, one time Yacht club boy. . . . Kyser hates mustaches, won't let his bandsmen wear them—but in the picture he's buried in Santa Claus whiskers. . . . Kay was going to be a druggist, like his father and mother at Rocky Mount, N. C., but he organized a college orchestra, and that was the end of chemistry and prescriptions.

An actor got a hurry call to read a scenario in two hours, then dash to a studio to discuss the leading rôle with studio heads. He skimmed the script, got an idea how the part he was being considered for should be played, joined several hotshots in a conference. The hotshots nodded in agreement with everything he said.

"Go home," they said, "and we'll let you know within an hour." Before the hour was up the actor's agent, who also was in on the thing, phoned and said, "The deal is cold." "But why?" yelped the actor. "I thought I was doing all right."

"Well," said the agent, "I'm not supposed to tell you this because I heard it in confidence. But they said you didn't excite them enough."

INSTALMENT XXXII.
PSYCHO-ANALYSIS.

Kathleen pulled herself out of the soft depths of the chair. Glanced at the clock before she started walking round the ranks of Wilkie's books. Ten minutes to 9. Forty minutes before Toby would call her. Well, if nothing more interesting transpired, she would ask him to come and take her home. They would soon exhaust the topic of the books and then Stokes would begin to make passes at her.

The first thing she came upon was a row of columns on sleight of hand, parlor magic, stage illusion, and card tricks. Far from sinister. Now she veered to Bill Greer's experienced opinion. She took one of the books from the shelf and looked at the old engravings. Wilkie Stokes came and stood beside her.

"You see I have another hobby."

"Yes I do. Do you just read the books or do you practice tricks and magic?"

"I make experiments. Like to try a trick of mental suggestion?"

Kathleen had no fear now. She was in fact relieved to move on to ground so harmless and impersonal.

"Yes, of course I would."

He turned to the table, tore a sheet from note pad and wrote something on the paper. He gave it folded into her hand.

"Don't look at it. Now from the four suits of cards choose two."

"Hearts and spades."

"From hearts and spades choose one."

She hesitated, turned away from his eyes and tried to assure herself she was making a choice without the impulse of his thoughts.

"Hearts," she said finally.

"Good. From the four royalties choose two."

"King and jack.

"That leaves the ace and queen, doesn't it?"

"Yes."

"Now choose one of those."

"The queen."

"Now look at the paper you have in your hand."

She unfolded it and saw with consternation the words scribbled—"queen of hearts."

"It's just a simple trick," he said. "It'll come to you if you think it over. A child could do it. But a child couldn't do this."

He opened a small door in the panel under the clock and took out an unbroken pack of cards. He tore the wrappings from it and took the cards from the carton.

"Now watch."

He tore the pack in two before her eyes.

"But wonderful!" she said.

The import of this, however, did not strike her because his "mental suggestion" trick had given her the opportunity she wanted.

"Let me try a trick on you. Also a kind of mental suggestion."

"By all means. I collect them. I'd be delighted."

"I will say a number of words to you and you will reply back the first word my word makes you think of."

His expression was noncommittal.

"Where does the trick come in?"

"Well, I try to influence your mind and make you say a word I think of."

"Let's begin. It sounds interesting."

She could not produce her written list of words. She must recite them. Any words would do for the indifferent ones. The critical ones were burned in her memory. They sat down facing each other in the deep leather chairs again. Kathleen had a dreadful sensation of birds fluttering round in her stomach. She moistened her lips.

"You mustn't think. You must answer without hesitation."

"I get it. I'm coöperating."

"Smoke," she began.

"Fire," he rapped back at her.

"Wood?"

"Trees."

"Bird?"

"Feather."

"Storm?"

"Rain."

Her pulse quickened, but that was natural. Any one might come back with that.

"Book?"

"Paper."

"Night?"

"Darkness."

The curious half smile which warred with the intelligence in his face hovered about his mouth.

"How am I doing?" he interrupted.

"Very stubborn. A good strong mind of your own, haven't you?"

"I've always thought so. What's to prove you've put something over? Why don't you write it down like I did "

He passed her the pad and pencil. This was a quandary she had not considered. The solution came. She wrote a few words with responses not usually thought of, and passed him the folded paper. Now for it.

"Dinner."

"Collar?"

"White."

"Belt?"

"Neck."

Kathleen felt as if she had been doused with ice water. She faltered perceptibly and went on.

"House?"

"Home."

"Road?"

"Traffic."

"River?"

"Bridge."

"Forest?"

"Body."

She clapped her hand to her mouth to stifle her exclamation of horror. She could go no further. His face was alive with awareness. He looked at the same time amused and sly and watchful and semicrazy. He stared at her thru narrowed eyes for a heavy moment enjoying her emotion, then lay back in his chair with a sigh of pleasure.

Neither was there any fear expressed in his next remark.

"It is good that we now understand each other."

Kathleen's heart felt as if it were turning over. O what a fool I am, she thought, not thinking this thing thru—getting myself alone into this. Her eyes turned to the dim silver face of the clock. It was a minute after half past 9.

Toby didn't fail he, she prayed, don't forget. Don't change your mind. The bell pealed softly on the reading desk telephone. Stokes turned and looked at it obviously wondering whether he should pick it up. Kathleen felt weak with heavenly relief. If nobody answered Toby would be on his way at once with his foot hard down on the gas. And he would break a window if necessary, to get in. God bless him—dear practical Toby.

Stokes raised his eyebrows as the bell continued to ring. He reached out and picked up the instrument. Kathleen heard the clear boyish treble of Toby's voice.

"It's that young protége of yours, Miss Murray. He has something urgent to say to you," Stokes said.

Kathleen pulled herself up and stepped forward, a little shaky at the knees. She took the transmitter into her hand.

"Kathleen speaking, Toby."

Cold heavy hands came to rest loosely on her warm bare throat. A whisper in her ear.

"Whatever he says tell him I'll take you home later—that you are enjoying yourself and all right."

"Kathleen, shall I come and get you?" inquired Toby on the telephone.

"Yes," she answered.

Eight fingers pressed down on her delicate neck, two thumbs on her backbone—fingers as hard as steel. Struggle and they would close.

"I mean I'm having a grand time Toby. I mean I'm all right. Mr. Stokes is bringing me home."

Stylists Lavish Skill on Double Feature Frocks

BY REA SEEGER.

Designers are going double feature in all the smart new daytime dresses. They use two materials, thereby achieving a dull and shiny combination without changing colors. Then they manage the double feature idea in contrast colors or with two blending shades such as tobacco brown and gold or beige with dark beige. Bands are by far the most popular, bands of the dark color against the light or velvet bands on dull crêpe or faille or thin wool or grosgrain ribbon with wool.

Amateurs need not toy with the notion that this trick can be managed with a couple of old frocks in blending shades. Far from it! . . . Sometimes the bands are circular in shape to follow the circular flare of the skirt; repeating bands are used around the center of the bodice and matched exactly in the center of the sleeves. This takes an expert with scissors and an eye for the just right width to make the result smooth and finished.

The most sophisticated affairs are those of faille or bengaline with bands of velvet in the skirt, on the bodice top and in the sleeves. Next are the wool dresses with swishing bands of harmonizing taffeta. Exciting beige dresses are picked up with bands of dark brown velvet, the material of the dress is jersey or soft rabbits' hair wool. Some are velveteen. Pleated skirts are also available, and dresses with long, short, or medium length sleeves are plentiful. Necklines are all high and demure. Such dresses are ideal backgrounds for costumes accessories when worn with fur muff, dramatizing gloves and costume jewelry or the new clips and jewels of precious stones.

Acquire Good Posture by Training Daily for It

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.

Most of you have read how to improve your memory by association. Perhaps you even have taken memory courses. If you don't stand or walk correctly, you can improve your posture and carriage by association, too.

If you resolve to stand or walk in perfect form all day long, the chances are that you will tire and slump back into your old ways. Don't try to be perfect every minute.

Select a certain chair you use frequently. Tell yourself that, whenever you use that chair, you will sit properly. Remember, when you hold yourself in the correct sitting posture, an imaginary marble can be dropped thru the top of your head to the chair in a straight line.

Here's a test to make sure you have the right posture. Raise each knee in turn a few inches from the chair. If you are living up to your resolution, you can manage this without shifting your weight from the bones you sit upon.

Decide you will sit properly at lunch, during dictation, or at some regular daily task.

Choose a street you walk on every day. On that street always hold your head in balance, your hips tucked in behind as you walk. Or pick a door and make it an unvarying rule to walk thru it gracefully. Allot a certain hall as a route for correct carriage.

Stand correctly every morning while waiting for a bus or train or lay down a rule that you will observe correct posture and carriage unconsciously, all the time.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

An acid test for any cook is her cream pie. It it's stiff and starchy tasting, then it's no good. There was too much cornstarch used in the recipe, perhaps, or, what is more likely, the filling wasn't cooked sufficiently. It takes long cooking [20 minutes, at least] to overcome that starchy taste.

The generous use of eggs does a great deal for a cream filling. Two eggs will make a passable cream filling, but three will make a superlative one, other ingredients being in adjustment.

This is my favorite cream pie recipe. The combination of cornstarch and flour as thickening works better than either alone, I think.

Cream Pie.
[9 inches.]
Baked pie shell
2 cups scalded milk
3 tablespoons cornstarch
3 tablespoons flour
⅔ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1½ teaspoons vanilla
¼ cup cream, whipped

Mix flour, cornstarch, sugar and salt, and add a little of the scalded milk. Return to remaining milk in the top of a double boiler, and cook over hot water until thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Cover and cook 15 to 20 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Beat eggs, add a portion of the hot mixture to them and stir vigorously. Turn into the double boiler and stir to blend. Cook and stir for 2 minutes longer. Cool slightly, add vanilla, and chill. Turn into baked pie shell and spread with whipped cream just before serving.

The egg yolks may be baked in the pie and the whites reserved for a meringue to be used in place of the whipped cream topping. Beat egg whites until foamy with a sprinkling of salt. Beat constantly while folding in 6 tablespoons sugar, one tablespoon at a time. Pile meringue on filling and brown in a 350 degree oven.

BANANA CREAM PIE.

Banana cream pie is an old favorite. To make it, use the preceding recipe, but slice a banana over the baked pie crust before adding the filling.

CARAMEL CREAM PIE.

This is a delicious variation. Use 1 cup sugar instead of 2-3 cup. Melt it golden brown in a heavy skillet over moderate heat, stirring constantly. Add hot milk in the recipe, and stir until all lumps are dissolved. Mix cornstarch and flour with cold milk or water before adding, and cook the filling in the top of the double boiler, as usual.

DATE-NUT CREAM PIE.

Add ½ cup chopped dates and ¼ cup chopped nuts to the cream filling. Black walnuts are especially good, altho English walnuts are the more usual choice.

Numerology
By Evelyn Holmes

Aug. 19, 1941.

Universal day—Think of those who are old, very young or dependent because of physical handicaps.

Keywords—Number 8 is a rather contradictory number, being very powerful in its positive terms but very destructive in its negative terms. To get the most out of this number one must be able to handle it or it will handle you. Power, expansion, authority, and material gain are some of the keywords for number 8. It has been called the money number, but it is a mistake to think of it as bringing material wealth unless all the other conditions are lived up to and the obligations it requires fulfilled. One never gets anything worthwhile for nothing. To reap one must sow, so when this harvest number is present don't expect it to give you what you haven't earned. Beware of egotism, tyranny, and greed in association with this number. It's greatest significance is JUSTICE.

Smart Designs for School

SCHOOL AND COLLEGE CLOTHES.

These two fashions are both practical and smart for classroom wear. In woolen or crêpe, they're distinguished and in excellent taste. The model at the right also is a good candidate for business wear.

Style No. 2549 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 2¾ yards of 39 inch material for jumper; 2¼ yards for blouse.

Style No. 3212 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measurements. Size 16 requires 3⅝ yards of 39 inch material.

Each pattern costs ten cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly. The summer pattern book costs 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

It is an accepted principle that doubles at duplicate bridge should be very "close." If the two trick safety margin principle that applies to rubber bridge is followed, the match-point score is sure to suffer. But the fact that one partner is likely to double close and the other partner, with the same "one trick set" idea in mind, is likely to leave in the double on little more than a hope, necessarily leads to a vicious cycle. There must be some manner of safety in all doubles, and this can be obtained only if the partners treat doubles in a highly coöperative manner.

The bidding was typical of the battles for part score that must be waged at duplicate. North was under no illusion that South had a good hand after the latter had passed over East's three diamond bid, on the next round had merely corrected the three heart bid into three spades, and finally had taken no action over East's four diamond bid. Yet, North's honor strength was impressive enough to justify the feeling that the opponents could not make 10 tricks, hence the double.

Too many players, I fear, in South's position would be irresistibly tempted to leave in the double simply on the potential strength of the singleton heart. This particular South took a different view of the matter. He, too, thought that the singleton heart might lead to ruffs which would defeat the four diamond contract, but he was not sure enough to leave in a double with a virtually worthless hand. Even if North had the heart ace, there was no assurance that he would open it and continue the suit in the face of South's 3 spot. South could not hope to get on lead before his trumps were exhausted and, therefore, would not be able to lead the heart in order to suggest a singleton.

Admittedly, against a different distribution in the opponents' hands South's decision to take out North's double might have been costly. It would be possible to set up hundreds of hands in which four diamonds could be defeated one trick, and four spades the same amount. But on this occasion, at least, South was right. Four diamonds would have been cold, whereas four spades went down only 100 points, for an excellent match-point score.

WEDDING

Miss Helen Elizabeth Mayer and Lieut. Cecil Calvert Snoddy Jr., who were planning to be married in September, were married on Aug. 5 instead because Lieut. Snoddy was transferred from Camp Polk, La., to the Armored Force school at Fort Knox, Ky. Only the families were present. The Rev. Millard Stiles officiated. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Si Mayer of Chicago and Lake Forest, is a fifth generation Chicagoan, being a great-grandniece of August Pfaff, one of the founders of the Germania club. Lieut. Snoddy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Snoddy of Douglas, Ariz. He and his bride will make their home in a quaint 100 year old house 20 miles from Fort Knox.

The Teen Age Patriots Will Like This Book

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

I feel that "The Patriotic Anthology," as it is very simply called, is quite a treasure. Also, in these times, when the fate of democracy and of America is in all our minds, when we are thinking and feeling about our country as we never have before, I believe this book will do something for us that we need. As we read page after page of the familiar, as well as unfamiliar, quotations, the book restores, rather than destroys, our faith in America's destiny. There is an interesting and illuminating introduction by Carl Van Doren.

"The Patriotic Anthology" consists of poems, familiar and unfamiliar; of phrases by forgotten men and women; of great words by remembered Americans; of fragments of historic documents, and of both old and modern writing.

The book probably will be in all the libraries, but if you're a book buyer you may want to own it. It seems to me to be a book that teachers might well make use of in a serious way, choosing the most outstanding pieces for discussion and for memorizing. The most familiar quotations might be worked into a sort of game.

I don't know about you, but I would be quite up a tree if I were asked to give the authors of these, which I found I had forgotten or not known:

"Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free." Did you know that is the inscription on the Statue of Liberty, written by Emma Lazarus?

"This nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom." Lincoln said that in his Gettysburg address.

I had even [have you?] forgotten the name of the young poet who wrote of the first World war [which some of us were so sure should be the last] those unutterably tragic and touching words:

"If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, tho poppies grow in Flanders fields."

This is part of a poem by John McCrae.

Other well known sayings whose authors most young people will know are:

The breaking waves dashed high,
On a stern and rockbound coast.

Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute.

We have met the enemy and they are ours.

First in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen.

"The Patriotic Anthology" is published by Doubleday Doran, Garden City, Long Island, N. Y., price $3.

Sally Promises Next Party Will Be Laughmaker

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

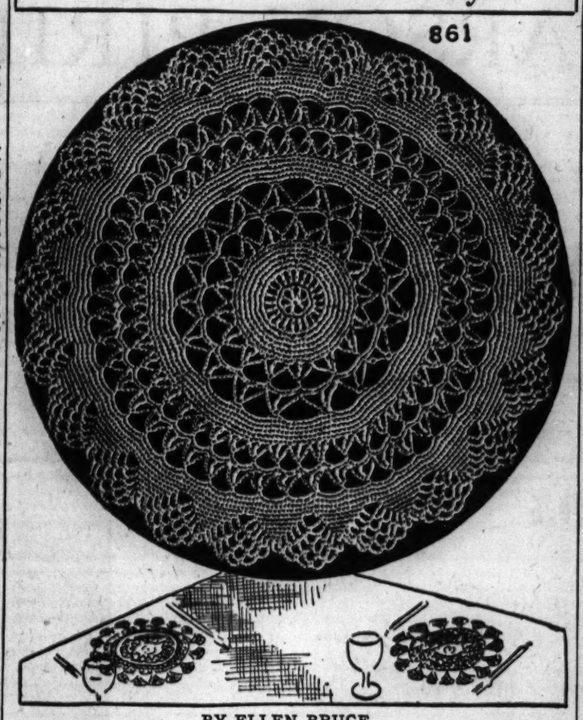
[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

All the boys and girls who win invitations to "Charley's Aunt" will have a good laugh when they see Jack Benny playing cricket and speaking with an English accent. The game is just the beginning of his troubles, though, because he's in hot water for almost every minute of the picture. Two of his friends force him to dress up like an old woman, and while he doesn't enjoy it, it's certainly funny to watch.

One hundred boys and girls will have an opportunity to see this movie, now playing at the Chicago theater, when they win invitations to our party on Aug. 28. I'd like to take every child who wants to come, but that's impossible. We'll select 50 boys and 50 girls to be my guests. If you would like to be included in this group, it's up to you to convince me that you are really sincere and eager to come. Write a letter, telling why you'd like an invitation to this party, and be sure to include your name, address, and age. See that it reaches me by next Thursday morning, and I'll see what I can do for you! Be sure to write it all by yourself, and please don't ask for invitations for your chums. Tell them to send in their own requests.

Thursday is only two days off. Don't delay if you haven't written your letter. The names of the winners will be printed in my column next Sunday—so don't forget that letter to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Crocheted Circular Doily



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

This unusual, crocheted, circular doily was created especially for use under salad plates at bridge luncheons. It is lacey and open work, composed of wheel and cluster designs which lend themselves successfully to lovely crystal plates. Mercerized crochet cotton is suggested for the formal type of doily, while carpet warp may be successfully used when doilies are to be employed under fiesta ware.

For instructions in crocheting the circular doily of cluster and wheel design, No. 861, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth ave., New York City.

Disney Studio Is Closed; 1,000 Employes Dismissed

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 18 (AP).—The Walt Disney movie studio was shut down today and 1,000 employés were dismissed. Herbert Sorrell, acting business agent for the screen cartoon guild, said he hoped the shutdown was in good faith and an economic necessity, as the studio claimed, "for if it isn't we'll have to start the picket lines and the boycott." The screen cartoon guild had only recently returned from a strike when 250 workers were dismissed. The studio said there was a lack of market for Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck. The union charged the company discriminated in selecting the 250 to be dismissed.

ANTOINETTE DONNELLY REPLIES

If you have a beauty problem on which you need advice, write to Antoinette Donnelly in care of the Chicago Tribune-Tribune Tower, Chicago, Ill. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your question.

Blackhead Treatment.

Irma: Keep your skin free of blackheads by first using a cleansing cream or oil to soften the dirt, then using a complexion brush, wash with warm water and soap, and rinse with cold water.

Coiffure for Glasses.

Patricia: As you wear glasses you should style your coiffure with softness. The softness of waves or curls offsets the staidness of glasses.

Approval Given Dudley Powers as Park Soloist

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Dudley Powers, cellist of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, appeared as soloist with that organization at Grant park last night under Hans Lange's direction. In Böellmann's Symphonic variations, and in the Massenet Elegy which followed, he proved the excellence of his present equipment and also gave hints of the distinction which will be his when he comes to exploit this equipment fully.

Mr. Powers played with a round, rich tone and with an easy fluency. Certainly the time has come now when he can safely give his imagination freer rein and thereby add greatly to the impact of his solo performances. His technical sureness will be guaranty that the effects which he evolves will come off properly, and the purity of his taste and his long discipline as a musician will prevent his imagination ever running wild.

A high point of the evening was Lange's performance of the Haydn B Flat symphony [No. 8 in the B. & H. numbering], especially of its second movement. Phrases seemed to fall of themselves into their lovely shapes, yet the hand of the conductor could always be felt in the beauty of detail which filled these phrases.

The program held also Beethoven's "Prometheus" overture and Seventh symphony, and Wagner's Siegfried idyl.

Suitor Should Be Gallant as Romance Ends

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

Young people are bound to go thru a certain number of trial and error romances before they find their true mates. It is good experience. It gives them a better understanding of the opposite sex.

When a passing romance ends the courteous boy or girl will make the break graciously, with the minimum of pain and humiliation to the ex-sweetheart. From the letters we receive, boys are guilty more often than girls of unkind behavior to a waning interest.

Probably this is due to the fact that men have the initiative in love. A boy can usually go out and get another girl more easily. A boy can compete with a favored successor without shame.

The girl has a more vulnerable rôle. The manly boy will make it as easy for her as he can. Even tho he is dazzled by a new belle, he still will be polite and friendly to last season's flirtation.

We heard of a boy who let a young girl walk two miles home from a party at his house at 12 o'clock at night. He had always taken her home before, but now he was interested in some one else. He cared nothing for the young girl's safety or her fears. This was unpardonable. He should have escorted both girls home even tho he left his new girl last. If his favorite were at all discerning she would have admired him all the more.

If the romance is serious the young man should honestly confess his change of heart. A really chivalrous man will make his exit gracefully by introducing a new man to the girl.

8,000 MORE ALL-STAR SEATS GO ON SALE TODAY

OUR SOX TAKE ON THOSE A'S IN 2 GAMES TODAY

Mack's Boys to See Hot Pitching.

The Cubs lost a double header to the Giants in New York yesterday, 6 to 4 and 7 to 1. Story on page 21.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Philadelphia Athletics, who so cruelly supplanted the White Sox in fourth place on July 31, are in town and today will play a double header with the now second place Chicagoans. The Athletics have been having their troubles since they kicked the Sox out of the first division, and have dropped to sixth place, 9½ games behind the Sox, in the brief time since the Sox departed Philadelphia on the last night of July.

Thornton Lee.

Sox Respect the A's.

The Sox still must respect the A's, however, for they boast a record of 10 victories in 16 meetings with the Sox this year. They have been thorns in the side of the Sox for years, including last season, when they were American league tailenders.

Connie Mack's boys will see some hot pitching, on the basis of last performances. Thornton Lee, who beat the Tigers 3 to 1 in the first game of a double header last Thursday, will pitch one of the games and Johnny Humphries, who won, 3 to 0, the same afternoon, for his first Sox victory, may get the other assignment, the Manager Dykes figures he may go with Buck Ross.

Red Sox Come Next.

Phil Marchildon and Lester McCrabb will pitch for the A's and have been bothersome to the Sox. This is especially true of Marchildon, the Eddie Smith beat him, 1 to 0, in the one game salvaged by the Sox the last time they were in Philadelphia.

The A's also will play a single game tomorrow, then will move on to make way for the Boston Red Sox, another team that has been not too respectful of White Sox prowess this season. The Yankees will follow the Red Sox, their visit including a double-header next Sunday.

Indians Lose Before 72,000 Empty Seats

Cleveland, O., Aug. 18 (AP).—Playing before 72,000 empty seats in Municipal stadium, the Washington Senators defeated Cleveland's skidding Indians tonight, 4 to 2. Only 8,365 fans were on hand to watch Steve Sundra stop the Redskins on seven hits for their 13th setback in the last 14 games.

A couple of injured Cleveland Indian infielders learned today they might be out of action the rest of the season.

Hal Trosky, currently hitting .294, went on the shelf for several weeks as Dr. E. B. Castle, club physician, found the first baseman received a double fracture of the left thumb in his collision with Ted Lyons in the first game of yesterday's double header in Chicago.

Shortstop Lou Boudreau, generally regarded as the Tribe's sparkplug altho he is batting only .256, has a possible incisional hernia—a rupture of an incision for the appendectomy he underwent last fall. He strained his side in the seventh inning of yesterday's opener in Chicago.

LIFE WITH MARVA LIKE 'O DADDY' SONG—JOE LOUIS

Bought Her Bracelets and Everything.

The opening hearing on the divorce bill of the former Marva Trotter against Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis unrolled yesterday before Master in Chancery Dwight S. Bobb like the words to the currently popular song—"O, Daddy."

The champion testified that he had bought Mrs. Louis an automobile each year, diamond rings and bracelets, and everything. Mrs. Louis admitted she received about $15,000 annually from Joe, not including the $100 a week he gave her until they were separated in April.

Joe Averages $56,000.

Joe was questioned for two hours before the meeting was adjourned until 1 o'clock this afternoon. Louis said that his annual income for the last seven years was $56,000 after expenses and income taxes had been deducted.

These financial details came out as Joe testified in a hearing on how much temporary alimony Mrs. Louis should get until her divorce suit is tried in Circuit court. She filed the action July 2, charging cruelty. Judge Michael Feinberg on Aug. 1 granted her an allowance of $200 a week pending a recommendation by Bobb as to alimony.

Bills! Bills! Bills!

Louis added that he and Marva had argued from time to time for more than five years—just like most married couples—over the bills she ran up. He said he told her repeatedly that he couldn't afford to pay $4,000 a year clothing bills.

At one point in the questioning of Mrs. Louis, Joe reproached his lawyer for being too severe with her. A little later, before answering a question, Mrs. Louis wept. Joe dabbed his eyes, then abruptly left the room for a stroll in the corridor. In the corridor Louis refused to reply to questions about a reconciliation. However, his manager, John Roxborough, said Louis refuses to consider a reconciliation because, quoting Louis: "Marva is suing me for divorce and that means she doesn't want me."

Was America Born in You?

Some folks were born in nearby Canada,
And some on a far foreign strand;
In England, or Sweden, or Germany;
In Greece, or in old Ireland.
But YOU got your start in the U. S. A.
And under its freedom you grew;
You say you were born in America;
Was America born in YOU?

Men will not question how you were born,
If your people were wealthy or poor,
Whether they suffered the world's stinging scorn,
Or basked in its favor secure.
They will ask instead that YOU in your day
To your God and Country be true;
You're proud you were born in America;
Was America born in YOU!

Her sons must make honor and justice supreme
If this nation in peace shall endure,
The blessing of freedom is not just a dream,
But a prize blood was shed to procure.
Then pray God that war shall not tear us apart,
Help your land peaceful aims to pursue.
By these tokens you'll show how deep in your heart
Was America born in YOU!

HOERNER FIRST IN GREAT LAKES GOLF WITH 68

Wilford Wehrle Second at Knollwood with 69.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Jack Hoerner, an affable young giant of a business man who tends to his knitting with little time for the kind of golf he can play, yesterday took a day off. And in that day he won the qualifying medal in the inaugural Great Lakes Amateur tournament with a sharp 68, five under par, for a Knollwood club course in which the wind became an interesting factor along about noon.

That breeze and Knollwood's excellently conditioned course combined to stand off all in the field except Hoerner and three other young men, the only members of one of the best fairway regiments ever assembled in these parts able to break the north side club's par of 36—37—73.

Wehrle Next with 69.

Mr. Hoerner, who, incidentally, was second in the local qualifying rounds for the National Amateur last Thursday, doubtless always will treasure four holes on Knollwood's back nine. In that span, he clicked off four birds, not to mention another at the 16th, the one that was to give him the medal by a stroke over able Wilford Wehrle of Tam o' Shanter.

Wehrle, a national semi-finalist last year and a former Western champion, was second in the medal play running with a 69 that included an eagle on a par five hole, which was not helped by a double bogey on a par four effort.

Tied at 72 were John Lehman of Olympia Fields, another one time Western champion; Art Doering of Medinah and Corporal Bob Babbish, still another former Western winner, who is now stationed at nearby Fort Sheridan. Matching par of 73 were two of the veterans of the field—Art Sweet of Tam o' Shanter and Ted Payseur of Kildeer, the Northwestern golf coach who has helped to make the national intercollegiate one of the truly great events of the game. Tied with Art and Ted were Ray Billows, a National Amateur finalist in two of the last four years; John Barnum of Elmhurst, the Mexican Amateur titleholder, and Art Hoff of La Grange.

Bud Ward Shoots 74.

The 74 bracket included Marvin [Bud] Ward of Spokane, Wash., National champion in 1939 and winner of the Western these last two years, and Frank Stranahan, the muscular 18 year old from Toledo, O., who won this year's Trans-Mississippi. Earl Stewart of Dallas, Tex., who made a one man show out of the National Intercollegiate in June, had a 75, result of a back nine of 40 in which a spell of bogies resulted from overshot greens.

Ward, out in 34, two under par, three-putted the 12th and 13th and struck a trap on the 18th. Doering, National semi-finalist in 1939 and Trans-Mississippi victor last season, duplicated Babbish's pair of 36s for his 72.

The match play struggle will open today with two 18 hole bouts, to be followed by two more of the same tomorrow. Thursday's championship

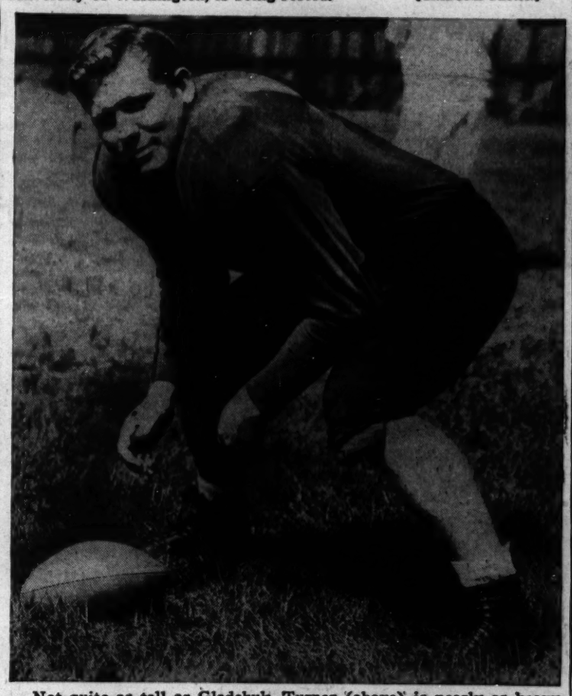
492 Pounds of Center

When Chet Gladchuk and Bulldog Turner swing into action at the center positions in the College All-Stars and Chicago Bears' game in Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 28 the crowd will see 492 pounds of pivot men. Gladchuk (above), star of Boston college's Sugar bowl champions of last year, towers 6 feet 4¾ inches tall and weighs 252 pounds. He will do a lot of the work when Rudy Mucha, starting center from the University of Washington, is being rested. [TRIBUNE Photos.]



Not quite as tall as Gladchuk, Turner (above) is nearly as heavy. The Bears' freshman sensation of last year is 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 240 pounds. Turner was starting center for the All-Stars last year and went on from there to become one of the main cogs in the Bears' great championship machine.

Bears Battle That Kenosha Team Tonight

BY EDWARD PRELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Delafield, Wis., Aug. 18.—The Chicago Bears are going to get some lumps tomorrow night and they are beginning to look back on the first week spent in training camp here a bit wistfully. They know that from now on the gauze, liniment, and tape department will do a rushing business.

Tomorrow's affair is in Kenosha where Johnny Blood, the nomadic professional football veteran, has assembled a team which actually has the National league champions' brain-trust a bit worried. The fact that Johnny, who gave most of his good years to the Green Bay Packers, will start at quarter back, doesn't ease their mental burden one bit.

It would be something, now, wouldn't it, if the team which on Aug. 28 meets the College All-Stars on Chicago's lake front, would be outpointed tomorrow in Kenosha's new lake front stadium. From another angle, tho this game should give the Bears an edge over the collegians as it will provide them with valuable game experience, something the All-Stars won't get until they rush out into floodlighted Soldiers' field on the night of the big game.

Bears Will Be Scouted.

Owner-Coach George Halas and his staff are sure All-Star Coach Carl Snavely and his corps of assistants will be in Kenosha with full scouting equipment. It is hardly to be expected that the Bears will tip their hands in any way.

If they did it probably wouldn't matter much. A veteran college coach also watched the Bears work out twice last week and offered this suggestion:

"Why don't you invite Snavely and the other coaches up here to watch you? What they'd see would only confuse them."

Additional physical ailments turned up in the wake of Sunday's first scrimmage as the professional cham-

ADDED SECTIONS PERMIT 93,000 TO SEE CONTEST

Regular Locations Are Sold Out.

BY ARCH WARD.

The eighth annual All-Star football game is a sellout. The last of the permanent seats in vast Soldiers' field was sold yesterday.

If you are among the thousands who have waited until today to get a ticket for the game between the Chicago Bears and the College All-Americans, you still have a chance, however.

Anticipating the unprecedented demand, the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., sponsor of football's biggest show, installed 8,000 additional seats on the rim of the stadium. They start at the south end of the colonnades on the east side of the field and run across the horseshoe at the south end of the stadium to the colonnades on the west side.

Tickets on Sale This Morning.

All 8,000 tickets will be placed on sale this morning at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn and in Tribune Tower. There are 2,500 at $2.20 and the rest are priced at $1.10. All are reserved. The $2.20 seats are directly behind those at that price in the regular stands. The added height of the newly installed locations will appeal to fans who enjoy studying the teams' formations in the making. The most desirable seats in any stadium are in the top rows.

There will be no opportunity to purchase a ticket after the new allotment of 8,000 is exhausted. No standing room will be sold.

This is the first time the All-Star game has sold out in advance. There was a capacity crowd of 85,000 in attendance last year, but more than 14,000 tickets were sold the day of the contest.

93,000 Will See Game.

This year's throng of 93,000 will include fans from more than 30 states. Orders have come from California, New York, Louisiana, Texas and Georgia. There have been more than 300 requests for newspaper reservations. Journals in such widely separated cities as Boston, San Francisco, New York, New Orleans and Washington, D. C., will have staff representatives. The game will be broadcast over the Mutual network and the Blue network of NBC.

Ticket officials estimate that almost 30,000 of the 93,000 who will see the game will be from outside the metropolitan area. More than 500 seats will be occupied by Detroit fans. Minneapolis is sending 250. One party of 125 is coming from Toledo. More than 100 tickets have been sold in Washington, D. C.

Loop hotels expect to be filled the night of the game and some will be at capacity the night before the contest.

ALL-STARS SPEED UP

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The All-Star football men resumed double drills yesterday at Dyche stadium after a half holiday with an extra dash of enthusiasm. The verdict of the coaches was that the squad showed its greatest improvement for any one day. This encouraging progress was tempered by knowledge that in all probability Marion Pugh, Texas Aggies quarter back, will not be able to play against the Bears Aug. 28.

Pugh injured his right elbow in scrimmage Saturday afternoon and the subsequent swelling proved it was more serious than first thought. Pugh's arm is bandaged from wrist to shoulder.

Some Minor Injuries.

Those with minor injuries, who did not drill yesterday, include Marshall Shires, Tennessee tackle, out with a knee injury; Bill McMahon, Rockhurst college guard, bruised left hip, and Dave Allerdice, Princeton university half back, who has practically recovered from a knee injury. Jack Robinson, UCLA half back, was excused from the morning drill yesterday. Recurrence of a foot injury was responsible.

For the next few days the All-Stars will bear down both in the lecture room and on the field. Tomorrow, because of the noon luncheon when the players will be guests of the Chicago Interfraternity club, the coaches have ordered the initial night practice. Tonight several of the coaches and All-Star quarter backs will attend the Bears' exhibition game in Kenosha, Wis.

George Halas of the Bears and Carl Snavely, head coach of the All-Stars, and their assistants will meet tomorrow afternoon immediately after the luncheon to discuss the rules under which the eighth annual charity game will be played. The college squad will attend the White Sox-Philadelphia Athletics baseball game after the luncheon tomorrow.

Fight Decisions

APPRENTICE GETS HOME ON $688.60 DAILY DOUBLE

Wielander Wins on Aunt Pet and Reigh Dear.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Eddie Wielander, a 17 year old apprentice from Cicero, who rode the first winner of his career last Friday at Washington Park, came right back yesterday with both ends of a $688.60 daily double. He brought in Aunt Pet at 45 to 1 odds in the first race and followed up with Reigh Dear, at 7 to 1, in the second.

Eddie Wielander.

For a few moments in the next race it seemed as tho he might make it three in a row by landing Redrock Canyon home on top, but the leader, Birdlea, kept on running so resolutely that Wielander's mount couldn't make it, and the youngster had to be content with second place.

Selden Holds His Contract.

Wielander, who is a thin-faced, serious-looking little fellow, has been working his way up from a stable-hand for the last three years. After learning to handle horses as an exercise boy, he began race riding this season. Roy Selden, California trainer who has been campaigning a stable of horses on Chicago area tracks, holds Wielander's contract.

In both of his victories yesterday, Wielander got his horses home with comfortable margins to spare. He sent Aunt Pet up swiftly in the early stages of the six furlong first race, caught Miss Carmen, another 45 to 1 shot, in midstretch, and went on to win by a length and a half. With Reigh Dear, he got out in front during the sprint for the first turn and kept her there all the way to win by a length and a half over Ten Blow.

Handles Mounts Like Veteran.

With the track muddy from overnight rains, it took good handling to hold the horses together on the turns and keep them running while tiring in the stretch, but Wielander turned the trick like a veteran.

Whirlaway Due Today.

Clarence Davison's Delray won the Top Row purse, a mile run out of the chute, which was the main event on yesterday's program.

After letting Wire Tapper go out to a five length lead during the run down the back stretch, Delray, Happy Home, and Ferocity moved up together on the turn. As Wire Tapper tired soon after the stretch run began Delray took the lead and held Happy Home and Ferocity at a safe distance in the final drive. The winner's margin over Happy Home was two and a half lengths.

Delray's mutuel payoff was $7.20, $4.20 and $3.

The Calumet farm's Whirlaway is due to arrive today to continue his canter toward the 3 year old championship. He is expected to go to the post at approximately 1 to 5 odds in the American Derby next Saturday. Following his easy victory in the Travers Saturday at Saratoga, he has only to get by the American Derby at Washington Park and the Lawrence Realization at Belmont to hold the undisputed title despite his defeat by Attention in the Arlington Classic.

R. W. McIlvain's Bushwhacker, John Marsch's To a Tee and Millsdale stable's Kansas are continuing to train for their engagements in the American Derby.

POLOISTS OPEN TITLE SEMI-FINAL BATTLES TODAY

Finalists in the national 12 goal polo tourney will be determined this afternoon on two Oak Brook fields at York road and 22d street. Paired in the first semi-final are the Huisaches of Houston, Tex., who won the national intercircuit championship Sunday, and the Ivory Rangers of Detroit, their victims in that 15 to 7 encounter. This game is scheduled for 3 p. m.

The Oak Brook Whites, captained by Paul Butler, then will meet the Oak Brook Greens led by Jim Hannah.

Both of the Oak Brook entries have strengthened their lineups. Butler has drafted Dan Peacock to team up with his regular mates, Harry Owen Jr., and Chuck Asberg for the Whites. Hannah has landed Dave Wilhelm, captain of the Yale university four that captured the national intercollegiate championship last May, along with Hobart [Cowboy] Reed, former United States army lieutenant, and Billy Mayer, Northwestern university sophomore.

THE GUMPS—IT'S NOT THE HEAT

Giants Defeat Cubs in Two Games, 6-4, 7-1

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The Cubs, who have a habit of developing a panicky streak whenever they see a Giant uniform, went into a double collapse today on the Polo Grounds. Claude Passeau was an unsuccessful conductor of the Chicagoans' interests in the opening act of a double-header, and after the Cubs' right-handed ace had been spanked for the tenth time, Larry [Lefty] French suffered his 14th setback of the season. The scores were 6 to 4 and 7 to 1.

It isn't new for the Cubs, as they wander from place to place, to meet up with men who formerly were fellow workers. Today proved like most other occasions in such respect. Passeau had a lead over Hal Schumacher until the sixth inning when Alumnus Bill Jurges singled with the bases loaded to provide the decisive wallop. And in the second game Gabby Hartnett turned up. He singled to aid in a three run fifth inning splurge. He singled again in the seventh along with a homer by Jurges to give French another three run setback and assure an easy victory for Cliff [Lefty] Melton, who yielded only four hits.

FIRST GAME

The Giants stepped out snappily against Passeau in the opening inning, getting a two run edge on a single by Rucker, a pass to Ott, and a single by Danning. Cavarretta's No. 4 homer to right retrieved one of these runs at the start of the second. The next offensive endeavor involved Hack and Stringer in the third. The former singled and romped to the plate when Stringer deposited his season's fifth homer in the left field second story. This achievement put Schumacher in arrears, 3 to 2, and he dropped behind by another run in the sixth on a pass to Cavarretta. Nicholson's out, Dahlgren's scratch single, and McCullough's fly.

The Giants' profitable sixth developed complications for Passeau when Ott walked with none out. Young singled off the right field wall, Ott going to third. Danning, who drove in the first inning runs, doubled to left, Ott scoring. Moore was considered more dangerous than Jurges, so purposely was passed, but Jurges showed his resentment by singling on the first pitch, Young and Danning scoring. In the seventh Rucker doubled and Ott singled for the last Giant run.

SECOND GAME

Melton was slightly wild in the first inning, so the Cubs captured a run on one hit. Hudson walked, Stringer singled, and Galan walked, filling the bases with none out. This was a promising situation for a moment, but there were no developments except Hudson's crossing of the plate on Leiber's fly to Rucker. Arnovich whittled the one run lead into a tie with his season's No. 2 homer into the right field seats in the second.

Rucker singled to left with one out in the fifth and that's where the tie began to dissolve. French, in trying not to give Ott anything worthy of a swing, inadvertently hit him on the right shoulder. Galan almost ran out of the park to catch Young's fly, whereupon Hartnett singled to score Rucker and put Ott on third. Ott and Hartnett counted on Arnovich's triple off the right field concrete. The next piece of Giant scoring came in the seventh when Young exploded his 17th homer to right after which Hartnett singled again and Jurges sailed homer No. 4 into the left field upper deck.

EAVES VS. HUBBELL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 18.—The Cubs don't have to go back to work again until the lights are turned on in the Polo Grounds tomorrow night. Vallie Eaves, who lost a five hitter to the Reds Friday, will make his second start as a Cub. The Giants will counter with Carl Hubbell, the noted lefty.

The Cubs have nothing to do in their own league Wednesday so the 24 hour vacation will be devoted to snaring a few spare dimes in a night exhibition at Lancaster, Pa. They won't return from that little job until Thursday morning, the same day they open a three game series with the Dodgers.

Bill Nicholson, who was benched for yesterday's second game at Cincinnati after going 24 times without a hit, was back in action today and broke his streak by singling in the second inning of the first battle.

SIGN FOR BOUT TODAY.

New York, Aug. 18 [Special].—Gus Lesnevich of Cliffside, N. J., and Tami Mauriello of the Bronx will visit the state athletic commission offices tomorrow to sign articles for their light heavyweight championship bout Aug. 26 in Madison Square Garden.

Hungry Bass Provide Thrill for Fisherman

BY BOB BECKER.

The large mouthed black bass that live in the Mississippi river lakes and sloughs are not suffering from the summer doldrums or any lack of pep. After spending a couple of days throwing fly rod lures at these fish we're convinced that they are about the liveliest race of bass we've ever seen, if not slightly crazy because they behave like no other large mouths we've ever seen.

We threw our fly rod lures at the river bass above Prairie du Chien, Wis., the country that amazed us last August because of the number of fish that we saw and caught from the narrow timber fringed sloughs, small lakes fragrant with flowering lotus beds, and winding bayous. This year we saw more bass than we did last season so these Mississippi river bottomlands, junglelike and confusing with their scores of channels and numerous small lakes, still have us a little flabbergasted. It just doesn't seem possible that any stretch of water can produce so many fish—many of which are ready to take a shot at a line.

New Type of Fishing.

At this time of the year the Mississippi river sloughs and bayous offer what was to us a new type of fishing. For lack of a more descriptive name for it we called it "bass fishing, pea soup style." The water now is rather low and on many of the small lakes and ponds back from the river the surface is covered by a green blanket of duck weed. In some narrow sloughs we found the tiny floating plants [a quarter of an inch and less in diameter] forming a solid mass from one bank to another.

Beneath this green aquatic "roof" may be a couple of feet of clear, black water. And here the large mouths loaf and feed in a shady retreat thru which little sun can penetrate. Only a few lures can get thru this mass of duck weed. But just drag a weedless bass bug thru this "roup" [as we did] and suddenly there is an explosion, a fish makes a thousandth of a second appearance in an opening in the vegetation, and you get a nerve tingling strike, one that's so noisy that you jump a foot. It's the most unusual fly fishing that we've ever seen.

Action Starts in Hurry.

Les Stringer of Prairie du Chien put us in his boat and steered us right out to some of the duck weed "soup" for our first action with a fly rod. We didn't go more than a block from the boat landing to connect with three medium sized fish in a hurry.

Draft Has 22 Down and 4 to Go on New Mexico Eleven

Chip Off Old Block --- After Earning Name

Down in Texas the name Routt is something to conjure with and Chicago followers of the All-Star series will recall a certain Joe Routt who played a lot of tackle on the 1939 team which opposed the New York Giants.

Now another member of this famed Texan family is ready to add additional luster to the clan. He is William O. [Chip] Routt, Joe's younger brother, and like Joe, he compiled a brilliant record at tackle at Texas A. and M.

The road to football fame was not easy for this youngest of the Routts. His brother's great record served more as a handicap than a help.

Had to Earn Nickname.

Until he did make it, his father, Big Chip, famed Texas rancher, refused to permit his son to use the name Chip until he considered him worthy of it. In 1939, after the young man won his spurs as regular tackle on the A. and M. eleven and played on the victorious Sugar bowl team which defeated Tulane, 14 to 13, his father visited the sports publicity director at the college and asked that the name William O. be dropped from the roster and the name Chip be inserted.

Now Chip is a member of the college All-Star squad which will meet the Chicago Bears at Soldiers' field, Aug. 28, and he asks nothing more than a chance to match brother Joe's great performance of two years ago. All indications are that he will get that chance, for his 6 foot 1 inch frame which packs 210 pounds of sheer, straight ahead drive has attracted the attention of the coaching staff.

Brother Will See Game.

Another reason why he wants to make a particularly good showing in the game is that brother Joe is driving up to the game with his wife, and these Routts have a lot of family pride. Chip wouldn't want to let the family down, especially with one of them in the stands looking on.

Chip isn't under any illusions about the task confronting the All-Stars, but he is so impressed with the collective talent that he believes the Bears will have a hard job on their hands.

"This team won't be a pushover for anybody," he pointed out yesterday. "If our line gives Harmon, Franck, and those other backs a little help we're going places, and it won't be backward, either."

As for Chip, he's been going only forward ever since he enrolled at Texas A. and M. four years ago. There was just one lapse, and that was in his freshman year when he went, as he puts it, "scholastically sour." It was then that this father, Big Chip, said he would shoot him if he flunked again. "You don't know my old man very well if you think he didn't mean what he said," Chip said.

Joe Ghnouly Is K. O.'d in First by Castiglione

Nick Castiglione, west side lightweight, last night convinced 1,731 fans in Marigold Gardens that Joe Ghnouly, veteran St. Louis fighter, has reached the end of a long campaign. Castiglione knocked out his opponent in the first round of a scheduled 10 round bout, Referee Johnny Behr completing his count after the round was only 1 minute, 25 seconds old.

It was Ghnouly's sixth knockout defeat in 108 starts made during a 13 year career. His earlier conquerors by knockouts were: Ray Robinson, Henry Armstrong, Paul Junior, Battling Shaw, and Paul Stedman. However, none of these men was able to send Ghnouly to the canvas for the count as fast as did Castiglione last night. Before the knockout Joe was down for a nine count.

Like the main event, each of the supporting matches, with the exception of a four round contest between Andy Canal and Billy Day, ended in a knockout and made the show one of the shortest ever held in the north side arena. Bill Petersen, Indiana Harbor heavyweight, knocked out Chuck Roberts of Detroit in the first round of a six round semi-windup. Patrick Haley, 163 pounder, also of Detroit, won a one round knockout over Alex Kondos, Milwaukee, and Johnny Crane, Chicago middleweight, scored a two round technical knockout over Robert Crawford. Canal registered a victory over Day.

pions went thru another double drill today. Al Matuza's cleat wound on his right hand required six stitches, and he will be out of action for at least a week.

Stydahar on Sidelines.

Joe Stydahar, veteran tackle, was not in uniform, and this afternoon visited a physician in Milwaukee. He has a wrenched muscle in his back and can hardly straighten up. Gary Famiglietti, whose new, sharp cleats carved Matuza's hand, is slowed up with a sore knee. Al Baisi, guard, has a heel bruise. Sumner Farlson, freshman half back from Ohio State, is limping badly because of a pulled muscle in his left leg. Bob Nowaskey, who sparkled in the scrimmage, also has leg troubles.

George Musso, veteran guard, was called to St. Louis this afternoon by the serious illness of his mother.

Bob Snyder, number one quarter back, was paying for the pleasure of throwing his 40 yard touchdown pass to Ken Kavanaugh. Bob's right arm was sore and required rubbing.

Many of the other Bears were sore and stiff from Sunday's rough work and they weren't clicking as a unit. Some of the camp followers are afraid the squad is a bit too nonchalant, while others applaud the apparent strategy of working the boys up to fighting pitch by easy stages. At one time during today's drill Halas shouted: "Let's cut out the monkey business and get to work."

Nolting, Turner Fast.

Attention centered on running plays, with the full backs working hard. Both drills ended with a series of short sprints. Ray Nolting usually led the backs. Bulldog Turner, 240 pound center, who is reputed to be as fast as some of the ends, none of whom is slow, also hit the finish line first several times.

Halas and End Coach Luke Johnsos will go to Chicago Wednesday to participate in a discussion of rules with the All-Star coaches. The Bears will leave by bus for Kenosha late tomorrow afternoon and return here after the game.

AAA WILL DROP RESTRICTION ON SOY BEAN CROP

Acts to Encourage Rise in 1942 Production.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 18 [Special].—Restrictions on the planting of soy beans, sweet corn, and tomatoes for 1942 have been dropped by the Agricultural Adjustment administration, it was revealed at the state offices here today.

The restrictions were dropped, according to Lee M. Gentry, Illinois AAA chairman, to enable farmers to provide sufficient quantities of these crops for the expanded export need under the program for lease-lend aid to Britain.

Lifting of the restrictions for 1942 was announced early to enable farmers to plan for next year's crop.

Potatoes Still Restricted.

The restrictions were eased this year, but not until after the planting season, and as a result little extra acreage was planted by Illinois farmers. The allotments will continue in force next year on corn, wheat, cotton, potatoes, rice, and tobacco.

With the relaxing of allotments, the AAA also is devising a new system for soil conservation payments to replace the payments formerly made to farmers who held within their soil depleting allotments.

Under the new plan the state will be divided into two areas, one to be known as the surplus foods area which will comprise the northern two-thirds of the state.

Must Practice Conservation.

In this area farmers, to get a payment of 50 cents an acre for all crop land, must devote at least 25 per cent of their land to soil conservation practices. In addition, $1 per acre will be paid farmers who stay within allotted acreages for oats, barley, and rye.

In the southern third of the state, known as nonsurplus foods area, farmers must devote 20 per cent of their crop land to soil conservation practices to receive a payment of 70 cents an acre.

MICHIGAN WILL MAKE CAR LICENSE PLATES TO LAST TWO YEARS

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 18 (AP).—Michigan's 1942 automobile license plates will be built to last two years, the department of state announced, because it is expecting no steel will be available to manufacture new ones in 1943.

The plates will have at their bottoms the numerals "'42" to denote the year of license. In 1943 a steel strip an inch and a half wide bearing the numerals "'43" will be issued to be bolted over the original numerals.

Ultimately, Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly said, Michigan may adopt plastic materials for plates.

SEC DISCLOSES GIFTS OF STOCK BY CHICAGOANS

Anthony Fox Reduces Brewery Holdings.

Chicagoans in numerous instances made gifts of thousands of dollars worth of securities in the latter part of July, an official summary of security transactions and holdings made public by the Securities and Exchange commission disclosed yesterday.

Walter E. Heller, president of Walter E. Heller & Co., Chicago firm which finances household and heating equipment instalment paper, was reported to have made a gift of 6,111 shares of the company's $2 par common stock. The shares have an estimated market value of more than $140,000. Florence G. Heller, also of Chicago gave away the same number of the shares. The report listed S. M. Zinner, vice president and director, as giving away 1,350 shares.

Fox Reduces Holdings.

A gift of 2,100 shares of Peter Fox Brewing company common by Anthony M. Fox reduced his holdings to 4,313 shares. The shares are valued at approximately $50,000.

Glenn W. Traer, a director of the Truax Traer Coal company, was listed as making a gift of 550 shares of the company's common stock and of disposing of an additional 527 shares. At the same time he acquired a number of shares, so that by the end of the month he had added 8,323 shares to his holdings and had boosted his total holdings to 74,123 shares.

One of the large transaction included in the report was the disposal of 356,000 shares of the $1 par common stock of Gar Wood Industries, Inc., by Garfield A. Wood, president, Detroit.

Value Exceeds 1½ Million.

The shares have a market value of more than $1,500,000. Wood reduced his holdings from 456,444 of the 800,000 shares outstanding, to 100,444 shares.

Edward W. Fitzgerald, another Chicagoan, vice president and treasurer of National City Lines, Inc., gave away 2,270 of the company's $1 par common shares with a market value of approximately $14 a share and disposed of another 230 shares. John M. Fitzgerald was recorded as having made a 1,000 share gift, and two gifts of 200 shares each of National City Lines common.

CHICAGO YARDS HANDICAPPED IN SHIPBUILDING

Only One Is Large Enough; It Needs New Ways.

Plans to Be Rushed

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18 (AP).—Maritime commission officials said today that action would be expedited on a recommendation by the Office of Production Management for construction of an emergency fleet of 25 iron ore boats for use on the Great Lakes.

The proposal probably will be considered at a commission meeting tomorrow, an official said. It was explained the boats would have to be built by Great Lakes shipyards because their size, 600 feet long and 60 feet wide, would not permit them to enter the lakes if built elsewhere.

The yards of the American Ship Building company at 101st street and the Calumet river would have to be equipped with new ways to reassume their pre-war rôle as a builder of lake ore boats, an official of the company disclosed yesterday.

The company is regarded as the only shipbuilder with yards in the Chicago area which could participate in the program recommended Sunday by the Office of Production Management to the maritime commission for the building of 25 iron ore vessels for the Great Lakes. The expansion of the lake ore fleet at a cost of 50 million dollars was urged to quicken the movement of ore to steel mills.

Other Chicago Yards Too Small.

The proposed boats would be 600 feet long and carry from 12,000 to 13,000 long tons each. None of the shipbuilders in Chicago has the facilities to construct craft of this size.

The Chicago yards of American Ship Building produced iron ore carriers in 1913 and 1914, it was recalled but construction activities were abandoned in 1919-'20. The yards now are engaged in repair work. However, they have the space and general facilities for large scale ship construction and the necessary ways could be laid in about a year, it was indicated.

Other shipbuilders in Chicago were reported to have inadequate space for the construction of large boats. James A. Rogan Sr., president of the Calumet Shipyard and Dry Dock company, said his company would not consider expansion for the building of ore boats, because of limited space.

Has Large Ohio Yards.

Among the companies mentioned as likely builders of the proposed lake ore fleet are American Ship Building which has construction yards at Cleveland and Lorain, O.; Toledo Shipbuilding Co., Inc., at Toledo, O., and Great Lakes Engineering Works, at River Rouge, Mich.

The Lorain yards of American Ship Building are reported constructing two ore boats on commercial contract and Great Lake Engineering Works, three craft. American Ship Building also has repair yards at Buffalo, N. Y., and Superior, Wis., which could be shifted to construction jobs. Many of these yards also have contracts for construction of small naval craft.

CALLS TRUCKERS TO MEETING ON TRADE BARRIERS

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 18 (AP).—The Pennsvylvania Motor Truck association called upon the state's truckers today to attend a mass meeting here Aug. 25 to "map plans for breaking down Pennsylvania's trade barrier against highway transportation."

The announcement followed by a week Gov. James' veto of legislation providing for increases in maximum truck weights on Pennsylvania highways. The association executive committee said in a statement:

"Gov. James has dealt a crushing blow to the efficiency of highway transportation in Pennsylvania."

12 YEAR AUGUST PRICE PEAK SET FOR LIVE STOCK

Live stock prices at the stock yards yesterday rose to the highest August levels since 1929. The three principal classes of live stock—steers, hogs, and lambs—averaged $11.25 a hundred pounds, compared with $8.55 a year earlier and $7.60 two years ago.

The largest increases over prices in other recent years were in hogs. Compared with 1940 and 1939 prices, the hog average yesterday, at $10.65, showed increases of 71 per cent and 90 per cent, respectively. Steers cost 13 per cent more than a year ago and 29 per cent more than on the 1939 date, while the lamb average was 25 per cent higher than a year ago and 38 per cent higher than two years earlier.

Large government contracts for pork and lard stimulated hog buying at steady to 10 cents higher prices than those prevailing at the close of last week. Top loads of hogs rose 5 cents to $11.75.

Advances of 25 to 35 cents were recorded for lambs. Steers and yearlings held firm despite the second largest receipts since Jan. 6.

LET 33 MILLIONS IN ORDERS FOR ARMY SUPPLIES

Cessna Aircraft Co. Gets Plane Contract.

War department contracts exceeding 33 million dollars yesterday included a 12 million dollar order for airplanes, a 5 million dollar depot construction project and an order for 4 million dollars in bombs.

The army also announced that it contemplates building additional storage facilities at an estimated cost of $825,000 at the Elwood ordnance plant near Joliet.

The airplane contract, awarded to the Cessna Aircraft company, Wichita, Kas., called for $12,043,865 worth of airplanes and spare parts. The Carleton Company, Inc., New York City, received a $5,044,600 award for the construction of a general depot and traffic regulating station at Voorheesville, N. Y.

Nat. Tube Gets Bomb Order.

National Tube company, Christy Part Works, McKeesport, Pa., received a $4,141,500 order for bombs. Among Chicago concerns which obtained war department orders was Victor Chemical Works, $312,000 for white phosphorus.

Smaller contracts to Chicago enterprises included the following: A. Finkl and Sons company, forgings, $90,750, and steel tempered die blocks, $1,937; Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, steel, $1,748; Illinois Tool Works, hobs, $3,598; Firestone Tire and Rubber company, scout car parts, $6,060; Revere Copper and Brass company, brass and tubing, $3,427; Mercury Manufacturing company, electric trucks, $5,956; Maloney Electric company, transformers, $2,442; The Standard Oil company, rust preventive compound, $13,900; Eckerling Bros., 50,000 blue denim working coats, $56,358.

Illinois companies which were awarded army contracts included:

Rockford Machine Tool company, shapers, $19,383, and Barnes Drill company, honing machines, $64,791, both of Rockford; Herman Nelson corporation, Moline, targets, $1,485; Roch Island Metal Foundry, Rock Island, castings, $1,420; and the May Company, Moline, pipe, $11,143.

Contracts for the construction of an 11 million dollar synthetic ammonia plant near its magnesium plant six miles from Freeport, Tex., have been let by the Dow Chemical company to M. W. Kellogg company and Austin company. The new plant will use natural gas as raw material.

Gets Federal Financing.

The construction will be financed by the Defense Plant corporation, a government agency, and leased to Dow under an arrangement similar to that covering the magnesium plant.

General Electric company has received orders for three Diesel electric locomotives from the army and two from the Milwaukee road. The Belt Railway of Chicago ordered one 1,000 horse power Diesel electric from the American Locomotive company.

Among other railway equipment orders were 500 tank cars costing $1,287,000 for the army from General American Transportation corporation, 29 fire control cars for the army from the Greenville Steel Car company, and 100 tank cars for E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. from American Car and Foundry company.

'Corn Firing' Explained.

August 18, 1941.

For many years farmers considered that the only reasons for "corn firing" were lack of rainfall and too many hot winds. Scientists who have studied this important problem have been able to add very little to the farmer's first hand study of this corn ailment, which shows itself when the green leaves shrivel and turn the color of dead grass. They have discovered some additional reasons for corn firing, however, including soil deficiencies, faulty cultivation, and insect attacks.

The Du Page county farm and the Fox river farm both have had excellent corn weather this year and no firing is in evidence on either place. But in many sections of central and southern Illinois and Indiana there has been little rainfall and as a result the corn is in poor condition.

Here are the six main causes of corn firing:

1. Poor preparation of the ground prior to seeding. By plowing at the proper time and discing and harrowing sufficiently to allow the soil to absorb rainfall the farmer reduces moisture runoff.

Cross Checking Helps.

2. Poor cultivation after the corn is out of the ground. By eliminating weeds in the cornfield the farmer eliminates the plants which compete with the corn for moisture and valuable soil elements. Cross checked corn which can be cultivated both directions of the field undoubtedly is less susceptible to firing.

3. Lack of rainfall. Naturally the farmer can do nothing to eliminate this cause of trouble, but by good soil preparation and cultivation he can assure that his corn plants will get full benefit of all the rain which does fall. Firing due mainly to lack of moisture shows itself in the lower leaves of the plants.

4. Hot winds. Lack of rainfall coupled with hot winds which draw all the available moisture up thru the stalks naturally produce severe cases of firing. But some firing may be seen even when the ground has a fair supply of moisture if hot winds persist for several weeks at a time to increase transpiration. This type of firing may show itself in the leaves in the upper part of the stalk.

Worms Also to Blame.

5. Corn root worms, and the corn rot which results from their attacks. By burrowing into the principal roots and brace roots these worms deprive the stalks of moisture which in turn produces firing. Farmers who grow corn in the same fields year after year are most apt to have heavy losses from corn root worms because these insects live indefinitly in cornfields but cannot survive in small grain or clover.

6. Malnutrition due to shortages of potassium or nitrogen in the soil or an overabundance of iron or aluminum. Corn growing on soil with high aluminum content may show firing even when there is a sufficiency of moisture in the ground. A thoro analysis of the soil will ascertain these deficiencies and give the farmer a chance to plant corn strains which are less susceptible to firing from these causes.

Aside from these six direct causes, there are other considerations which bear on the subject of corn firing. Fertilizers in corn hills may boost the yield under good weather conditions, but many farmers believe that certain fertilizers increase the danger of firing in dry seasons.

It also is true that firing may be most evident along the outer edges of the field, especially if there are heavy weed growths or sod banking the field to compete with the corn for moisture.

PRIORITY CHAOS RUINING SMALL FIRMS: DEWEY

Charges Materials Needlessly Tied Up.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Small business is being wrecked because the Roosevelt administration has failed to develop an orderly method of rationing materials needed for rearmament purposes, Congressman Charles S. Dewey of Illinois declared yesterday.

The rigid rationing of aluminum, steel, and other key materials is closing many small factories needlessly and resulting in widespread unemployment, Dewey said.

The priorities that have been imposed to assure adequate supplies of these materials for rearmament needs are based on estimated government requirements extending over a long period, Dewey said. As an example, he said, the navy department is reported to have obtained priorities on steel plates for battleships on which construction will not begin for another 12 or 15 months.

VIRKUS TO TESTIFY.

Frederick A. Virkus, president of the Illinois division of the National Small Business Men's association, said yesterday he expected to be called to Washington soon to appear before a special Republican congressional committee investigating the plight of small business as a result of priorities. He will present information obtained in the Illinois association's survey, which shows, among other things, that 64 per cent of the state's small industries face ruin unless they receive rearmament contracts or supplies of raw materials for commercial production.

F. A. Virkus.

Employ Half of Workers.

There is no sound reason, Dewey said, why the immediate supplies of such materials should be tied up to provide for requirements anticipated by the government a year or more hence. Such requirements, by careful planning, can be met as they occur without shutting off civilian supplies now and causing hardship for thousands of small factories, he said. Such factories, in the aggregate, employ nearly half the total factory workers in the country.

Dewey cited government statistics on aluminum and copper production to support his assertion that the arbitrary priorities imposed on these metals has not been justified. Dewey, who represents the 9th congressional district [Chicago], is a Republican member of the house banking committee, which has been conducting hearings on the administration's price control bill.

"The price control bill," Dewey said, "touches on only one aspect of the serious situation confronting business. The broad problem consists of priorities, civilian supply, and prices. These should be considered as one problem and should be studied as a coördinated whole."

Each Department Rushes In.

Despite the many boards and special agencies that the Roosevelt administration has created, Dewey said, none has been given the job of seeing to it that any orderly study is made of the total military and civilian requirements for various materials. Instead, each procurement agency of the government has rushed in to demand priority for its particular requirements.

These requirements in many cases are greatly overstated, Dewey said, because individual agencies wish to play safe and assure an ample supply of any material in which a future shortage may be remotely possible.

Dewey proposed that the national resources board or a similar agency be directed to compile all the information available on the military and civilian requirements of various materials. This, he said, would make possible an intelligent allocation of supplies.

Aluminum Production.

Altho administration spokesmen repeatedly have declared a serious shortage of aluminum exists, Dewey called attention to the fact that estimated production of primary and secondary aluminum this year is placed at 850 million pounds.

"Estimated military needs this year [including 180 million pounds

Vast Farmer Group Fights Price Control

Fix Copper Scrap Price

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18 (AP).—Price Administrator Leon Henderson today put a ceiling price on copper scrap which, he said, has been selling "at levels completely out of line with the price of copper."

The ceiling on scrap fixes price differentials ranging from 2 to 4 cents a pound below the price of copper, on which a maximum of 12 cents was established a week ago. Dealers are allowed a uniform margin of ¾ cent a pound for collecting, sorting, storing, and shipping copper scrap.

Delegates representing a million farm families assembled at an emergency farm meeting yesterday to draft a protest program against the Roosevelt administration's price control bills and other legislation which they claim "threaten the income and security of the American farmer." The meeting was called by the National Coöperative Milk Producers' Federation in the Congress hotel.

Charles W. Holman.

Main object of attack at the opening of the two day session was the Doughton defense import bill, which recently was introduced in the house of representatives. The bill would give the secretary of the treasury the power to lift tariff and sanitary restrictions on articles which he declared necessary for national defense.

Calls It a "Cockeyed Dream."

Charles W. Holman, secretary of the federation, termed the bill a "cockeyed dream that would place the farmers of this nation at the mercy of Argentina and other Latin American nations." He said that lifting of the sanitary barriers on the importation of cattle from diseased areas would result in the loss of millions of dollars' worth of American live stock thru plagues and epidemics.

Holman warned the 450 delegates that if agricultural prices are frozen at low levels while no control is applied to agricultural and industrial wages, the result would be an unbalanced economy in which one group of people would profit at the expense of other groups. He said that the farmers' incentive toward production increases would be destroyed to the detriment of the national defense program.

Hits Curb on Butter.

William S. Moscrip of Lake Elmo, Minn., charged that a conspiracy that was devastating the dairy industry existed in certain official circles. Manifestations of this, aside from the Doughton bill, he said, are the efforts of the Consumers' council of the department of agriculture to induce housewives to use oleomargarine instead of butter.

Attacking government efforts at price control, Fred F. Sexauer of Auburn, N. Y., president of the Dairymen's League Coöperation association, said that before farmers can put forth a full patriotic effort in behalf of national rearmament they must have equality with labor.

"Those who are arguing for low commodity prices," he said, "are destroying the farmers' ability to make an allout defense effort."

WOOLEN MILLS CONTINUING AT CAPACITY RATE

New York, Aug. 18 (AP).—Woolen piece goods mills were reported continuing at capacity operations today. Only a few have transferred machinery to spring fabrics production because of the large backlogs of civilian commitments for winter needs.

Revised estimates of domestic wool requirements have given rise to comments in trade circles that the government may take over all supplies of domestic and foreign wools in this country. It was also hinted that the government may buy up the entire South American wool clip expected to be marketed in late November.

Worth street agents reported light dealings in grey goods, altho large inquiry continued at full ceiling prices.

New York State Borrows 100 Millions Against Taxes

New York, Aug 18 [Special].—New York state today sold 100 million dollars of short term notes to meet general state expenses before tax collections. The notes mature next March 19 and bear 1-5 of 1 per cent yearly interest.

Tax Exemption Cut Urged by Farm Bureau

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18 (AP).—A substantial increase in the 3,236 million dollar tax bill was advocated by the American Farm Bureau federation today. But the organization contended the government should put the heaviest share of the burden on incomes instead of levying sales taxes.

To carry out this program, Edward A. O'Neal, federation president, proposed cutting existing income tax exemptions in half, so that the exemptions would be $400 for single persons and $1,000 for married persons, with a $200 credit for each dependent.

"We are strongly opposed to increased excise taxes, a general sales tax, or a manufacturers' tax," O'Neal told the senate finance committee, "at least until other tax sources have been more nearly exhausted. We favor, instead, increased taxes based upon ability to pay."

Asks Brake on Inflation.

O'Neal, asserting the tax bill is inadequate, said the federal revenues should be brought up to a point equal to two-thirds of expenditures. He asked the committee to use taxation powers as "the most effective way to prevent disastrous inflation."

O'Neal also asserted that the present excess profits tax is too low.

Spokesmen for the radio industry, with support from James L. Fly, chairman of the federal communications commission, protested the imposition of a tax on radio time sales as voted by the house.

Fly, who called the tax "dubious," estimated it would cost the National Broadcasting company and Columbia networks $2,000,000 each per year on the basis of 1940 figures.

Sets Yield Above 12 Million.

He said the proposed tax would yield $12,639,000, of which he estimated $7,815,000 would come from nine chain broadcasting companies. He said broadcasters believed it would be unfair to tax their advertising while exempting that of newspapers.

The proposed tax would be 5 per cent on radio time sales from $100,000 to $500,000; 10 per cent on sales from $500,000 to $1,000,000, and 15 per cent on sales above $1,000,000.

Ellsworth C. Alvord, appearing in behalf of the National Association of Broadcasters, filed a statement in which he said the proposed tax was "discriminatory" because the industry "cannot pass on this tax and still maintain its competitive position."

The committee heard a score of business spokesmen during the day, most of them in objection to particular provisions in the bill.

ORDERS PARTIAL PAYMENT ON 197 TRUST CLAIMS

Payment of 60 per cent on 197 trust claims against the old Central Republic Trust company was authorized yesterday by Judge Phillip J. Finnegan in circuit court. The claims recognized total $515,490.

Charles H. Albers, receiver, said he has $585,321 on hand for payment of the trust claims. The full amount of the authorized claims could not be paid, he said, because of litigation pending on other trust claims against this fund. Albers said the payments authorized by the court will be made within the next few weeks.

The old Central Republic Bank and Trust company closed Nov. 21, 1934.

FULL ALIEN PROPERTY CENSUS DEMANDED IN RESERVE BANK ORDERS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18 [Special].—The long awaited form under which federal reserve banks are to report on foreign fund freezing, issued today, revealed that it is to be used for a wider purpose—a census of all foreign-owned property subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.

Reports will be required concerning all property subject to American jurisdiction which is foreign owned or in which a national of a foreign country has an interest.

A report on form TFR-300 must be filed by Sept. 30, subject to criminal penalties for nonfiling, by every person concerning all property subject to the jurisdiction of the United States and in his custody, control, or possession, in which on either June 1, 1940, or June 14, 1941, a foreign country or national thereof had any interest. Individuals must report, among other things, debts owed to a national of a foreign country, and all contracts with a national of a foreign country.

Corporations and other organizations are required to report all shares of stocks, bonds, or other securities issued by them and owned by nationals of a foreign country.

CHICAGO RESERVE BANK PREPARES FOR CREDIT RULE

The Federal Reserve bank of Chicago will establish in the next few days a new department to enforce the instalment buying regulations which the federal reserve board is expected to issue later this week, Clifford S. Young, president of the bank, announced yesterday.

Young returned from Washington after conferring with other federal reserve system officials on the drafting of curbs on consumer credit ordered last week by President Roosevelt. A tentative draft was completed Friday and credit men, bankers, and retail organizations were given until yesterday afternoon to submit suggestions and revisions.

The credit supervisory department for the seventh [Chicago] federal reserve district will have approximately 75,000 stores, credit unions, banks, loan companies, and retail enterprises under its jurisdiction, Young asserted. The department will issue licenses to those selling on the instalment plan or financing such sales.

OIL-FOR-BRITAIN DAY YIELDS ONLY 11,332 BARRELS

Austin, Tex., Aug. 18 (AP).—The state railroad commission reported today that Texas operators had donated 11,332 barrels of crude oil to Great Britain yesterday.

[The original plan called for the gift of about two million barrels of oil to Britain. Many producers, however, said the action was illegal and did not produce the oil.]

The commission also declared 7,239 barrels, which were offered by producers, were refused transportation by pipe line companies.

U. S.-British Board Lifts Value of Chungking Dollar

SHANGHAI, Aug. 18 (AP).—The American-British-Chinese stabilization board, acting to improve the value of China's currency, fixed the Chungking dollar exchange rate today at 5 and 11/32s American cents.

DEMANDS SLASH IN PAY ROLL TAX AS FUND CLIMBS

Celler Hits Treasury Plan for Boost.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—Flatly contradicting Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau's suggestion that social security taxes should be raised, Representative Emanuel Celler [D., N. Y.] declared today that they should be reduced. He asserted the amount collected in taxes over the last four years was 81 per cent more than the amount paid out in old age benefits and unemployment insurance.

Despite congressional action in 1939 to defer the scheduled increases in social security taxes until 1943, Celler said, the reserves have steadily piled up until now there is approximately 5,000 million dollars in both the old age and unemployment insurance funds.

Calls Basic Levy Far Too High.

"The basic 3 per cent pay roll tax on employers is far too high," he said. "Employers have been taxed twice as heavily as necessary. Benefit payments to workers are too low, and the period over which they are paid is, in many cases, too short.

"The test program of five years has shown that the program is financially safe for many years to come. It has proved that the tax rate was set too high in the first place. It has proved that much higher benefits could be paid unemployed workers. Having this proof, congress should act without delay to correct both of these inequities.

"The present pay roll tax should be cut one-third. If that were done, an unnecessary tax burden on employers amounting to about 300 millions a year—nearly 1 million for every working day—would be lifted.

Advocates Increased Benefits.

"At the same time, benefit payments to unemployed workers under the law could be increased substantially. This could be done by making higher weekly payments or by extending the time over which payments are made, or both. Treasury figures indicate benefit payments could be increased one-third.

"There is no reason on earth for continuing the senseless practice of piling up a mountainous unemployment trust fund beyond what common sense tells us we shall need in the future."

Celler did not mention the fact that the huge reserve fund has been invested in United States bonds and that the treasury is spending the proceeds on regular government expenses and the British aid program.

"Employers as well as employés are paying the highest peacetime taxes ever levied in the United States," Celler asserted. "They are being made to pay twice as much as is needed under the unemployment provisions of the social security act."

Celler presented figures, gathered by the American Taxpayers' association, showing how the law has operated over the last four years. The first year of the tax is omitted because little was paid in benefits.

In the 1938 fiscal year the pay roll tax yielded $747,660,497 and workers received $190,975,000 in benefit payments.

In the 1939 fiscal year the tax was $811,250,508 and the benefit payments totaled $441,795,000.

In the 1940 fiscal year the tax was $859,250,508 and benefit payments were $482,963,000.

In the 1941 fiscal year the tax was $892,023,224 and benefit payments were $433,242,841.

Steel Mill Operating Rate to Rise Slightly This Week

New York, Aug. 18 (AP).—The nation's steel mills will operate this week at 98.2 per cent of theoretical ingot capacity, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated today. This is an increase of .7 of 1 per cent from last week.

OPM Starts Drive in Chicago to Speed Flow of Arms Work

A campaign by the Office of Production Management to encourage manufacturers of automotive equipment to divert an increasing portion of their production to armament goods was launched in Chicago yesterday by Alex Taub, chief technical consultant of the automotive section of OPM.

Alex Taub.

Taub conferred with Col. Donald Armstrong, executive officer of the army's Chicago ordnance district, on plans for the promotion of a flow of arms contracts into the automotive industry.

The aim is to replace the loss of commercial orders resulting from the curtailment of automobile production.

Tank transmissions and gun carriages were among the items which Taub suggested as possible products for Chicago manufacturers in the field. Ordnance district officials will push the development of the arms production in automotive plants.

Taub said he already had conferred with Detroit ordnance officers and will visit Cleveland and other automotive centers.

Taub formerly was in charge of engine production for Vauxhall, English subsidiary of the General Motors corporation. He served with the British mechanization board and the ministry of aircraft production before coming to this country to work with the OPM.

URGES FASTER CAR USE.

An appeal to Chicago industries to aid the armament program by adjusting their affairs so that railroads can make the utmost use of freight cars and to do their buying of coal at the earliest opportunity was made yesterday by the Chicago Association of Commerce.

In direct communications to more than 5,000 Chicago companies, the association stated: "Car loadings for the year to date are running 18 per cent ahead of last year and we are rapidly approaching the peak loading period of the year when railroad equipment will be utilized to the utmost. Therefore, the necessity of full coöperation between shipper, carrier, and consignee is an absolute essential."

TO THE NATION

In a speech on Oct. 23, 1940, President Roosevelt said:

"To Republicans and Democrats, to every man, woman and child in the nation I say:

"Your President and your great secretary of state are following the road to peace.

"We are arming ourselves not for any foreign war.

"We are arming ourselves not for any purposes of conquest or intervention in foreign disputes.

"It is for peace I have labored; and it is for peace I shall labor all the days of my life."

Braniff Airways' Service to Southwest Expanded

Braniff Airways, Inc., announced yesterday the addition of three new round trip daily flights to its Chicago-Texas-Mexico service and resumption of a fourth round trip daily between Oklahoma City, Okla., and Dallas, Tex. The new service will be started Aug. 25.

HINT PRESIDENT TO ASK END OF SHIPYARD TIEUP

30 More CIO Unions Join Picket Line.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18 (AP).—Defense officials hinted tonight that a Presidential appeal was going forth immediately to the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company to accept a national defense mediation board formula for ending the CIO strike which has halted 493 million dollars' worth of navy and merchant ship construction at Kearny, N. J.

They indicated that if the White House appeal was rejected, an executive order would be issued immediately for government occupation and operation of the big shipyard.

The appeal by President Roosevelt might have gone forward already to the shipbuilding firm and its parent corporation, United States Steel corporation, it was indicated.

Navy Ready to Take Over.

It was expected that no announcement would be made of Mr. Roosevelt's request until an acceptance or rejection had been received in Washington.

More than a week ago an Office of Production Management official stated that an executive order had been prepared for taking over the Kearny yard.

The strike, in which the CIO Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America claims that 16,000 of the yard's 18,000 workers are idle, was called Aug. 7 after the company refused to accept the mediation board's recommendation for inclusion of a union-maintenance clause in its contract.

This clause provides that all union members, or workers who may join the union in the future, must remain in good union standing as a condition of employment. The company offered to turn the plant over to the navy for "immediate occupation" rather than accede to this.

30 Unions Join Picketing.

Sidney Hillman, associate director general of the OPM, and William H. Davis, chairman of the mediation board, both visited the White House today following conferences with Secretary of Navy Frank Knox.

Several thousand demonstrators from 30 separate CIO unions filed in a half-mile long circle along the front of the vast yards while a force

PROVIDING INVESTMENT CAPITAL

To The Mountain States

FROM the snow capped peaks of the Rockies flow streams that water the crops of states hundreds of miles away. In like manner, the capital resources of older sections of the Nation have flowed into the Mountain States—to help build their railroads, utilities, mining and manufacturing facilities, no less than roads, schools and other public improvements.

In this movement of capital from investor to borrower, from section to section, investment banking organizations such as our own have served a useful function—speeding progress and improving standards of living.

STOCK LIST GOES UP QUIETLY, LED BY INDUSTRIALS

New York, Aug. 18 (AP).—Industrials today led the stock market on another quiet recovery jaunt.

Steels, aircrafts, rails, motors, and coppers were among the best performers. Activity slowed appreciably after midday and top gains running to a point or so were reduced in many instances at the close.

Brokers credited technical factors, rather than any outstanding news, for the moderate forward shift. The list, on the average, had registered only two small advances since July 28 and buyers stepped in here and there on the idea the market might have been oversold.

War News Termed Bearish

German-Russian war developments were a shade pessimistic marketwise and apprehension continued over rising tension in the far east. In addition, darkening tax clouds and fears of government restrictions on business remained as handicaps for bullish contingents.

Transfers of 404,760 shares were the second smallest for a full day since July 1. They compared with 385,470 last Friday.

U. S. Industrial Alcohol was one of the few issues to post a new high for the year. It was up 1⅞ at 32⅜. Continental Motors was up ⅝ at 4, one 10,000-share block of this stock changing hands.

CHICAGO LIST FIRMS.

Prices were irregularly higher on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, with transactions totaling 17,000 shares. Of the 81 issues traded, 34 advanced. 22 declined, and 25 closed unchanged.

Volume leaders were Paramount Pictures, 1,200 shares, up ⅞ to 14⅝ at the close; Commonwealth Edison, 850 shares, up ⅛ to 25⅝; International Harvester, 700 shares, down ⅛ to 52¾, and Butler Brothers common, 650 shares, up ⅛ to 6⅝.

MENGEL CLEARS ALL PREFERRED STOCK ARREARS

Mengel company, lumber products supplier, yesterday cleared arrears on its preferred stock with the declaration of a $1.25 dividend. International Supply company, manufacturer of oil and gas field equipment, voted arrears payments of $3 and $2.75 on its 6 per cent and 5½ per cent preferred shares, double the distributions made in June. Todd Shipyards corporation authorized a $2 dividend, compared with $1.50 paid in March and June.

WARPLANE WORK BOOSTS BOEING 6 MONTH PROFIT

Net Tops 2 Million; Firm Had Loss Year Ago.

With earnings reflecting profits from warplane construction under the rearmament program, Boeing Airplane company, Seattle, Wash., yesterday reported net income of $2,011,360, or $1.85 a common share, for the six months ended June 30. A net loss of $69,174 was reported for the corresponding 1940 period.

The company stated its backlog of orders on June 30 was $322,867,213, compared with $196,522,446 on Dec. 31 and $52,932,802 on June 30, 1940. The report included the company's subsidiary at Wichita, Kas. Boeing manufactures four motored bombers, other warplanes, and training planes.

Jarvis Profit Sets Record.

L. A. Jarvis, president of the W. B. Jarvis company, Grand Rapids, Mich., manufacturer of motor car ornaments and hardware and other items, reported earnings for the year ended June 30 were largest in the company's history, despite curtailment of production in the final quarter because of shortages of materials.

Profit was $950,291, or $3.17 a share, compared with $586,934, or $1.89 a share, in the year ended June 30, 1940.

Rayonier, Inc., San Francisco, Cal., reported profits of $834,983, or 57 cents a share, for the three months ended July 31, compared with $1,085,852, or 80 cents a share, in the 1940 period.

The decline in earnings reflected a sharp increase in federal taxes, the company said. Profits before federal income taxes were $2,044,320, an increase of $29,228 over the $2,015,092 reported for the 1940 period. The company manufactures sulphite pulp primarily for rayon yarn.

FIRMS' OWNERS CONTINUE RUSH OF REGISTRATION

Altho the official deadline was Saturday for unincorporated business owners whose concerns are not operated under their names to file a certificate of ownership, the county clerk's office was flooded yesterday with late registrants and mail from small business owners thruout Cook county. Chief Clerk Morton Cussen estimated the day's registrations at 4,575 in person and 6,000 by mail.

County Clerk Michael J. Flynn said that there would be no penalty imposed on late registrants for at least "a week or ten days."

North Western Receives Third of 5 New Engines

The third of five new streamlined Diesel locomotives, costing a total of about $900,000, was delivered yesterday to the Chicago yards of the Chicago and North Western railroad. The first two units were received Friday. The rest will be delivered this week. Four were built by the Electro-Motive corporation at La Grange, one by the American Locomotive company at Schenectady, N. Y.

BANKS BOOST LOANS FOR BUSINESS USE 59 MILLION IN LAST WEEK

Bank loans for business purposes increased again last week for the 16th consecutive week, the federal reserve board reported yesterday.

Business loans of banks in 101 leading cities increased 59 million dollars in the week ended Aug. 13. The total of these loans outstanding amounted to 6,146 million dollars, an increase of 1,685 million dollars over the total a year ago.

New York City banks recorded the broadest expansion of commercial loans as they increased 35 million dollars in the week. Chicago bank loans to business, industry and agriculture gained 3 million dollars in the week.

Following are the principal assest and liabilities of the member banks of the Federal Reserve System in 101 leading cities as at the close of business Wednesday [last six ciphers omitted]:

Building Activity in Illinois in July Establishes 1941 Peak

BY AL CHASE.

Building work thruout Illinois in July was the most active for any month this year, with 4,370 permits issued in 164 cities for buildings costing $17,782,087. The dollar value of the permits was the highest since January, 1938. The second best month of 1941 was April, with a total of $17,132,739.

Last month's total compares with 3,562 permits, for buildings costing $14,954,253, issued in July, 1940. This represented an increase of 22.7 per cent in permits and 18.9 per cent in cost for last month over the 1940 month.

1,605 New Homes.

Residential building last month showed a higher ratio of gain over July of last year than building of all types. There were 1,605 permits for new homes, costing $9,575,807 last month, compared with 1,191 permits, with a total value of $6,431,508 a year earlier. This is a gain of 34.8 per cent in number and 48.9 per cent in cost.

"The upward trend in building activity apparently has been maintained during the first seven months of 1941," C. R. Thompson, chief of the division of statistics and research of the Illinois department of labor, said yesterday.

90 Millions in 7 Months.

"Valuations for permits issued amounted to $90,369,053 for the first 7 months of 1941. This is 33 per cent higher than the total of $67,963,670 for the corresponding 1940 period."

The increase in permit valuations for new nonresidential construction during the first seven months of this year was 41.2 per cent. Residential building increased 32 per cent.

Peak Since 1929

New York, Aug. 18 [Special].—Construction contracts awarded last month set a July peak since 1929, totaling $577,392,000 in 37 states east of the Rocky mountains, the F. W. Dodge corporation reported today. Residential building was slightly under June, but 46 per cent above that of July, 1940, showing a total of $205,049,000. The number of dwelling units contracted during July was 41,463, compared with 28,363 in July, 1940.

Public ownership construction accounted for much of the July nonresidential building, the service reported.

MULRONEY IS ELECTED TO CHICAGO RESERVE BANK VICE PRESIDENCY

A. J. Mulroney, who last month was appointed second deputy controler of the currency, has been elected vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, Frank J. Lewis, chairman of the bank's board of directors, announced yesterday.

A. J. Mulroney.

Mulroney has been with the controler's office since the 1933 banking holiday and was in charge of reorganizing all national banks in the seventh [Chicago] and ninth [Minneapolis] federal reserve districts. He later headed the preferred stock division and supervised the issuance by national banks of more than one-half billion dollars of preferred stocks.

He will assume direction of the bank examination department of the Chicago district formerly supervised by Clifford S. Young, recently elected president of the reserve bank here.

CHECK VOLUME LOWER, BUT FAR ABOVE YEAR AGO

Checks written on account in 157 reserve system member banks in 41 cities in the Chicago district in the week ended Aug. 13 totaled $1,394,433,000, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Last week's transactions compared with $1,619,510,000 in the preceding week and $1,048,549,000 in the corresponding week last year. Total debits to deposit accounts in these banks in the last 13 weeks show a 29.9 per cent increase over the corresponding period last year, the bank said.

Business done by check thru Chicago banks last week aggregated $778,584,000 and compared with $572,206,000 a year earlier.

Three Chicago Packers Share in Army Purchase

Three Chicago packing companies shared in an army purchase of 1,044,250 pounds of beef yesterday. The meat will be used to feed the soldiers the second week in September. The lowest price quoted was 23.84 cents a pound. The army's quartermaster depot announced the largest single bid was made by Swift & Co. on 652,000 pounds. Cudahy Packing company bid on 271,250 pounds and Armour & Co. on 22,000 pounds.

Peter Fox to Distribute Shares of New Company

The Fox De Luxe Brewing company has been formed in Michigan to acquire a brewery at Grand Rapids, Mich., from the Peter Fox Brewing company. When the sale is completed, it is planned to distribute 75 per cent of the stock of the new company to stockholders of Peter Fox Brewing company as a stock dividend on a share for share basis, Frank G. Fox, president, said.

Air Line Reports Chicago Express Traffic Gains

Revenue from American Air Lines air express shipments out of Chicago increased 31.9 per cent during the first six months of 1941 over the like 1940 period, L. W. King, district sales manager, announced yesterday. The increase was attributed largely to shipments of machine tool and aircraft parts and material.

Credit Firm Reports Rise in Number of Bankruptcies

New York, Aug. 18 (AP).—Dun & Bradstreet reported today business failures for the week ended Aug. 14 totaled 230, a slight increase over the 220 of the preceding week. A year ago 279 failures were reported.

CHICAGO SUBWAY IS GRANTED A B-1 PRIORITY RATING

Subway Commissioner Philip Harrington was informed by federal officials yesterday that the city's 60 million dollar subway project has been given a B-1 priority rating for the purchase of materials. That places subway demands in the highest priority for civilian orders. The same priority has been requested for the State street bridge, Canal street bridge, and the south side water filtration plant, city officials said.

Commissioner of Public Works Oscar Hewitt, who is in charge of city purchases, said he expects a new priority rating given major city departments will speed up deliveries of materials. Last week departments such as sewers, fire department, police, water, and other utility services were rater A-10, which is close to armament ratings, he said.

Employés of the city contract department said that since priorities have been established, bids are frequently returned to the city with promises of delivery from 20 to 40 weeks after receipt of the order instead of within 60 days as specified by the city.

BONDS NARROW WITH TRANSFERS AT MONTH'S LOW

New York, Aug. 18 (AP).—The bond market settled into a narrow range today with most price changes limited to fractions. A group of inactive issues, both domestic and foreign, moved up 1 to 5 points on light demands.

Trading was the smallest for a full session in more than a month at $4,485,900; face value, compared with $5,855,700 last Friday.

Alberta Bonds Rise.

TORONTO, Aug. 18 (AP).—Alberta government bonds advanced as much as 5 points today, stimulated by the prospect of an understanding between the Alberta government and the bondholders under which interest payments would be resumed.

Sawyer Biscuit Workers on Strike for Higher Pay

Workers at the plant of Sawyer Biscuit company, 1041 Harrison street, were on strike yesterday with demands for higher wages and better working conditions, according to the office of Gilbert Mann, business agent of the Bakery and Confectionary Workers union, factory local 100, which represents the employés. Officials of the company said negotiations are under way.

People and Events

Dr. Walter Morton of the University of Wisconsin, Dr. Melchior Palyi, visiting professor at the university, and Dr. Henry B. Arthur, economist for Swift & Co., will hold a panel discussion on the question, "Can a System of Price and Priority Controls Prevent Inflation?" in the Knickerbocker hotel tonight after a dinner to be held under the auspices of the American Savings and Loan institute.

Willard Daggett has been admitted to general partnership in the firm of Holley, Dayton & Gernon, members of the Chicago Stock exchange.

In a move to facilitate coöperation with the rearmament program, Belden Manufacturing company has named E. V. Blake, eastern manager, its defense coördinator and J. V. Van Buskirk, formerly in the sales department, to head the priorities division of the company. The company has large rearmament subcontracts in the field of wire for specialized uses.

of 70 Hudson county and Kearny police stood by, regulating traffic.

The CIO termed the biggest picket line of the 12-day-old strike a protest against a statement by Albert W. Hawkes, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, criticizing the closed shop as "unAmerican and monopolistic" and urging union leaders to eliminate it as a labor objective.

Irving Abramson, president of the state CIO council, said demonstrators would picket the plant of Congoleum-Nairn in Kearny as a further protest of the Hawkes statement. Hawkes is president of Congoleum-Nairn.

PULLMAN BUILDERS STRIKE

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

A strike of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen took some 1,800 workers off their jobs yesterday at the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing company plant in Michigan City, Ind.

Union officials said their organization demanded that the company complete a contract on which negotiations have been going on since the union won exclusive collective bargaining rights in a labor board election last March.

Wage provisions already are in effect, they said, but the firm has not yet adopted seniority terms and a union rule under which all new employés would join the brotherhood within a certain time. No comment was forthcoming from officers of the company.

Open Gypsum Hearings.

The Defense Mediation board started hearings in an effort to end the strike of the CIO Gas, By-Products, Coke, and Chemical Workers' union at 17 plants of the United States Gypsum company thruout the country.

The walkout on June 26 was ordered to enforce the union's demand for a nation-wide contract. Three thousand men are involved, and the long shutdown has affected 40 per cent of the total national output of gypsum, plaster, and wallboard. The company has orders for construction materials for several ordnance plants.

Ask Pipe Making Resumption.

The mediation board asked for "immediate resumption of production" at the Provo, Utah, plant of the Pacific States Cast Iron Pipe company, which has been tied up since July 15 by a strike of the CIO Steel Workers Organizing committee.

A strike at Gimbel Brothers, one of New York's largest department stores, was called by the United Department Store Employés [CIO], effective today.

At San Diego, Cal., construction work on the 11th cavalry regiment's $1,250,000 Camp Lockett, 50 miles east, was halted by a strike of 800 AFL building tradesmen. A spokesman for the contractors said the walkout resulted from a breakdown on negotiations for room and board expenses demanded by the men.

HE ASKS PRIORITY RIGHTS TO BOOST WOMEN'S MORALE

Richmond, Va., Aug. 18 (AP).—A Martinsville, Va., contractor asked for priority rights in the purchase of several trucks, the state defense council said today, because:

1. The trucks would be used to haul gravel for the construction of a new nylon plant.
2. The plant will make material for sheer hosiery.
3. Sheer hose is an essential in keeping up women's morale.
4. The morale of milady is vital to national preparedness.

FOREST FEES NEAR RECORD.

Total income derived from the national forests in the fiscal year 1941 was $6,681,825, compared with the record of $6,781,553 set in 1930, the department of agriculture reported. Timber sales yielded $4,789,040. Other receipts included $1,429,091 of grazing fees.

QUICK CRUSH METHOD MAKES SALVAGING OF CAR BODIES PRACTICAL

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 18 [Special].—A press that crushes automobile bodies into tight bales in a matter of seconds is cleaning up central Illinois small town junk yards.

Daily into the six acre salvaging plant of the Tick company here streams a procession of battered trucks loaded with tons of junk. They come from 30 to 40 towns, some even from Indiana. Their drivers have scoured dumps far and wide and loaded automobile bodies that once littered the country. Old fences which formerly were useless also are doing their part in the arms program.

"We ship 1,000 to 1,200 tons of salvaged metal a month," said William B. Tick, manager of the company. "The steel mills are asking for more all the time."

Formerly such materials as automobile bodies and old fencing lay unused because there was no means of quick handling.

FIRST DEFENSE PUBLIC WORKS PLANS APPROVED

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18 (AP).—President Roosevelt's approval of the first projects under the defense public works program was announced today by the federal works agency. The approval covered 26 undertakings in 12 states estimated to cost $5,765,531. The program is designed to furnish public facilities or services necessary to the health, safety, or welfare of persons engaged in armament activities.

Most of the projects approved today were for recreation centers for soldiers and schools for workers. Among them, with the estimated cost, were:

Rantoul, Ill., $125,000 for construction of a one story recreation building, including land and equipment, for men on leave from the air corps center at Chanute field.

Rockford, Ill., $35,000 for rehabilitation of a five story brick building formerly used as a high school for a recreation center for troops from Camp Grant.

PRICES OF CORN DIP, REFLECTING WEEK-END RAIN

Rains which fell in a wide area in Illinois and Iowa over the week-end and which were said to have halted deterioration in the corn crop, caused selling of corn futures on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday, and prices weakened. Corn closed about at the bottom with losses of ⅜ to ⅝ cent a bushel. Soy beans, weak early, rallied to close ¼ to ⅝ cents higher.

Wheat futures closed ⅛ to ⅛ cent lower. Oats finished ¼ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower, and rye was ⅛ to ¼ cent lower. Lard gained 2½ to 5 cents a hundred pounds.

The agriculture department estimated the 1941 production of all spring wheat in Minnesota, North Dakota, and Montana at 233,132,000 bushels as of Aug. 12. The Aug. 1 estimate was 231,088,000 bushels and the 1940 spring wheat crop in the four states was 187,186,000 bushels.

BUTTER FUTURES PRICES PUSHED TO 3 WEEK HIGHS

Light receipts in wholesale markets and disclosures of increased federal purchases pushed egg future prices to new three week high marks on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. Net gains were 0.15 to 0.20 cent a dozen, with both the October and November deliveries closing at 29.60 cents a dozen. Receipts in Chicago were the smallest reported for any day this year.

Butter futures sagged 0.10 to 0.15 cent a pound on reports of favorable weather for production. The November contract showed the smaller loss to close at 35.05 cents a pound, and the December delivery ended at the same figure. Prices in the local cash market were unchanged.

PRIORITY ERRORS WRECKING SMALL BUSINESS: DEWEY

for the manufacture of aircraft] will amount to 700 million pounds," Dewey said. "This leaves 150 million pounds, which by the government's own estimate is high for civilian requirements."

Dewey pointed out that while the supply of aluminum to radio manufacturers and other private industries has been drastically curtailed, the administration recently authorized the shipment of 2 million pounds of the metal to Russia. Permission was given to the Reynolds Metals company to sell to Russia 2 million pounds originally intended for France. The radio industry has been ordered to cut its production 50 per cent in the next year to conserve aluminum.

Abundance of Copper.

"Another metal in which a shortage is said to exist is copper," Dewey said. "Inquiry discloses that our estimated mine production is 1 million tons a year. In addition 400,000 tons is obtained from secondary sources, and we are able to get about 500,000 tons from Latin America. This makes a total of 1,900,000 tons."

"Civilian requirements are estimated at 900,000 tons, leaving 1 million tons available for rearmament purposes. The maximum military and civilian consumption of copper occurred in 1918 [when a shooting war was in progress] and that amounted to only 950,000 tons."

Dewey contrasted the attitude of the Roosevelt administration toward peacetime industries with that of the British government, which is now engaged in a major war.

Attitudes Are Contrasted.

"We are told that 'business as usual' must be forgotten," he said. "Meanwhile our English friends are doing everything possible to maintain their normal trade relationships with other countries and carefully preserving their peacetime industries."

It is the small industries, Dewey added, that are bearing the brunt of the rationing system.

"The 1937 census of manufacturers showed that there were over 163,000 factories in the United States that employ 250 men or less," he said. "These factories employ 44 per cent of all factory workers. They are the backbone of America's business and the type most injured by an injudicious curtailment of raw materials."

These men, described by the Russians as Germans captured on the eastern battlefront, are being marched to a prison camp in the rear. The censor did not say on which sector of the long battlefront the picture was taken.

This picture of naval guns in action was described yesterday by German sources as a new battleship firing her 15 inch guns. The Germans did not disclose the name of the ship, which in turret arrangement is similar to the sunken Bismarck.
